Memento Mori in Contemporary Art Taylor Worley, 2019-11-28 This book explores how four contemporary artists Francis Bacon Joseph Beuys Robert Gober and Damien Hirst pursue the question of death through their fraught appropriations of Christian imagery Each artist is shown to not only pose provocative theological questions but also to question the abilities of theological speech to adequately address current attitudes to death When set within a broader theological context around the thought of death Bacon's works invite fresh readings of the New Testament's narration of the betrayal of Christ and Beuys' works can be appreciated for the ways they evoke Resurrection to envision possible futures for Germany in the aftermath of war Gober's immaculate sculptures and installations serve to create alternative religious environments and these places are both evocative of his Roman Catholic upbringing and virtually haunted by the ghosts of his excommunication from that past Lastly and perhaps most problematically Hirst has built his brand as an artist from making jokes about death By opening fresh arenas of dialogue and meaning making in our society and culture today the rich humanity of these artworks promises both renewed depths of meaning regarding our exit from this world as well as how we might live well within it for the time that we have As such it will be a vital resource for all scholars in Theology the Visual Arts Material Religion and Religious Studies

Making It Modern: Essays on the Art of the Now Linda Nochlin, 2022-03-08 A selection of key essays on art from the nineteenth century to the present day by one of the most influential voices in art history This illustrated collection of essays brings together some of art historian Linda Nochlin's most important writings on modernism and modernity from across her six decade career Before the publication of her seminal essay on feminism in art Why Have There Been No Great Women Artists she had already firmly established herself as a major practitioner of a politically sophisticated and class conscious social art history Nochlin was part of an important cohort of scholars writing on modernity determined to rethink the narratives of the subject under the pressure of contemporary events such as student uprisings the women's liberation movement and the Vietnam War with the help of politically engaged literary criticism that was emerging at the same time Nochlin embraced Charles Baudelaire's conviction that modernity is meant to be of one's time and that the role of an art historian was to understand the art of the past not only in its own historical context but according to the urgencies of the contemporary world From academic debates about the nude in the eighteenth century to the work of Robert Gober in the twenty first whatever she turned her analytic eye to was conceived as the art of the now Including seven previously unpublished pieces this collection highlights the breadth and diversity of Nochlin's output across the decades including discussions on colonialism fashion and sex

or architecture but a new self or subject equal to them In Prosthetic Gods Hal Foster explores this question through the works and writings of such key modernists as Gauguin and Picasso F T Marinetti and Wyndham Lewis Adolf Loos and Max Ernst These diverse figures were all fascinated by fictions of origin either primordial and tribal or futuristic and technological In this way Foster argues two forms came to dominate modernist art above all others the primitive and the machine Foster begins with the primitivist fantasies of Gauguin and Picasso which he examines through the Freudian lens of the primal scene He then turns to the purist obsessions of the Viennese architect Loos who abhorred all things primitive Next Foster considers the technophilic subjects propounded by the futurist Marinetti and the vorticist Lewis These new egos are further contrasted with the bachelor machines proposed by the dadaist Ernst Foster also explores extrapolations from the art of the mentally ill in the aesthetic models of Ernst Paul Klee and Jean Dubuffet as well as manipulations of the female body in the surrealist photography of Brassai Man Ray and Hans Bellmer Finally he examines the impulse to dissolve the conventions of art altogether in the drip paintings of Jackson Pollock the scatter pieces of Robert Morris and the earthworks of Robert Smithson and traces the evocation of lost objects of desire in sculptural work from Marcel Duchamp and Alberto Giacometti to Robert Gober Although its title is drawn from Freud Prosthetic Gods does not impose psychoanalytic theory on modernist art rather it sets the two into critical relation and scans the greater historical field that they share

