Making Economics Public Vicki Macknight,Fabien Medvecky,2023-05-22 Economics macro micro and mysterious is integral to everyday life But despite its importance for personal and collective decision making it is a discipline often viewed as technical arcane and inaccessible and thus overlooked in public discourse This book is a call to arms to bring the discipline of economics more into the public domain It calls on economists to think about how to make their knowledge of the economics public And it calls on those who specialise in communicating expert knowledge to help us learn to communicate about economics The book brings together scholars and practitioners working at the early stages of an emerging field the public communication of and public engagement with economics Through a series of short essays from academics and practitioners the book has two key goals first and foremost it will make a case for why we need to make economics public and for the importance of having a clear vision of what it means to make economics public Secondly it suggests some ways that this can be done featuring contributions from practitioners including economists who are engaging audiences in newspapers museums and beyond This book is essential reading for those in economics with an interest in making economics public and those already in the many fields dedicated to communicating expert knowledge in public spaces who have an interest in where economics can fit More information about the book can be found here <https://www.makingeconomicspublic.org> Making Progress in Primary Science Wynne Harlen,2003 This text follows a module structure focuses on the learning of science as an investigative process through which pupils develop an understanding of ideas Modules include building on childrens own ideas how to ask answer questions managing practical work in the classroom cross curricular links Museum Culture Dr. Priyanka Joshi,2025-06-15 This book by Dr Priyanka Joshi explores the deeper purpose and practice of museums not as static halls of the past but as active spaces of learning dialogue and cultural care Drawing on research and thoughtful reflection she takes readers behind the scenes to reveal how museums curate stories engage communities and preserve heritage Written in an accessible human style the book is for students educators and curious minds alike It reminds us that preserving culture is a shared responsibility and that museums are vital living institutions that help us connect with our past and imagine a more inclusive future Exhibits in Libraries Mary E. Brown,Rebecca Power,2014-12-09 Library exhibits are more than entertainment for patrons They can inspire and educate stimulate an interest that can be explored in a book or attract visitors who otherwise wouldn t stop by Displays are also an opportunity for a library to put its creative foot forward or help patrons navigate the facility itself This comprehensive how to includes a everything a librarian or staff member needs to know to put on an exhibit from hatching ideas to evaluating the end result Illustrations and photographs show practical methods of planning labeling and displaying An introduction discusses the history and rationale of exhibits and what librarians need to know to be responsible for them Most of the book s pages however are dedicated to the hands on process of creating an exhibit The first part is a ten step process for beginners The second part includes everything a librarian or staff member might want to consider when creating an exhibit the beginning idea theme goals location the development and design layout labeling and related concerns the fabrication materials and installation and the exhibit from installation to removal maintenance care of volunteers evaluation Related issues include safety administration funding contracts public relations and other practical topics Another section looks at special projects such as traveling displays and hands on exhibits Finally the authors provide syllabi for continued study in a workshop or college course along with a self study guide

Museums and the Public Understanding of Science John Durant,Committee on the Public Understanding of Science,1992 The essays in this volume are organised thematically The first essay sets the scene by reviewing the present position and future potential of science museums as educational and cultural resources The next section is devoted to the role of museum exhibitions and analyses how exhibitions deal with complex material The third section is concerned with museum programmes and reports on the strengths and weaknesses of different museum programmes ranging from gallery drama to
