Real And Imagined Women Gender Culture And Postcolonialism:

Real and Imagined Women Rajeswari Sunder Rajan, 2003-09-02 First published in 1993 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company Real and Imagined Women Rajeswari Sunder Rajan, 1993 An essential addition to the postcolonial debate which offers a challenging mode of reading resistance which destroys the stereotyped and sensationalised humanist image of the third world woman as victim Real and Imagined Women : Gender, Culture and Postcolonialism Rajeswari Sunder Rajan, 1995 On postcolonialism and feminism Women, Gender and Everyday Social Transformation in India Kenneth Bo Nielsen, Anne Waldrop, 2014-08-01 The pace of socioeconomic transformation in India over the past two and a half decades has been formidable This volume sheds light on how these transformations have played out at the level of everyday life to influence the lives of Indian women and gender relations more broadly Through ethnographically grounded case studies the authors portray the contradictory and contested co existence of discrepant gendered norms values and visions in a society caught up in wider processes of sociopolitical change Women Gender and Everyday Social Transformation in India moves the debate on gender and social transformation into the domain of everyday life to arrive at locally embedded and detailed ethnographically informed analyses of gender relations in real life contexts that foreground both subtle and not so subtle negotiations and contestations Toward a Politics of The (Im)Possible Anirban Das, 2012-10 This book works at the intersection of two related yet different fields One is the heterogeneous feminist effort to question universal forms of knowing The second field follows from this conundrum how does one think of the body when s he speaks of embodiment Toward a Politics of the Im Possible engages the forefront of contemporary thought on the body while remaining mindful of the requirements of a feminist approach The Pre-occupation of Postcolonial Studies Fawzia Afzal-Khan, Kalpana Seshadri-Crooks, 2000 The Pre Occupation of Postcolonial Studies contains essays by both leading figures and younger scholars engaged in the field of postcolonial studies In this state of the field reader editors Fawzia Afzal Khan and Kalpana Seshadri Crooks have created a dynamic forum for contributors from a variety of theoretical and disciplinary vantage points to question both the limits and the limitations of postcolonial thought Since it burst on the academic scene as the hot new disciplinary field during the final decade of the twentieth century postcolonial studies has faced criticism from those who question its troubling trajectories its sometimes suspect epistemological and pedagogical methods and its relatively narrow focus With diverse essays that emerge from such disciplines as South Asian Latin American Arab and Jewish studies this volume responds to skeptics and adherers alike addressing not only the broad theoretical issues at stake within the field but also the position of the field itself within the academy as well as its relationship to modern postmodern and Marxist discourses Contributors offer critiques on ahistorical and universalizing tendencies in postcolonial work and confront the need for scholars to attend to issues of class ideology and the effects of neocolonial practices Seeking to broaden the field s traditionally literary spectrum of methodologies these essayists take up large thematic issues to examine specific sites of colonial activities with all of their historical political and cultural significance Closing the volume is an insightful interview with Homi Bhabha in which he discusses postcolonial studies in the context of contemporary cultural politics and theory The Pre Occupation of Postcolonial Studies not only offers an overview of the discipline but also pushes and pulls at the edges of postcolonial studies offering a comprehensive view of the field s diversity of thought and envisioning clear pathways for its future Contributors Fawzia Afzal Khan Ali Behdad Homi Bhabha Daniel Boyarin Neil Larsen Saree Makdisi Joseph Massad Walter Mignolo Hamid Naficy Ngugi Wa Thingo Timothy B Powell R Radhakrishnan Bruce Robbins Kalpana Seshadri Crooks Ella Shohat Rajeswari Sunder Rajan The Indian Postcolonial Elleke Boehmer, Rosinka Chaudhuri, 2010-10-04 India has often been at the centre of debates on and definitions of the postcolonial condition Offering a challenging new direction for the field this Critical Reader confronts how theory in the Indian context is responding in vital terms to our understanding of that condition today The Indian Postcolonial A Critical Reader is made up of four sections looking in turn at visual cultures translating cultural traditions the ethical text global cosmopolitan worlds Each section is prefaced with a short introduction by the editors that locate these interdisciplinary articles within the contemporary national and international context Showcasing the diversity and vitality of current debate this volume collects the work of both established figures and a new generation of cultural critics Challenging and unsettling many basic premises of postcolonial studies this volume is the ideal Reader for students and scholars of the Indian Postcolonial The Scandal of the State Rajeswari Sunder Rajan, 2003-04-09 Women in custody Women in law Killing women Living the Body Meenakshi Thapan, 2009-01-06 This is a book about embodiment and identity in the context of particular women s lives in an urban setting It is concerned with the development of a sociology of embodiment in the context of women s lives in contemporary urban India The focus on embodiment is mediated by gender and class two critical elements that constitute identity in relation to embodiment The study is based on material collected from interviews with working class women in an urban slum and with professional upper class women with young women in secondary schools and from material from a women s magazine Contemporary Diasporic South Asian Women's Fiction Ruvani Ranasinha, 2016-05-28 This book is the first comparative analysis of a new generation of diasporic Anglophone South Asian women novelists including Kiran Desai Tahmima Anam Monica Ali Kamila Shamsie and Jhumpa Lahiri from a feminist perspective It charts the significant changes these writers have produced in postcolonial and contemporary women s fiction since the late 1990s Paying careful attention to the authors distinct subcontinental backgrounds of Pakistan Bangladesh and Sri Lanka as well as India this study destabilises the central place given to fiction focused on India It broadens the customary focus on diasporic writers metropolitan contexts illuminates how these transnational female authored literary texts challenge national assumptions and considers the ways in which this new configuration of transnational feminist writers produces a postcolonial feminist discourse which differs from Anglo American feminism Beginning postcolonialism John McLeod, 2013-01-18

