Making Of Pakistan The Military Perspective:

Making of Pakistan Noor ul Haq, 1997 Asian Strategic and Military Perspective Ravi Shekhar Narain Singh Singh, 2005 Nation states are compelled to function within the parameters of their respective geo political and geo strategic environment The behavior of nations and the interplay of their strengths and vulnerabilities particularly their foreign and military posturing is predicated on geographic political and economic factors Besides historical imperatives also coalesce in determining the way States shape their policies Many Asian countries today are threatened by a war that is of a subtle and imperceptible nature There is also a paradigm shift in the perception of national security especially with the blurring of the notion of internal and external security This is reflected in the growing military expenditures of several Asian countries This volume attempts to examine the critical factors that influence the foreign and defense policies of Asian countries It provides comprehensive information and analyses of the strengths needs aspirations and compulsions that shape their strategic and military outlook The Dynamics of States Klaus Schlichte, 2016-12-05 State domination in the non Western world is hallmarked by its constantly shifting character This stimulating book develops a new approach to the study of state formation and state erosion to explain dynamics that neither follow the pathways of development nor the rule of stagnation that dependency theory once suggested Carefully edited by Klaus Schlichte this book provides a fresh angle to the study of states with an attempt to overcome Weber with Weber The approach focuses on the historical authenticity of states and their institutional frameworks describing the trajectories taken as they react to the effects of changes in their international and local social environments The emphasis laid on the specific characteristics of individual states does not however lead to the theoretical difficulty of a new contextual relativism The conceptual design employs sociological categories developed by Max Weber Norbert Elias Michel Foucault Pierre Bourdieu and others Pakistan's Arms Procurement and Military Buildup, 1979-99 A. Siddiq-Agha, 2001-03-20 The strategic imperative is held as the primary explanation for Pakistan s military buildup This book presents a fundamental departure in presenting an analysis of the internal dynamics of defence management and decisionmaking in Pakistan a new nuclear weapon state This is an in depth study of Pakistan s security link with its arms suppliers and defence industrial capacity and the influence of Pakistan s Army on conventional and non conventional defence decisions The analysis is backed with numerous case studies of defence decisions carried out from 1979 99 The Royal Indian Navy Kalesh Mohanan, 2019-10-08 This book presents a comprehensive history of the Royal Indian Navy RIN It traces the origins of the RIN to the East India Company as early as 1612 and untangles the institution s complex history Capturing various transitional phases of the RIN especially during the crucial period of 1920 1950 it concludes with the final transfer of the RIN from under the British Raj to independent India Drawn from a host of primary sources personal diaries and logs official reports and documents the author presents a previously unexplored history of colonial and imperial defence policy and the contribution of the RIN during the World Wars This book explores several aspects in RIN s history such as its involvement in the First World War its status in policies of the British Raj the martial race theory in the RIN and the development of the RIN from a non combat force to a full fledged combat defence force during the Second World War It also studies the hitherto unexplored causes nature and impact of the 1946 RIN Revolt on the eve of India s independence from a fresh perspective An important intervention in the study of military and defence history this will be an essential read for students researchers defence personnel military academy cadets as well as general readers Military Inc. Ayesha Siddiqi,2007-04-20 This bold book explains why it will be so difficult to persuade the Pakistani military to renounce political power and return to the barracks It is a must read for anyone who cares about Pakistan or its future Lee H Hamilton President and Director Woodrow Wilson International Center for Scholars Siddiqi demonstrates how economic impunity and political impunity are closely related Nicole Ball Senior Fellow Center for International Policy Washington DC No one else has so comprehensively explained the army s involvement in Pakistan s economy nor linked it so clearly with the army s growing and seemingly permanent role in Pakistan s politics Stephen P Cohen Senior Fellow Foreign Policy Studies Brookings Complex riveting absorbing Siddiqi has written a vitally important book which enhances our understanding of the army on the front line in the war on terror Ahmed Rashid Far Eastern Economic Review An incisive look at the largely hidden economic empire run by and for the benefit of Pakistan s military This courageous book will not please Pakistan s generals But no Pakistani civilian or military can afford to ignore its sobering analysis Robert M Hathaway Director Asia Program Woodrow Wilson International Center for Scholars Pakistan is a strategic ally of the US in the war on terror It is the third largest receiver of US aid in the world Yet Pakistan is a state run by its army Siddiqi shows how the power of the military has transformed Pakistani society where the armed forces have become an independent class The military is entrenched in the corporate sector So Pakistan s companies and its main assets are in the hands of a tiny minority of senior army officials Siddiqi examines this military economy and the consequences of merging the military and corporate sectors Does democracy have a future Will the generals ever withdraw to the barracks Military Inc analyses the internal and external dynamics of this gradual power building and the impact that it is having on Pakistan s political and economic development The Military and Denied Development in the Pakistani Punjab Shahrukh Rafi Khan,Aasim Sajjad Akhtar,2014-11-01 This book focuses on the retrogressive agrarian interventions by the Pakistani military in rural Punjab and explores the social resentment and resistance it triggered potentially undermining the consensus on a security state in Pakistan Set against the overbearing and socially unjust role of the military in Pakistan s economy this book documents a breakdown in the accepted function of the military beyond its constitutionally mandated role of defence Accompanying earlier work on military involvement in industry commerce finance and real estate the authors research contributes to a wider understanding of military intervention revealing its hand in various sectors of the economy and consequently its gains in power and economic autonomy Conventional Warfare in South Asia, 1947 to the Present Kaushik Roy,2017-03-02 The essays included in this volume focus on conventional war on land sea and air fought by the states of South Asia and their impact on the host societies and economies The authors are drawn from academia and the military in India and Pakistan as well as from outside the subcontinent in order to give a wide perspective In the introduction the editors describe the changing contours of warfare in South Asia and the similarities and dissimilarities with warfare in the Middle East and South East Asia The volume highlights the influence of extra regional powers like China Russia and the US in providing arms munitions and shaping the texture of military doctrines and force structures of the South Asian powers

