Foreign Aid and State Building in Interwar Romania Doina Anca Cretu, 2024-12-10 The decades following World War I were a period of political social and economic transformation for Central and Eastern Europe This book considers the role of foreign aid in Romania between 1918 and 1940 offering a new history of the interrelation between state building and nongovernmental humanitarianism and philanthropy in the interwar period Doina Anca Cretu argues that Romania was a laboratory for transnational intervention as various state builders actively pursued and often instrumentalized American assistance in order to accelerate reconstructive and modernizing projects after World War I. At its core this is a study of how local views, ambitions, and practical agendas framed trajectories of humanitarian and philanthropic endeavors in postimperial Central and Eastern Europe. Conversely, it is a reflection on the ways that architects and practitioners of foreign aid sought to transfer notions of democracy, civilization, and modernity within shifting local and national contexts in the aftermath of the war and after the collapse of European empires. At the intersection of the history of interwar Europe and international philanthropy and humanitarianism, this book's innovative and explicitly transnational approach provides a new framework for understanding the contours of European nationalism in the twentieth century. Orthodoxy and the Cold War L.

Leustean, 2008-12-10. Explores the dynamics between Orthodoxy and politics in Romania, providing an accessible narrative on church-state relations from the establishment of the state in 1859 to the rise of Ceaușescu in 1965. The book argues that Romanian national communism had an ally in a strong Church and analyzes religious diplomacy with actors in the West.

The Balkans: Nationalism, War, and the Great Powers, 1804-2012 Misha Glenny, 2012-09-05. From the bestselling author of McMafia and DarkMarket comes this unique and lively history of Balkan geopolitics since the early nineteenth century, which gives readers the essential historical background to more than one hundred years of events in this war-torn area. No other book covers the entire region or offers such profound insights into the roots of Balkan violence or explains so vividly the origins of modern Serbia, Croatia, Bosnia, Greece, Bulgaria, Romania, and Albania. Now updated to include the fall of Slobodan Milošević, the capture of all indicted war criminals from the Yugoslav wars, and each state's quest for legitimacy in the European Union, The Balkans explores the often catastrophic relationship between the Balkans and the Great Powers, raising some disturbing questions about Western intervention. Europe Since 1945 Bernard A. Cook, 2001. Employing 286 scholars, this two-volume encyclopedia contains entries on post-World War II European political history and groups, significant events, and persons, the economy, religion, education, the arts, women's issues, writers, and more. My Second University Stanciu Stroia, Dan L. Dușleag, 2005. Following the Communist takeover of Romania in 1945, Dr. Stanciu Stroia refused to join the party, suffering professional humiliation and political persecution. He was arrested in 1951 and sentenced to seven years in prison; his estate was nationalized, his family exiled, and his practice confiscated. Ill with scurvy, he survived the prison ordeal and wrote his memoir despite the risk of being detained again. Stanciu Stroia's fortitude is astonishing. My Second University has an important place in the prison literature published since 1989. Keith Hitchins, Professor of History, University of Illinois. An utterly impressive prison memoir, a most necessary and valuable contribution to our understanding of the survival of human dignity under conditions of abysmal pressure. Vladimir Tismaneanu, Professor of Government and Politics, University of Maryland. My Second University will take readers back to another place in time, in another country, seeing life through the eyes of a courageous man and others who chose to suffer rather than give up their freedom. It is a piece of history necessary to consume necessary to remember Times Mail Bedford Indiana With thirty six pages of original photographs and one thousand never before published names of political detainees For more information please visit the author web site at <http://DDusleagHomeInsightbb.com> The Traditions of Invention Alex Drace-Francis, 2013-07-15