Postcolonialism has become one of the most exciting popular and stimulating fields of literary and cultural studies in recent years. Yet the variety of approaches, the range of debate and the critical vocabularies often used may make it challenging for new students to establish a firm foothold in this area. Beginning Postcolonialism is a vital resource for those taking undergraduate courses in postcolonial studies for the first time and has become an established international best seller in the field. In this fully revised and updated second edition, John McLeod introduces the major areas of concern in a clear, accessible and organised fashion. He provides an overview of the emergence of postcolonialism as a discipline and closely examines its many established critical approaches while also exploring important recent initiatives in the field. In particular, Beginning Postcolonialism demonstrates how many key postcolonial ideas and concepts can be effectively applied when reading texts and enables students to develop their own independent thinking about the possibilities and pitfalls of postcolonial critique.

The Goddess as Role Model Heidi R.M. Pauwels, 2008-10-09. This book seeks to understand the major mythological role models that mark the moral landscape navigated by young Hindu women. Traditionally, the goddess Sita, faithful consort of the god Rama, is regarded as the most important positive role model for women. The case of Radha, who is mostly portrayed as a clandestine lover of the god Krishna, seems to challenge some of the norms the example of Sita has set. That these role models are just as relevant today as they have been in the past is witnessed by the popularity of the televised versions of their stories and the many allusions to them in popular culture. Taking the case of Sita as main point of reference but comparing throughout with Radha, Pauwels studies the messages sent to Hindu women at different points in time. She compares how these role models are portrayed in the most authoritative versions of the story. She traces the ancient Sanskrit sources, the medieval vernacular retellings of the stories and the contemporary TV versions as well. This comparative analysis identifies some surprising conclusions about the messages sent to Indian women today which belie the expectations one might have of the portrayals in the latest, more liberal versions. The newer messages turn out to be more conservative in many subtle ways. Significantly, it does not remain limited to the religious domain. By analyzing several popular recent and classical hit movies that use Sita and Radha tropes, Pauwels shows how these moral messages spill into the domain of popular culture for commercial consumption.
