A Journey in the Future of Water Terje Tvedt, 2013-10-25 Nourished by fears of global warming and climate change water has become an issue of urgent international concern Is flooding across Europe and Asia a warning of more extreme weather conditions in times to come Will rising sea levels threaten some of the most densely populated regions of the Earth And as the world population approaches 7 billion placing increasing demands on our limited global water supply will there be conflict over access to water Fundamental questions about the future of humanity are being asked and for the first time in history they have to do with the role of water and our ability to control it In A Journey in the Future of Water leading water expert Terje Tvedt explores the impact of our growing water concerns In a journey that takes him to more than twenty five countries and across all continents he talks with water experts politicians and local people to find out more about the ways in which different nations are seeking to respond From Project Moses where gigantic underwater gates will rise to prevent the inundation of Venice to India's River Link Plan connecting thirty seven Himalayan rivers to rivers in the south the author has examined some the world's largest engineering projects travelled the great river valleys explored the rain soaked coasts of Scandinavia and the rain starved deserts of the Sahara and Oman From Las Vegas to Lourdes from Norway to the Nile he has taken part in water festivals and rituals in Africa and India travelled to poor nomadic societies and some of the largest cities in the world in order to better understand this most precious of resources and its determining role in the life of the planet The result is both one of the most comprehensive and accessible accounts of current and future global water issues and a celebration of water itself

Outlook, 2002      The World Water Crisis Stephen Brichieri-Colombi, 2008-10-30 In the last decade water resources planners have frequently signalled an impending water crisis The message is that the world is running out of water and that only by careful planning and the adoption of integrated water resources management can catastrophe be avoided Stephen Brichieri Colombi challenges these perceptions He maintains that the crisis is one of resource management rather than availability it arises because water resource planners advocate exploitation of rivers without due regard to social environmental and geopolitical consequences The author advances a new paradigm water in the national economy which will enable developing countries to meet future food and water demands without increasing abstraction from rivers and consequential riparian conflict This is a powerful re appraisal of the development of global water resources
