Road Past Mandalay

John MASTERS (Novelist.)

Road Past Mandalay:

The Road Past Mandalay John Masters, 1963 The Road Past Mandalay John Masters, 2022-11-03 The second part of the bestselling novelist's dramatic autobiography about his time in the Gurkhas during the second world war. This is the second part of John Masters' autobiography how he fought with his Gurkha regiment during World War II until his promotion to command one of the Chindit columns behind enemy lines in Burma. Written by a bestselling novelist at the height of his powers, it is an exceptionally moving story that culminates in him having to personally shoot a number of wounded British soldiers who cannot be evacuated before their position is overrun by the Japanese. It is an uncomfortable reminder that Churchill's obsession with special forces squandered thousands of Allied lives in operations that owed more to public relations than strategic calculation. This military and moral odyssey is one of the greatest of World War II frontline memoirs.

General characteristics of light infantry forces are identified and an analysis of how light forces operate tactically and how they are supported is presented. In the process the relationship of the light infantry ethic to its organization is evaluated and the differences between light infantry and conventional infantry is illuminated. For the purpose of this study the term conventional infantry refers to modern day motorized and mechanized infantry and to the large dismounted infantry forces typical of the standard infantry divisions of World War II, the Korean War and the Vietnam War. The study concludes that light infantry is unique and distinct. A light infantry ethic exists and manifests itself in a distinctive tactical style in a special attitude toward the environment in a freedom from dependence on fixed lines of communication and in a strong propensity for self reliance. The study is based on a historical analysis of 4 light infantry forces employed during and since World War II: The Chindits in the 1944 Burma campaign against the Japanese; The Chinese communist Forces during the Korean War; British operations in Malaya and Borneo 1948-66 and the First Special Service Force in the mountains of Italy 1942-44. The Daring Dozen Gavin Mortimer, 2012-06-20 Gavin Mortimer reveals the 12 legendary Special Forces commanders of World War II. Prior to the war the concept of special forces simply didn't exist but thanks to visionary leaders like David Stirling and Charles Hunter our very concept of how wars can be fought and won has totally changed. These 12 men not only reshaped military policy but they led from the front accompanying their troops into battle from the sands of North Africa to jumping on D Day and infiltrating behind enemy lines. Mortimer also offers a skilful analysis of their qualities as military commanders and the true impact that their own personal actions as well as those of their units had on the
