The Planetary Turn Amy J. Elias, Christian Moraru, 2015-04-30 A groundbreaking essay collection that pursues the rise of geoculture as an essential framework for arts criticism The Planetary Turn shows how the planet as a territory a sociopolitical arena a natural space of interaction for all earthly life and an artistic theme is increasingly the conceptual and political dimension in which twenty first century writers and artists picture themselves and their work In an introduction that comprehensively defines the planetary model of art culture and cultural aesthetic interpretation the editors explain how the living planet is emerging as distinct from older concepts of globalization cosmopolitanism and environmentalism and is becoming a new ground for exciting work in contemporary literature visual and media arts and social humanities Written by internationally recognized scholars the twelve essays that follow illustrate the unfolding of a new vision of potential planetary community that retools earlier models based on the nation state or political blocs and reimagines cultural political aesthetic and ethical relationships for the post Cold War era The City in Roman and Byzantine Egypt Richard

Alston,2002-09-11 After Egypt became part of the Roman Empire in 30 BC Classical and then Christian influences both made their mark on the urban environment This book examines the impact of these new cultures at every level of Egyptian society

Culture/Place/Health Wilbert M. Gesler,Robin A. Kearns,2005-07-05 Culture Place Health is the first exploration of cultural geographical health research for a decade drawing on contemporary research undertaken by geographers and other social scientists to explore the links between culture place and health It uses a wealth of examples from societies around the world to assert the place of culture in shaping relations between health and place It contributes to an expanding of horizons at the intersection of the discipline of geography and the multidisciplinary domain of health concerns Indy Dreams and

Urban Nightmares Mark Douglas Lowes,2002-01-01 Lowes examines the conflict that arose between a Vancouver community and the civic boosters who wanted to move the Molson Indy Vancouver motorsport event to their neighbourhood park Gender and Leisure Cara Carmichael Aitchison,2013-06-17 The highly contested nature of both gender and leisure encapsulates many of the most critical social and cultural debates of the early twenty first century Drawing on a wide range of theoretical perspectives as well as extensive empirical research Gender and Leisure goes forward to offer a contemporary socio cultural analysis of gender relations in leisure practice and leisure policy The book begins by introducing and evaluating the key social and cultural ideologies philosophies and beliefs that have informed our theoretical understanding of gender and leisure The particular leisure policies that have emerged from these perspectives are examined Part two of Gender and Leisure draws on research in social and cultural theory gender and leisure studies cultural geography management and education and goes on to explore the reality of contemporary gender relations in leisure practice Leisure policy leisure management places and sites of leisure and leisure education are examined as are the relationships between leisure sport and tourism Documenting Displacement Katarzyna Grabska,Christina R. Clark-Kazak,2022-02-15 Legal precarity mobility and the criminalization of migrants complicate the study of forced migration and exile Traditional methodologies can obscure both the agency of displaced people and hierarchies of power between researchers and research participants This project critically assesses the ways in which knowledge is co created and reproduced through narratives in spaces of displacement advancing a creative collective and interdisciplinary approach Documenting Displacement explores the ethics and methods of research in diverse forced migration contexts and proposes new ways of thinking about and documenting displacement Each chapter delves into specific ethical and methodological challenges with particular attention to unequal power relations in the co creation of knowledge questions about representation and ownership and the adaptation of methodological approaches to contexts of mobility Contributors reflect honestly on what has worked and what has not providing useful points of discussion for future research by both established and emerging researchers Innovative in its use of arts based methods Documenting Displacement invites researchers to explore new avenues guided not only by the procedural ethics imposed by academic institutions but also by a relational ethics that more fully considers the position of the researcher and the interests of those who have been displaced

Development in Place José C. M. van Santen, 2008 In humanity's struggle to find timely solutions to environmental problems it is easily forgotten that access to our shared spaces has never been equal This collection deals with the landscapes and places of rural urban and wilderness areas in relation development Contributions examine the complex relationship that human beings maintain with their rural and urban environments and with other species in various places and spaces Nothing is taken for granted colonial history globalization localization hybrid relationships colonial or shared architecture religious backgrounds and claims to equal access all fuse with policy strategies This volume discusses these issues within the framework of developmental discourse while asserting the rights of access to the global commons for all world citizens as well as other species

