

The background of the entire image is a dark, textured surface, possibly a wall or a piece of fabric, with a mottled appearance of brown, black, and grey. Overlaid on this is a close-up of a woman's face, which is the central focus. Her hair is long and blonde, and her eyes are a light, golden-brown color. The lighting is dramatic, with a strong orange and yellow glow emanating from behind her head and shoulders, creating a halo effect and casting the rest of her face and the background into deep shadow. The overall mood is somber and intense.

Social Changes and Yuwen Education in Post-Mao China Min Tao, 2019-05-07 Inspired by the author's observations of the language curriculum as a practising teacher for the past 20 years this book addresses how the high school Chinese language and literacy Yuwen curriculum in China was controlled and directed in the post Mao era Examining the social and political domination from 1980 to 2010 the book offers insights into how teachers and schools responded to the top down curriculum change in their teaching practice This book discusses some of the most important questions concerning China and its education system What changes have occurred in the Chinese language and literacy curricula how and why the changes have occurred who has been in control of the process and outcome and what impacts the curriculum changes may bring not only to China but to the international sectors that export education and degrees to China and Chinese students The author provides answers to these questions crucial to both the contemporary Chinese society and the students who come out of that system This critical inquiry of the Yuwen curriculum and its implementation provides a valuable and timely showcase for understanding the ideology of China's future generation and the social and political transformation in the past three decades In addition to researchers this book is expected to have impact on policymakers in China and beyond where Chinese migrants and international students constitute a substantial learning population

Behavioral Addiction An-Pyng Sun, Larry Ashley, Lesley Dickson, 2013-02-19 A reference manual that examines defines and presents behavioral addiction in a compelling discussion to practitioners students and general public

A Therapist's Manual for Cognitive Behavior Therapy in Groups L.I. Sank, C.S. Shaffer, 2012-12-06 One of the great advantages of rational emotive therapy RET and cognitive behavior therapy CBT is that they frequently employ psycho educational methods including bibliotherapy workshops lectures courses recordings and films I created RET at the beginning of 1955 after I had abandoned the practice of psychoanalysis because I found it to be highly inefficient and philosophically superficial Being almost addicted to one to one therapy as a result of my analytic training and experience I at first did RET only with individual clients and found this pioneering form of CBT considerably more effective than the other therapies with which I had experimented By 1957 however I realized that RET could be taught to large numbers of persons through self help books and articles and that RET oriented writings could not only prove valuable to the general public but that they could also be successfully employed to hasten and intensify the therapy of my individual clients I therefore wrote a number of RET self help books especially How to Live with a Neurotic 1957 Sex without Guilt 1958 A New Guide to Rational Living with Robert A Harper original edition 1961 and A Guide to Successful Marriage with Robert A Harper 1961

STRESS AND STRUGGLES Comprehensive Book of Stress, Mental Health & Mental Illness Bettahalasoor S Somashekar, Narayana Manjunatha, Santosh K Chaturvedi, Bhavika Vajawat, Mohamed Yaasir Mohamudbucus, Prateek Varshney, 2025-04-23. The book stress and struggle in the second edition comes with expansion of stress terrain while retaining the basic aspects published in the first edition. We have retained all the thirty six chapters from first edition and sixteen new chapters on range of areas are added to the second edition. Many of the chapters from the first edition have been updated to include current research and trends. Consequently the number of chapters increased from 36 to 53 and number of experts and academicians contributed to the book has increased from 69 to 106. We are indebted to the enthusiastic response and cooperation from the authors for their time and effort to pen complex ideas/concepts into easily readable chapters.

Societal Transformations and Resilience in Times of Crisis Shoukat, Ghazala, Tunio, Muhammad Nawaz, 2022-09-16. The COVID 19 pandemic has spread across the world and left turmoil in every facet of society in its wake. As in-person activities came to an end for public safety, businesses closed, classrooms scrambled to transition online and society was forever changed. As the pandemic comes to a close, it is essential that researchers take this opportunity to study the changes that have occurred so that society may revive what has been lost and promote resilience should another crisis arise. Societal Transformations and Resilience in Times of Crisis focuses on the revival of societal institutions after events such as natural disasters, pandemics, political turmoil and global crises and looks toward building more resilient structures. It contributes novel approaches and provides implications for countries to improve the social system through novel approaches. Covering topics such as employee psychological distress, democracy and higher education institutions, this premier reference source is a dynamic resource for government officials, community leaders, non-governmental organizations, students and faculty of higher education, sociologists, business executives and managers, human resource managers, researchers and academicians.

