Reading Student Writing Confessions Meditations And Rants:

Reading Student Writing Lad Tobin, 2004 Lad Tobin gets to the heart of teaching writing through a blend of humor memoir reflection classroom examples and student writing

Reconstructing Response to Student Writing Dan Melzer, 2023-08-07 In Reconstructing Response to Student Writing Dan Melzer makes the argument that writing instructors should shift the construct so that peer response and student self assessment are more central than teacher response Presenting the results of a national study of teacher and peer response and student self assessment at institutions of higher education across the United States Melzer analyzes teacher and peer response to over 1 000 pieces of student writing as well as 128 student portfolio reflection essays He draws on his analysis and on a comprehensive review of the literature on response to introduce a constructivist heuristic for response aimed at both composition instructors and instructors across disciplines Melzer argues that teachers and researchers should focus less on teacher response to individual pieces of student writing and more on engaging in dialogue with student self assessment and peer response focusing on growth and transfer rather than products and grades Reconstructing Response to Student Writing especially when taken together with Melzer's previous book Assignments across the Curriculum provides a comprehensive and large scale view of college writing and responding across the curriculum in the United States

Compelling Confessions Suzanne Diamond, 2010-12-10 Compelling Confessions The Politics of Personal Disclosure is a collection of essays whose shared purpose is to offer an accessible interdisciplinary exploration of the social dynamics behind confessional discourse As various contributors to this collection demonstrate confession is ubiquitous in contemporary culture not only within psychological or therapeutic frameworks or literary analysis but also in internet discussion groups in the criminal justice system in political rhetoric in so called reality and interview style television programming in writing pedagogy and increasingly in the testimonial strain observable in contemporary scholarship Yet telling one's story raises questions not only about authorial intent or authenticity but also about the pressures disclosure can impose upon its audiences Far less ubiquitous than confessions themselves as these contributors suggest are the critical tools that general audiences might employ in order to better evaluate the rhetoric of personal disclosure It is in fact the shortage of such tools responses and procedures that could be stated plainly and implemented by any reader or viewer that Compelling Confessions sets out to address

Dispatches from the Classroom Chris Drew, Joseph Rein, David Yost, 2011-12-08 Futuristic and Linguistic Perspectives on Teaching Writing to Second Language Students Hancı-Azizoglu, Eda Başak, Kavaklı, Nurdan, 2020-12-11 The aptitude to write well is increasingly becoming a vital element that students need to succeed in college and their future careers Students must be equipped with competent writing skills as colleges and jobs base the acceptance of students and workers on the quality of their writing This situation captures the complexity of the fact that writing represents higher intellectual skills and leads to a higher rate of selection Therefore it is imperative that best strategies for teaching writing speakers of other languages is imparted to provide insights to teachers who can better prepare their students for future accomplishments Futuristic and Linguistic Perspectives on Teaching Writing to Second Language Students examines the theoretical and practical implications that should be put in place for second language writers and offers critical futuristic and linguistic perspectives on teaching writing to speakers of other languages Highlighting such topics as EFL ESL composition digital storytelling and forming identity this book is ideal for second language teachers and writing instructors as well as academicians professionals researchers and students working in the field of language and linguistics

Teaching the Best Practice Way Harvey Daniels, Marilyn Bizar, 2005 Everyone talks about best practice teaching but what does it actually look like in the classroom How do working teachers translate complex curriculum standards into simple workable classroom structures that embody exemplary instruction and still let kids find joy in learning In Teaching the Best Practice Way Harvey Daniels and Marilyn Bizar present seven basic teaching structures that make classrooms more active experiential collaborative democratic and cognitive while simultaneously meeting best practice standards across subject areas and throughout the grades Each section begins with an essay outlining one key method providing its historical background and research results and then describing the structure s vital features Next several teachers representing different grade levels and school communities explain how they adopted the basic model adapted it to their students needs and made it their own Fully updating and expanding Methods that Matter Stenhouse 1998 Teaching the Best Practice Way adds the stories of twenty more celebrated teachers including James Beane Donna Ogle Franki Sibberson and others from around the country A brand new chapter focuses on reading as thinking detailing the ways teachers can nurture strategic readers readers who not only deeply understand the printed materials they encounter in school but who also bring these cognitive strategies to their reading of film art music and their experience of the world The book also shares new research studies that validate the principles and activities of best practice teaching along with lists of recommended materials that support each of the seven methods Unique in the field Teaching the Best Practice Way speaks to all teachers K 12 with stories examples and practical classroom materials for the teachers of all children This is the book for teachers schools and districts that believe the big ideas about teaching really do cross all grade levels and subject areas Education professors will also find this an ideal resource for use in methods courses