Recipes and Songs Razia Parveen, 2017-02-04 This book presents a systematic approach to the literary analysis of cultural practices Based on a postcolonial framework of diaspora the book utilizes literary theory to investigate cultural phenomena such as food preparation and song Razia Parveen explores various diverse themes including the female voice genealogy space time and diaspora and applies them to the analysis of community identity This volume also demonstrates how a literary analysis of oral texts helps to provide insight into women's lived narratives For example Parveen discusses how the notion of the third space creates a distinctly feminine spatiality

Spatialized Islamophobia Kawtar Najib, 2021-11-17 This book demonstrates the spatialized and multi scalar nature of Islamophobia It provides ground breaking insights in recognising the importance of space in the formation of anti Muslim racism Through the exploration of complementary data both from existing quantitative databases and directly from victims of Islamophobia applied in two important European capitals Paris and London this book brings new materials to research on Islamophobia and argues that Islamophobia is also a spatialized process that occurs at various interrelated spatial scales globe nation urban neighbourhood and body and mind In so doing this book establishes and advances the new concept of Spatialized Islamophobia by exploring global national urban infra urban embodied and emotional Islamophobias as well as their complex interrelationships It also offer a critical discussion of the geographies of Islamophobia by pointing out the lack of geographical approaches to Islamophobia Studies By using self reflexivity the author raises important questions that may have hampered the study of Spatialized Islamophobia focusing in particular on the favoured methodologies which too often remain qualitative as well as on the whiteness of the discipline of Geography which can disrupt the legitimacy of a certain knowledge The book will be an important reference for those in the fields of Human Geography Sociology Politics Racial Studies Religious Studies and Muslim studies Undoing Place? Linda

Mcdowell,2020-10-07 Does geography affect our sense of self How are social characteristics mapped out on the ground And is there any authentic sense of place now or are we increasingly placeless Concentrating on the period between the end of the Second World War and the end of the century this Reader argues that there is a reciprocal relationship between the constitution of places and people What it means to be a man or a woman to have a nationality and a sense of place has been transformed and reinvented as our view of the world has changed The present is perceived as a time of fear a period in which all that is solid seems to melt into air while the 1950s are a site of nostalgia a period of clarity and certainty a time when people know their place Bringing together an interdisciplinary collection of articles for social and cultural geographers this Reader critically examines the argument that the close associations of the 1950s between place the home the community and the nation state and the social divisions gender class and nationality are breaking down in the 1990s Drawing out the oppositional movements in each decade it seeks to show how the supposed stability of one and the mobility of the other are exaggerated Place Tim Cresswell,2014-12-03 Thoroughly revised and updated this text introduces students of human geography and allied disciplines to the fundamental concept of place combining discussion about everyday uses of the term with the complex theoretical debates that have grown up around it A thoroughly revised and updated edition of this highly successful short introduction to place Features a new chapter on the use of place in non geographical arenas such as in ecological theory art theory and practice philosophy and social theory Combines discussion about everyday uses of the term place with the more complex theoretical debates that have grown up around it Uses familiar stories drawn from the news popular culture and everyday life as a way to explain abstract ideas and debates Traces the development of the concept from the 1950s through its subsequent appropriation by cultural geographers and the linking of place to politics Curriculum

Studies: Boundaries : subjects, assessment, and evaluation David Scott,2003 Mapping the Cold War Timothy

Barney,2015-04-13 In this fascinating history of Cold War cartography Timothy Barney considers maps as central to the articulation of ideological tensions between American national interests and international aspirations Barney argues that the borders scales projections and other conventions of maps prescribed and constrained the means by which foreign policy elites popular audiences and social activists navigated conflicts between North and South East and West Maps also influenced how identities were formed in a world both shrunk by advancing technologies and marked by expanding and shifting geopolitical alliances and fissures Pointing to the necessity of how politics and values were spatialized in recent U S history Barney argues that Cold War era maps themselves had rhetorical lives that began with their conception and production and played out in their circulation within foreign policy circles and popular media Reflecting on the ramifications of spatial power during the period Mapping the Cold War ultimately demonstrates that even in the twenty first century American visions of the world and the maps that account for them are inescapably rooted in the anxieties of that earlier era

