Behind Kim Street Coady,2007 The goal of the federally funded Reading First program is to ensure that all students read well by the end of third grade Georgia Department of Education 2006 However Reading First makes few if any provisions for writing in its required 135 minute reading block for literacy instruction Is it possible to teach reading effectively to young children without involving them in writing The purpose of this naturalistic study was to investigate how the Reading First framework affected the teaching of writing in primary classrooms in one elementary school that received Reading First funding for three years Using a social constructivist theoretical lens the researcher explored these issues in the context of a professional learning community a voluntary teacher study group focused on writing instruction Guiding questions were 1 What are primary teachers perceptions of the reading writing connection for students in kindergarten through third grade 2 How does the context of a school wide Reading First grant affect primary teachers perceptions of the reading writing connection for students in K 3 3 In what ways does a voluntary teacher study group focused on the reading writing connection influence primary teachers perceptions of the reading writing connection and their literacy instruction Fifteen primary teachers participated in the study during a six month period Data sources included an open ended questionnaire three in depth interviews with each participant audiotapes and selective transcription from ten teacher study group sessions field notes from observations in 12 of the 15 participants classrooms a final focus group interview and a researcher s journal Data were analyzed inductively using the constant comparative method Glaser Strauss 1967 Trustworthiness and rigor were established through methods that ensure credibility confirmability dependability and transferability Lincoln Guba 1985 Findings revealed that the teachers viewed reading and writing as connected processes in literacy instruction Although the Reading First parameters made them fearful of engaging children in writing during the 135 minute reading block the teacher study group validated their beliefs and knowledge and empowered them to interweave limited writing activities across the curriculum Overall the Reading First requirements prevented teachers from involving children in extensive writing process instruction and writing workshop