The Changing Dynamics of Civil Military Relations in Pakistan Rabia Chaudhry, 2023-09-04 The Changing Dynamics of Civil Military Relations in Pakistan offers a unique insiders perspective on the political climate in the country presenting the challenges established in boundaries of interaction between the state and its military This book argues that the prospects of another military coup in Pakistan are minimal because of the military extending its presence in the civil arenas and thus discovering new avenues of concretising its hegemony Based on primary data sources in the form of interviews with senior military personnel civil bureaucrats and other relevant technocrats and using military and government publications to verify their claims the author discusses the military's previous takeovers and future plans from a defense point of view The book uncovers how the military has created a space and rationale for itself in non defense sectors Providing a first hand account of why and how the military extends itself beyond proscribed fields of responsibility and their expected outcomes the book also provides a theoretical context to the military's hegemonic status using literature on civil military relations in general and Pakistan in particular The book uses Pakistan as a case study to show how civil military imbalances in the world over can be re evaluated It will be of interest to researchers studying political science public policy peace and security studies governance and institutions law and South Asian Studies

Southeast Asian Perspectives on Security Derek Da Cunha, 2000 The conventional understanding of strategic issues in the modern world has been very much a Western driven phenomenon That is to say Western strategists thinkers and writers have tended to establish the principles of strategic concepts and to develop theories around them While there is utility in much Western strategic thought it is also apt to note that some of it does not have full relevance or validity when applied to a regional setting that is far removed from the geographical boundaries of the Western world In that connection this volume is partly intended to serve as an antidote to much of the Western commentary on Asia Pacific security issues by providing a range of perspectives on those issues from the Southeast Asian point of view It offers a range of Southeast Asian perspectives on the multifaceted security issues that confront the Asia Pacific region in the post Cold War era That there is no unitary perspective emanating from the region is symptomatic of the very fluid geopolitical situation that characterizes Asia Pacific security and of equal import the different schools of thought that analysts in the region have chosen to subscribe to Review of Current Military Literature ,2011