Latino Education Pedro Pedraza, Melissa Rivera, 2006-04-21 This landmark volume represents the work of the National Latino a Education Research Agenda Project NLERAP an initiative focused on school reform and educational research with and for Latino communities NLERAP s goal is to bring together various constituencies within the broad Latino community who are concerned with public education to articulate a Latino perspective on research based school reform and to use research as a guide to improving the public school systems that serve Latino students and to maximizing their opportunities to participate fully and equally in all social economic and political contexts of society Latino Education An Agenda for Community Action Research conceptualizes and illustrates the theoretical framework for the NLERAP agenda and its projects This framework is grounded in three overlapping areas of scholarship and activism which are reflected within the chapters in this volume critical studies illuminating and analyzing the status of people of color in the United States Latino a educational research capturing the sociohistorical cultural and political schooling experiences of U S Latino a communities and participatory action research exemplifying a liberation oriented methodology for truly transformative education The volume includes both descriptive educational research and critical analyses of previous research and educational agendas related to Latino a communities in the United States According to current U S Census data Latinos now comprise the largest minority group in the total U S population Historically reflecting larger sociohistorical and economic inequalities in U S society the Latino community has not been well served by U S public school systems More attention to the Latino students educational issues is needed to redress this problem especially given the tremendous population increase and projected growth of Latino communities in the U S Latino Education An Agenda for Community Action Research is a major contribution toward this goal

Mapping the Present Stuart Elden, 2002-01-01 In a late interview Foucault suggested that Heidegger was for him the essential philosopher Taking this claim seriously Mapping the Present assesses the relationship between these two thinkers particularly on the issue of space and history It suggests that space and history need to be rethought and combined as a spatial history rather than as a history of space In other words space should become not merely an object of analysis but a tool of analysis The first half of the book concentrates on Heidegger from the early occlusion of space through the politically charged readings of Nietzsche and Holderlin to the later work on art technology and the polis which accord equal status to issues of spatiality Foucault s work is then rethought in the light of the analysis of Heidegger and the project of a spatial history established through re readings of his works on madness and discipline

People and Place Lewis Holloway, Phil Hubbard, 2014-01-14 An innovative introduction to Human Geography exploring different ways of studying the relationships between people and place and putting people at the centre of human geography The book covers behavioural humanistic and cultural traditions showing how these can lead to a nuanced understanding of how we relate to our surroundings on a day to day basis The authors also explore how human geography is currently influenced by postmodern ideas stressing difference and diversity While taking the importance of these different approaches seriously as ways of thinking about the role of place in peoples everyday lives the book also tries to encapsulate what has been so vibrant and exciting about human geography over the last couple of decades By using examples to which students can relate such as how they imagine and represent their home the way they avoid certain spaces how they move through retail spaces where they choose to go to university how they use the Internet how they represent other nations and so on the authors show how geography shapes everyday life in a manner that is seemingly mundane yet profoundly important

Physical Language Learning Spaces in the Digital Age Felix A. Kronenberg, 2024-02-08 How do we intentionally design physical environments for language learning and teaching How can we build spaces that are inclusive accessible safe and equitable While the Covid 19 pandemic has advanced notions of online education it has also revealed the benefits and affordances of human to human interaction in physical learning spaces This book explores the design of physical spaces intended for language learning specifically From residential learning spaces to active classrooms from social and experiential spaces to zoom rooms and language centers from mobile community based learning to hybrid makerspaces language learners and educators have more choices than ever regarding their possible learning environments Changing pedagogies and new technologies provide ever more alternatives to the normalized technology of the classroom With a focus on creating new awareness of the affordances and benefits of physical spaces as active agents in the language learning and teaching processes this book takes a practical approach to introduce readers without any prior knowledge of design or architecture to the topic As language learning spaces need to consider stakeholders from diverse cultures Felix Kronenberg provides examples from language centers around the world including Asia Europe and the United States Readers will learn how to conceptualize and create supportive resilient flexible inclusive accessible affordable sustainable and safe physical learning spaces The book is an interdisciplinary introduction to this emerging field drawing from research in disciplines such as architecture learning spaces design second language acquisition pedagogy history and sociology
