The Making of Criminal Justice Policy Sue Hobbs, Christopher Hamerton, 2014-10-24 This new textbook will provide students of criminology with a better understanding of criminal justice policy and in doing so offers a framework for analysing the social economic and political processes that shape its creation The book adopts a policy oriented approach to criminal justice connecting the study of criminology to the wider study of British government public administration and politics Throughout the book the focus is on key debates and competing perspectives on how policy decisions are made Recognising that contemporary criminal justice policymakers operate in a highly politicised public arena under the gaze of an ever increasing variety of groups organisations and individuals who have a stake in a particular policy issue the book explores how and why these people seek to influence policymaking It also recognises that criminal policy differs from other areas of public policy as policy decisions affect the liberty and freedoms of citizens Throughout key ideas and debates are linked to wider sociology criminology and social policy theory Key features include a foreword by Tim

Newburn leading criminologist and author of Criminology 2nd Edition 2013 a critical and informed analysis of the concepts ideas and institutional practices that shape criminal justice policy making an exploration of the relationship between criminal justice and wider social policy a critical analysis of the debate about how and why behaviour becomes defined as requiring a criminal justice solution a range of case studies tasks seminar questions and suggested further readings to keep the student engaged This text is perfect for students taking modules in criminology criminal justice and social and public policy as well as those taking courses on criminal and administrative law

Making Gardens of Their Own: Advice for Women, 1550-1750 Jennifer Munroe, 2016-12-05 During the period 1500 1750 a general shift in gardening practice took place from which emerged three distinct types of gardens traditional subsistence or kitchen gardens aesthetic gardens and gendered aesthetic gardens The gardening and husbandry manuals published during the period typified by the texts selected for this volume reveal how and what one planted was related to one's role in society These texts attest to the changing nature of gardening from a largely subsistence endeavour to an artful practice that became defined in gendered terms The texts reproduced have been divided into two parts gardening books for the country housewife and gardening books for ladies

The Decision-Making Process of Investor-State Arbitration Tribunals Mary Mitsi, 2018-12-28 In the course of a single investor state dispute an arbitrator may make numerous decisions from interpreting the treaty or national laws to taking into account case law customs and policies In practice this process raises important issues regarding the consistency of decisions and the predictability and legitimacy of the decision making process in general Investment arbitration tribunals have developed a specialised process of legal decision making adapted to the interpretational needs that arise in the context of an investor state dispute and to the transnational characteristics of the investment arbitration framework This is the first book to offer an in depth analysis of the transnational characteristics of investment arbitration and to analyse the interpretive arguments of investment tribunals and the way they use treaties precedent policies general principles of law and customary law in their decision making process Drawing on publicly available arbitral case law supplemented with personal interviews with investment arbitrators the author touches on such concepts and practices as the following an overview of various decision making genres of arbitral tribunals attitudinal economic strategic and legal the legal argumentation triptych of language rhetoric dialogue the specific language arbitrators have developed when interpreting the law how arbitrators use the concepts standards rules principles and rights the importance of the legal reasoning of arbitral awards and the role of rhetoric therein concepts of acceptability audience and legitimacy limitations of the public international law interpretive methodology enshrined in the Vienna Convention interpretation of precedents customary law general principles of law and policies the way national and international legal orders interact in the context of interpretation and how decision making is connected to the issues of predictability consistency and the rule of law The core of the book proposes a novel full edged dialogical network theory for analysing the interpretation process As an exemplary demonstration of developing theory to keep up with practice this unique book provides a deeply engaged means for enhancing the practice of international arbitration Its introduction of a new field of interdisciplinary analysis employing legal argumentation theories is sure to provide inestimable guidance for institutions and policymakers especially in light of recent proposals for the creation of a permanent investment arbitration court Given that unveiling the legal decision making process is critical for the well being of the whole dispute resolution procedure and that being aware of how arbitrators interpret the law can constitute a roadmap for counsel s arguments and approaches when dealing with cross border disputes the topic of this book is relevant for both academics and practitioners and its significance can only grow as recourse to investor state arbitration continues to expand
