who joined a mutiny to take a ship to the Bay of Islands the first white woman resident in Aotearoa the wife of a rangatira and many more In this remarkable piece of historical detective work Jennifer Ashton shows what we know about Charlotte Badger and how the stories about her have shifted over time From a Worcester courtroom to the outskirts of Sydney from the English countryside to Wairoa Bay Ashton brings to life the maritime and wider imperial world of the late eighteenth and early nineteenth centuries and the convicts and runaways sailors and soldiers governors and missionaries who filled that world The author shows how history and historical figures like Charlotte Badger are made and remade over time by journalists and historians painters and playwrights Charlotte Badger's was a life that is at once more remarkable more curious and more mundane than has previously been written Jennifer Ashton tells the fascinating story of a remarkable curious ordinary woman and her place in history

Men and Manliness on the Frontier R. Hogg, 2012-11-14 In mid nineteenth century Britain there existed a dominant discourse on what it meant to be a man denoted by the term manliness Based on the sociological work of R W Connell and others who argue that gender is performative Robert Hogg asks how British men performed manliness on the colonial frontiers of Queensland and British Columbia

Histories of a Radical Book Antoinette Burton, Stephanie Fortado, 2020-11-01 For better or worse E P Thompson's monumental book The Making of the English Working Class has played an essential role in shaping the intellectual lives of generations of readers since its original publication in 1963 This collected volume explores the complex impact of Thompson's book both as an intellectual project and material object relating it to the social and cultural history of the book form itself an enduring artifact of English history

The Routledge Companion to Australian Literature Jessica Gildersleeve, 2020-12-22 In recent years Australian literature has experienced a revival of interest both domestically and internationally The increasing prominence of work by writers like Christos Tsiolkas heightened through television and film adaptation as well as the award of major international prizes to writers like Richard Flanagan and the development of new high profile prizes like the Stella Prize have all reinvigorated interest in Australian literature both at home and abroad This Companion emerges as a part of that reinvigoration considering anew the history and development of Australian literature and its key themes as well as tracing the transition of the field through those critical debates It considers works of Australian literature on their own terms as well as positioning them in their critical and historical context and their ethical and interactive position in the public and private spheres With an emphasis on literature's responsibilities this book claims Australian literary studies as a field uniquely positioned to expose the ways in which literature engages with produces and is produced by its context provoking a critical re evaluation of the concept of the relationship between national literatures cultures and histories and the social function of literary texts

Families, Labour and Love Maureen Baker, 2020-07-29 We think of our family life as very personal but in fact it is shaped by influences well beyond our control Families Labour and Love identifies the ways in which family and personal life in three settler societies Australia New Zealand and Canada has been shaped by colonisation immigration

