The Management of Uncertainty: Approaches, Methods and Applications Luc Wilkin, A. Sutton, 2012-12-06 For thirty years the literature on decision making and planning has been divided into two camps work premised on rational models of choice and work designed to discredit such models The sustained critic of fully rational decision making theories has already a long history and a constant message to deliver in practice consequential decision making hardly fulfills the canons of perfect rationality There is also evidence that decision making and planning are not unitary processes Although the concept of decision making connotes the idea of a single process making a single choice involves a complex of processing tasks structuring the problem finding alternatives worth considering deciding what information is relevant assessing various consequences and a variety of others The aim of this volume is to bring together and try to inter relate some of the concepts and relevant knowledge from various disciplines concerned with one important aspect of this complex process the management of uncertainty It is hardly necessary to reiterate the case made by numerous authors about our changing and increasingly uncertain world Suffice it to say here that it is uncertainty about the future and in many cases about the past and the present also which makes decision making and planning so difficult The management of uncertainty may be defined as the way in which uncertainty is treated and processed in decision making

Understand your financials Socialist India ,1970 Energy Abstracts for Policy Analysis ,1989-07 History of Seventh-day Adventist Work with Soyfoods, Vegetarianism, Meat Alternatives, Wheat Gluten, Dietary Fiber and Peanut Butter (1863-2013) William Shurtleff,Akiko Aoyagi,2014-01-06 The most comprehensive book on this subject ever published With 3 638 references Weekly Compilation of Presidential Documents ,1993 Institutional Literacies Stuart A. Selber,2020-09-04 Information technologies have become an integral part of writing and communication courses shaping the ways students and teachers think about and do their work But too often teachers and other educational stakeholders take a passive or simply reactive role in institutional approaches to technologies and this means they are missing out on the chance to make positive changes in their departments and on campus Institutional Literacies argues that writing and communication teachers and program directors should collaborate more closely and engage more deeply with IT staff as technology projects are planned implemented and expanded Teachers need to both analyze how their institutions approach information technologies and intervene in productive ways as active university citizens with relevant expertise To help them do so the book offers a three part heuristic reflecting the reality that academic IT units are complex and multilayered with historical spatial and textual dimensions It discusses six ways teachers can intervene in the academic IT work of their own institutions maintaining awareness using systems and services mediating for audiences participating as user advocates working as designers and partnering as researchers With these strategies in hand educators can be proactive in helping institutional IT approaches align with the professional values and practices of writing and communication programs Expedition Agroparks Peter J.A.M. Smeets,2011-05-25 This book is the result of several years of expedition into the development of metropolitan FoodClusters The author s fascination for the agricultural landscapes in and around metropolises led him to the conclusion that improving the efficiency of agriculture is the most effective way to safeguard the quality of such landscapes The wasteful modes of production developed in the past 150 years have led to a serious decline in both the surface area and the quality of the highly valued landscapes Closing the loops within the agricultural production system and increasing their productivity is therefore the best remedy to arrest this decline After analysing the development of agriculture against the background of the urbanisation process in today s network society the focus shifts to research by design on agroparks These are spatial clusters of agrofunctions and the related economic activities Agroparks bring together high productivity plant based and animal based production and processing along industrial lines combined with the input of high levels of knowledge and technology The cycles of water minerals and gases are skillfully closed and the use of fossil energy is minimised particularly by the processing of various flows of waste products and by products An agropark may therefore be seen as the application of industrial ecology in the agrosector The scientific aim of this book is to find answers to the questions of whether agroparks contribute to sustainable development in metropolises how an agropark is developed and how it must be designed Under examination are seven designs for agroparks which were created from 2002 onwards in the Netherlands