American Public School Librarianship Wayne A. Wiegand, 2021-10-12. The first comprehensive history of American public school librarianship. Can I get a library pass? Over the past 120 years, millions of American K-12 public school students have asked that question. Still, we know little about the history of public school libraries which over the decades were pulled together and managed by hundreds of thousands of school librarians. In American Public School Librarianship, Wayne A. Wiegand recounts the unseen history of both school libraries and their librarians. Why, Wiegand asks, did school librarianship turn out the way it did? And what can its history tell us about limitations and opportunities in the coming decades of the twenty first century Addressing issues of race social class gender and sexual orientation among others as they affected American public school librarianship throughout its history Wiegand explores how libraries were transformed by the Great Depression the civil rights era Lyndon Johnson s Great Society programs and more recent legislation like No Child Left Behind Common Core and the Every Student Succeeds Act Wiegand touches on censorship the impact of school segregation on school libraries disparities in funding that fall along lines of race and class the development of school librarianship as a profession the history of organizations like the American Association for School Librarians and how emerging technologies affected school librarianship Wiegand clarifies the historical role of the school librarian as an opponent of censorship and defender of intellectual freedom He also analyzes the politics of a female dominated school library profession identifies and evaluates the profession s major players and their battles often against patriarchy and challenges the priorities of librarianship s current agendas particularly regarding the role of reading in the everyday lives of children and young adults Filling a huge void in the history of education American Public School Librarianship provides essential background information to members of the nation s school library and educational communities who are charged with supervising and managing America s 80 000 public school libraries

GLOBAL AGING ISSUES AND POLICIES Yushi (Boni) Li, 2013-06-01

Aging society is an urgent global issue that challenges almost all human societies in the world. When nations evolve into aging societies, they must establish and implement policies and approaches to meet the needs of the elderly population, such as elderly services, long-term care, health care, policies, institutional facilities, illness and healing processes, financial support, and retirement, life and leisure. The fundamental purpose of this book is to help students and readers develop their knowledge on worldwide elderly issues. To accomplish this goal, the text incorporates 18 chapters from different countries with a variety of aging topics, which are divided into continents including Africa, Asia, Europe, North and South America, and the Oceanic Islands. Specific chapters from the following countries/regions are included: Sub-Saharan Africa, South Africa, China, Japan, Israel, Singapore, Thailand, Austria, United Kingdom, Estonia, Portugal, Spain, Sweden, United States, Australia, New Zealand, Argentina, and Uruguay. By sharing these regions and nations' elderly issues and their particular solutions to the challenges, it provides readers with global views on current aging processes, policies, and strategies. The book effectively helps readers understand that the increase of the elderly population is a major development of the 21st century. The text further helps comprehend the importance of improving the elderly population's overall quality of life, as well as valuing the contribution they can make to their communities and society. The reader will gain insights about why global elderly issues are critical and how the lives of the elderly have been impacted and influenced by different policies, societies, and cultures in which they live. The book is designed as a college text for study of aging issues with a global perspective. Also, any readers interested in topics of the elderly will find the book to be a most beneficial resource.

Film and the Chinese Medical Humanities Vivienne

Lo, Chris Berry, Guo Liping, 2019-12-06. Film and the Chinese Medical Humanities is the first book to reflect on the power of film in representing medical and health discourse in China in both the past and the present, as well as in shaping its future. Drawing on both feature and documentary films from mainland China, the chapters each engage with the field of medicine through the visual arts. They cover themes such as the history of doctors and their concepts of disease and therapies, understanding the patient experience of illness and death, and establishing empathy and compassion in medical practice, as well as the HIV/AIDS epidemic during the 1980s and 90s, and changing attitudes towards disability. Inherently interdisciplinary in nature, the contributors therefore provide different perspectives from the fields of history, psychiatry, film studies, anthropology, linguistics, public health, and occupational therapy, as they relate to China and people who identify as Chinese. Their combined approaches are united by a passion for improving the cross-cultural understanding of the body and ultimately healthcare itself. A key resource for educators in the Medical Humanities, this book will be useful to students and scholars of Chinese Studies and Film Studies, as well as global health, medical anthropology, and medical history.
