The Works of Robert Louis Stevenson - Swanston Edition Vol. 20 (of 25) Robert Louis Stevenson, 2018-06-28 The Works of Robert Louis Stevenson Swanston Edition Vol 20 of 25 by Robert Louis Stevenson It was in the month of May 1813 that I was so unlucky as to fall at last into the hands of the enemy My knowledge of the English language had marked me out for a certain employment Though I cannot conceive a soldier refusing to incur the risk yet to be hanged for a spy is a disgusting business and I was relieved to be held a prisoner of war Into the Castle of Edinburgh standing in the midst of that city on the summit of an extraordinary rock I was cast with several hundred fellow sufferers all privates like myself and the more part of them by an accident very ignorant plain fellows My English which had brought me into that scrape now helped me very materially to bear it We are delighted to publish this classic book as part of our extensive Classic Library collection Many of the books in our collection have been out of print for decades and therefore have not been accessible to the general public The aim of our publishing program is to facilitate rapid access to this vast reservoir of literature and our view is that this is a significant literary work which deserves to be brought back into print after many decades The contents of the vast majority of titles in the Classic Library have been scanned from the original works To ensure a high quality product each title has been meticulously hand curated by our staff Our philosophy has been guided by a desire to provide the reader with a book that is as close as possible to ownership of the original work We hope that you will enjoy this wonderful classic work and that for you it becomes an enriching experience

Robert Louis Stevenson and the Great Affair Richard J. Hill, 2017-02-03 In his travel narrative Travels with a Donkey in the Cevennes 1879 Robert Louis Stevenson declares I travel not to go anywhere but to go I travel for travel s sake The great affair is to move Taking up the concepts of time place and memory the contributors to this collection explore in what ways the dynamic view of life suggested by this quotation permeates Stevenson s work The essays adopt a wide variety of critical approaches including post colonial theory post structuralism new historicism art history and philosophy making use of the vast array of literary materials that Stevenson left across a global journey that began in Scotland in 1850 and ended in Samoa in 1894 These range from travel journals letters and classic literary staples such as Treasure Island and The Strange Case of Dr Jekyll and Mr Hyde to rarely read masterpieces such as The Master of Ballantrae or The Ebb Tide While much recent scholarship on Stevenson foregrounds geography the present volume also examines the theme of movement across memory time and generic boundaries Taken together the essays offer a view of Stevenson that demonstrates how the protean nature of his literary output reflects the radical developments in science technology and culture that characterized the age in which he lived