globalisation demographic changes law and policy Baker shows that these three countries each a former colony developed similar family trends and similar family policies Strongly gendered patterns of paid and unpaid work played a major role in family life The family practices of indigenous people were largely overlooked as were those of recent immigrant groups However local conditions also produced significant differences in family experiences among the three countries Richly illustrated with examples comparative data and textual sources Families Labour and Love provides a broad ranging analysis of the family which will appeal to students researchers and policy makers Maureen Baker outlines with great clarity the diversity of families and the way in which they are shaped by historical and cultural forces The focus on Australia New Zealand and Canada is not only refreshing but throws into sharp relief the impact on contemporary families of the colonial experience industrialisation large scale immigration and globalisation David de Vaus La Trobe University 'A world-proof life' Marivic Wyndham, 2007-01-01 Eleanor Dark 1901 1985 is one of Australia's most celebrated writers of the inter war years Born with the twentieth century a Federation baby she published ten novels amongst them one of the best loved Australian stories of all time The Timeless Land Her life spanned successive global crises two world wars the economic depression of the 1930s the Cold War each issuing its own challenges to the artist and the people's writer she thought herself to be By far the most privileged writer of her generation her ultimate challenge was a personal one to unlock the gates of her world proof life to a society and a world in crisis The first cross cultural biography of this famous Australian writer Marivic Wyndham's rich and controversial portrait of Eleanor Dark is based on extensive research of the author's public and private lives The Old World and the New Elizabeth Taylor, 2013-05-31 This is a story of landed aristocrats Victorian politicians and nouveaux riches colonial entrepreneurs It is about sudden death in 10 Downing Street an obsessive relationship the marrying of New World money with old world class and social elevation from a poor Scottish croft to an historic stately home It considers the impact on the old world of money made in colonial enterprises and the cultural exchange resulting from colonial expansion and it details the self managed decline of a British upper class that had held power for almost a thousand years This biography is of interest to scholars and general readers alike It tells the previously untold story of two British aristocrats detailing the drama of their personal lives and examining their rule in the two colonies India and Australia in which they served It raises issues of population immigration social mobility and the ethics of the British Empire all of which are relevant to today's debates The Northcotes life in England is described in the context of a sweep of British political and social history in which Harry Northcote directly participated from the passing of the Third Reform and Redistribution Acts in 1884 5 to the bitter battles over female suffrage and the composition of the House of Lords at the close of the Edwardian era The action during the couple's colonial adventures in the early 1900s takes place in two different outposts of Empire India under the Raj where Harry wielded autocratic power in a Bombay devastated by plague and famine and the new democratic settler colony of Australia following the federation of separate colonies on a huge yet sparsely populated continent The transmission of the culture of the Mother Country to the Empire's furthest reaches is studied through Alice's contribution as Governor's wife. The crucial part that women played in the maintenance of the British Empire in both locations is a key theme.

Myth, Mind and the Screen John Izod, 2001-12-06 This 2001 book is a systematic attempt to apply Jungian theory to the analysis of key contemporary icons and films.

Mediating Memory Bunty Avieson, Fiona Giles, Sue Joseph, 2017-10-16 The argument has been made that memoir reflects and augments the narcissistic tendencies of our neo-liberal age. Mediating Memory: Tracing the Limits of Memoir challenges and dismantles that assumption. Focusing on the history, theory and practice of memoir writing, editors Bunty Avieson, Fiona Giles and Sue Joseph provide a thorough and cutting-edge examination of memoir through the lenses of ethics, practice and innovation. By investigating memoir across cultural boundaries in its various guises and tracing its limits, the editors convincingly demonstrate the plurality of ways in which memoir is helping us make sense of who we are, who we were, and the influences that shape us along the way.

The Cambridge Handbook of Social Sciences in Australia Ian McAllister, Steve Dowrick, Riaz Hassan, 2003-08-07 First published in 2003, The Cambridge Handbook of Social Sciences in Australia is a high-quality reference on significant research in Australian social sciences. The book is divided into three main sections covering the central areas of the social sciences: economics, political science, and sociology. Each section examines the significant research in the field, placing it within the context of broader debates about the nature of the social sciences and the ways in which institutional changes have shaped how they are defined, taught, and researched.

Australian Mothering Carla Pascoe Leahy, Petra Bueskens, 2020-01-28 This collection defines the field of maternal studies in Australia for the first time. Leading motherhood researchers explore how mothering has evolved across Australian history, as well as the joys and challenges of being a mother today. The contributors cover pregnancy, birth, relationships, childcare, domestic violence, time use, work, welfare, policy, and psychology from a diverse range of maternal perspectives. Utilising a matricentric feminist framework, Australian Mothering foregrounds the experiences, emotions, and perspectives of mothers to better understand how Australian motherhood has developed historically and contemporaneously. Drawing upon their combined sociological and historical expertise, Bueskens and Pascoe Leahy have carefully curated a collection that presents compelling research on past and present perspectives on maternity in Australia, which will be relevant to researchers, advocates, and policy makers interested in the changing role of mothers in Australian society.