Making Meaning with Readers and Texts Christi U. Negotiating the Personal in Creative Writing Carl Vandermeulen, 2011-08-19 This book describes an alternative way to teach Creative Writing one that replaces the silent writer taking criticism and advice from the teacher led workshop with an active writer who reflects upon and publically questions the work in progress in order to solicit response from a writers group as well as from the teacher Both accompany the writer first as readers and fellow writers only later as critics Because writers ask they listen and dialogues with responders become an inner dialogue that guides later writing and revision But when teachers accompany writers teaching CW becomes even more a negotiation of the personal because this teacher who is listener and mentor is also a model for some students of the writer and even the person they would like to become and still the Authority who gives the grades

Establishing Creative Writing Studies as an Academic Discipline Dianne Donnelly,2011-11-23 This book advances creative writing studies as a developing field of inquiry scholarship and research It discusses the practice of creative writing studies the establishment of a body of professional knowledge and the goals and future direction of the discipline within the academy This book also traces the development of creative writing studies noting that as the new discipline matures as it refers to evidence of its own research methodology and collective data and locates its authority in its own scholarship creative writing studies will bring even more meaning to the academy its profession and its student body

Rhetoric and Sociolinguistics in Times of Global Crisis Hancı-Azizoglu, Eda Başak,Alawdat, Maha,2021-04-02 Crises often leave people in vulnerable situations in which a moment in time can function as a turning point of a catastrophic situation for the better or worse From another perspective the concept of crisis signifies losing control of everyday privileges such as that of a pandemic Therefore the interaction of rhetoric and sociolinguistics in times of crisis is inevitable. It is crucial to internalize how rhetoric an effective skill from ancient times to make meaning of sociological breakthrough events changed the course of events as well as the fate of humanity. Within the same context research should focus on diverse disciplines to explore investigate and analyze the concept of crisis from global sociolinguistic and rhetorical perspectives. Rhetoric and Sociolinguistics in Times of Global Crisis explores and situates the concept of global crisis within rhetoric and sociolinguistics as well as other disciplines such as education technology society language and politics. The chapters included bridge the gap to initiate a discussion on understanding how rhetoric and sociolinguistics can create critical awareness for individuals societies and learning environments during times of crisis. While highlighting concepts such as rhetorical evolution political rhetoric digital writing and communications this book is a valuable reference tool for language teachers writing experts communications specialists politicians and government officials academicians researchers and students working and studying in fields that include rhetoric education linguistics culture media political science and communications. Surrender Jessica

Restaino, 2019-02-01 Winner CCCC Outstanding Book Award 2020 One of Library Journal's Top 20 Best Selling Language Titles of 2019. In an ethnographic study spanning the last years of research collaborator and friend Susan Lundy Maute's life with terminal breast cancer author Jessica Restaino argues the interpretative challenges posed by research and writing amid illness and intimacy demand a methodological break from accepted genres and established practices of knowledge making. Restaino searches their experiences recorded in interviews informal writings and correspondence to discover a rhetoric of love and illness. She encourages a synthesis of methods and the acceptance of a reversal of roles researcher and researched writer and written about and emphasizes the relevancy of methodological diversity the necessity of the personal and the analytical richness of unpredictability and risk in being who we are in our scholarship at any given moment. Bringing together critical analysis qualitative style research methods close reading Surrender: Feminist Rhetoric and Ethics in Love and Illness resists traditional ideas about academic writing and invites others to pursue collaborations that subvert accepted approaches to representation textual production and subjectivity. Restaino demonstrates a way of writing the rendering of the academic text itself that suggests how we do our work has resonance for what we produce. She offers framing questions for use by others interested in doing similar kinds of scholarship that may frighten overwhelm or confound. This book deepens our understanding of subjectivity and the gains made by feminist resistance to conventional concepts of objectivity in research collaborations. Critical Trauma Studies Monica Casper, Eric Wertheimer, 2016-03-15 Trauma is a universal human experience. While each person responds differently to trauma its presence in our lives nonetheless marks a continual thread through human history and prehistory. In Critical Trauma Studies a diverse group of writers activists and scholars of sociology anthropology literature and cultural studies reflects on the study of trauma and how multidisciplinary approaches lend richness and a sense of deeper understanding to this burgeoning field of inquiry. The original essays within this collection cover topics such as female suicide bombers from the Chechen Republic singing prisoners in Iranian prison camps sexual assault and survivor advocacy and families facing the devastation of Hurricane Katrina As it proceeds Critical Trauma Studies never loses sight of the way those who study trauma as an academic field and those who experience narrate and remediate trauma as a personal and embodied event inform one another Theoretically adventurous and deeply particular this book aims to advance trauma studies as a discipline that transcends intellectual boundaries to be mapped but also to be unmoored from conceptual and practical imperatives Remaining embedded in lived experiences and material realities Critical Trauma Studies frames the field as both richly unbounded and yet clearly defined historical and evidence based