Hide/Seek Jonathan D. Katz, David C. Ward, 2010-11-02 An entirely new interpretation of modern American portraiture based on the history of sexual difference Hide Seek Difference and Desire in American Portraiture companion volume to an exhibition of the same name at the National Portrait Gallery Smithsonian Institution traces the defining presence of same sex desire in American portraiture through a seductive selection of more than 140 full color illustrations drawings and portraits from leading American artists Arcing from the turn of the twentieth century through the emergence of the modern gay liberation movement in 1969 the tragedies of the AIDS epidemic and to the present Hide Seek openly considers what has long been suppressed or tacitly ignored even by the most progressive sectors of our society the influence of gay and lesbian artists in creating American modernism Hide Seek shows how questions of gender and sexual identity dramatically shaped the artistic practices of influential American artists such as Thomas Eakins Romaine Brooks Marsden Hartley Georgia O Keeffe Charles Demuth Jasper Johns Robert Rauschenberg Andrew Wyeth Andy Warhol Robert Mapplethorpe and many more in addition to artists of more recent works such as Felix Gonzalez Torres Glenn Ligon Catherine Opie and Cass Bird The authors argue that despite the late nineteenth century definition and legal codification of the homosexual in reality questions of sexuality always remained fluid and continually redefined by artists concerned with the act of portrayal In particular gay and lesbian artists of but not fully in the society they portrayed occupied a position of influential marginality from which vantage point they crafted innovative and revolutionary ways of painting portraits Their resistance to society's attempt to proscribe them forced them to develop new visual vocabularies by which to code disguise and thereby express their subjects' identities and also their own Bringing together for the first time new scholarship in the history of American sexuality and new research in American portraiture Hide Seek charts the heretofore hidden impact of gay and lesbian artists on American art and portraiture and creates the basis for the necessary reassessment of the careers of major American artists both gay and straight as well as of portraiture itself

The Contingent Object of Contemporary Art Martha Buskirk, 2005-02-18 An exploration of transformations in the nature of the art object and artistic authorship in the last four decades In this book Martha Buskirk addresses the interesting fact that since the early 1960s almost anything can and has been called art Among other practices contemporary artists have employed mass produced elements impermanent materials and appropriated imagery have incorporated performance and video and have created works through instructions carried out by others Furthermore works of art that lack traditional signs of authenticity or permanence have been embraced by institutions long devoted to the original and the permanent Buskirk begins with questions of authorship raised by minimalists use of industrial materials and methods including competing claims of ownership and artistic authorship evident in conflicts over the right to fabricate artists' works Examining recent examples of appropriation she finds precedents in pop art and the early twentieth century readymade and explores the intersection of contemporary artistic copying and the system of copyrights trademarks and brand names characteristic of other forms of commodity production She also investigates the ways that connections between work and context have transformed art and institutional conventions the impact of new materials on definitions of medium the role of the document as both primary and secondary object and the significance of conceptually oriented performance work for the intersection of photography and the human body in contemporary art Buskirk explores how artists active in the 1980s and 1990s have recombined strategies of the art of the 1960s and 1970s She also shows how the mechanisms through which art is presented shape not only readings of the work but the work itself She uses her discussion of the readymade and conceptual art to explore broader issues of authorship reproduction context and temporality

The Original Copy Roxana Marcoci, Geoffrey Batchen, Tobia Bezzola, 2010 Since its birth in the first half of the 19th century photography has offered extraordinary possibilities of isolating works of art for study and pleasure Through cropping focus angle of view distance and lighting as well as the ex post facto techniques of dark room manipulation collage montage and assemblage photographers not only interpret the artworks they record but create stunning reinventions The Original Copy Photography of Sculpture 1939 to Today presents a critical examination of the intersections between photography and sculpture Through a selection of nearly 300 outstanding pictures by more than 100 artists from the 19th century to the present The Original Copy explores how one medium has become implicated in the understanding of the other Photographs reproduced in this richly illustrated volume range in subject from inanimate objects to performing bodies and include major works by medium s most influential artists from early modernism to the present      AIDS and Representation Fiona Johnstone,2023-05-18 AIDS Representation explores portraits and self portraits made in response to the AIDS epidemic in America in the 1980s and 1990s Addressing the work of artists including Mark Morrisroe Robert Blanchon and Felix Gonzalez Torres through the interrelated themes of sickness and mortality desire and sexual identity love and loss Fiona Johnstone shows how the self representational practices of artists with HIV and AIDS offered a richly imaginative response to the limitations of early AIDS imagery Johnstone argues that the AIDS epidemic changed the very nature of visual representation and artistic practice necessitating a radical new approach to conceptualising and visualising the human form An extended epilogue considers the ongoing art historicization of the epidemic re contextualising the book s themes in relation to contemporary photographic works More than just a historical discussion of the art of the AIDS crisis AIDS and Representation contributes to an emergent body of scholarship on the visual representation of illness Expanding the established genre of the autopathography or illness narrative beyond the predominantly textual this important contribution to art history and health humanities sensitively unpicks the entanglements between aesthetic form and the expression of lived experiences of critical and chronic ill health      A Dictionary of the Avant-Gardes ,2013-05-13 A Dictionary of the Avant Gardes recognizes that change is a driving force in all the arts It covers major trends in music dance theater film visual art sculpture and performance art as well as architecture science and culture      Robert Gober ,1988
