After a difficult recovery Neal returned to film acting earning a second Academy Award nomination for The Subject Was Roses. She appeared in a number of television movie roles in the 1970s and 1980s and won a Golden Globe for Best Actress in a Dramatic TV Movie in 1971 for her role in The Homecoming. Patricia Neal An Unquiet Life is the first critical biography detailing the actress's impressive film career and remarkable personal life. Author Stephen Michael Shearer has conducted numerous interviews with Neal, her professional colleagues and her intimate friends and was given access to the actress's personal papers. The result is an honest and comprehensive portrait of an accomplished woman who has lived her life with determination and bravado. Pennsylvania Road Builder, 1976 Book Review Digest, 1919 The Builder, 1873

A Companion to Indian Fiction in English Pier Paolo Piciucco, 2004. After the pioneer works by scholars such as Naik Narasimhaiah and Mukherjee and the thirty years of silence which followed their ground-breaking achievements, the companion appears on the scene striving to reinvigorate the tradition of panoramic studies of Indian literature in English. In the intervening period, Indian fiction in English has become of paramount importance in the wide context of postcolonial studies. An emergent crop of novelists belonging to the so-called New Generation has colourfully paved the way towards new artistic horizons, reinterpreting Western-derived literary models with inventive approaches. Complementary to their role, there is the articulate presence of a host of Indian scholars who in recent years have significantly influenced the course of this analysis and have vitally contributed to enlarging its scope well beyond the original boundaries of studies in literary criticism. The companion therefore addresses the exigencies of critics, teachers and students alike. All those who need to find quick points of reference in this wide field of studies by relying on a team of authoritative collaborators and specialists from all over the world. Great care was taken not only in selecting collaborators on the basis of their specialisation but also taking into account their cultural background in relation to the author they were to discuss. The book in fact has been organised to have what have been deemed to be the most representative authors in Indian fiction discussed in an essay-long chapter, each structured to highlight crucial points such as biographical details, novels and critical reception. Each chapter includes a final bibliography complete with primary and secondary sources enabling the scholar to have immediate orientation on various specific topics. Finally, the book has an innovative section with synopses of novels planned to allow our readers to immediately place the authors analysed within the panorama of Indian fiction in English. The over 400 synopses included principally introduce works written by the novelists discussed at length in the previous chapters but along with them it is also possible to find summaries of works by authors who, although contributing in a significant way to the development of forms and techniques, do not feature in the first part. Engineering News and American Contract Journal, 1908
