Handbook to Life in Prehistoric Europe Jane McIntosh,2009-06-01 For most of Europe s long past we have no writing no named individuals no recorded deeds This means that its history is almost entirely that of the ordinary individual the hunger gatherer farmer or metallurgist rather than the king Evidence of privileged elites and material splendor is not lacking however The skills and expertise of prehistoric Europeans were often employed in the production of exquisite jewelry elaborately woven cloth beautifully made tools and finely wrought weapons Though the palaces that have attracted excavators in other lands are absent there are few monuments elsewhere in the world to rival Europe s massive megalithic tombs or great stone circles And though individuals preserve their anonymity and many of their secrets modern technology has made it possible to reveal parts of their life history in astonishing detail Handbook to Life in Prehistoric Europe gathers the results of recent archaeological discoveries and scholarly research into a single accessible volume Organized thematically the handbook covers all aspects of life in prehistoric Europe including the geography of the continent settlement trade and transport industry and crafts religion death and burial warfare language the arts and more Complemented with more than 75 illustrations and maps the result is a fascinating introduction to the 7 000 year period that immediately preceded the Roman Empire The Making of Home Judith Flanders,2014-10-01 The idea that home is a special place a separate place a place where we can be our true selves is so obvious to us today that we barely pause to think about it But as Judith Flanders shows in this revealing book home is a relatively new concept When in 1900 Dorothy assured the citizens of Oz that There is no place like home she was expressing a view that was a culmination of 300 years of economic physical and emotional change In The Making of Home Flanders traces the evolution of the house across northern Europe and America from the 16th to the early 20th century and paints a striking picture of how the homes we know today differ from homes through history The transformation of houses into homes she argues was not a private matter but an essential ingredient in the rise of capitalism and the birth of the Industrial Revolution Without home the modern world as we know it would not exist and as Flanders charts the development of ordinary household objects from cutlery chairs and curtains to fitted kitchens plumbing and windows she also peels back the myths that surround some of our most basic assumptions including our entire notion of what it is that makes a family As full of fascinating detail as her previous bestsellers The Making of Home is also a book teeming with original and provocative ideas Making Youth: A History of Youth in Modern Britain Melanie

Tebbutt,2017-09-16 This new study explores how British youth was made and how it made itself over the nineteenth and twentieth centuries Urbanisation and industrialisation brought challenges that altered how young people were both perceived and understood As adults found it difficult to comprehend the rapidity of societal change focus on the young intensified and they became a symbol of uncertainty about the future Highlighting both change and striking continuity Melanie Tebbutt traces the origins and development of key themes and debates in the history of modern British youth Current issues such as the ageing of western societies high levels of youth unemployment and the potential for social and political unrest make this a timely study Traditional Dietary Culture Of Southeast Asia Akira Matsuyama,2013-11-05 First Published in 2002 Foodways can reveal the strongest and deepest traces of human history and culture and this pioneering volume is a detailed study of the development of the traditional dietary culture of Southeast Asia from Laos and Vietnam to the Philippines and New Guinea from earliest times to the present Being blessed with abundant natural resources dietary culture in Southeast Asia flourished during the pre European period on the basis of close relationships between the cultural spheres of India and China only to undergo significant change during the rise of Islam and the age of European colonialism What we think of as the Southeast Asian cuisine today is the result of the complex interplay of many factors over centuries The work is supported by full geological archaeological biological and chemical data and is based largely upon Southeast Asian sources which have not been available up until now This is essential reading for anyone interested in culinary history the anthropology of food and in the complex history of Southeast Asia First Peoples of the Americas and the European Age of Exploration Patricia A. Dawson,2015-07-15 Learn more about the end of the Middle Ages and the discovery of a new world Find out about the Maya the Inca the Aztecs as the beginning of the Renaissance in this beautiful book The Future of the Past Comer Vann Woodward,1989 Discusses the relationships between the past and present and history and fiction and looks at the role of the historian How to make European pensions adequate and sustainable? Juraj Draxler,2009 Presents the results of the research project on Adequacy and Sustainability of Old Age Income in the EU AIM Examines the differences among EU member States when it comes to saving for retirement Suggests that while in some countries the working age population is able to sustain their consumption on retirement in others there is a significant saving gap European Society William Outhwaite,2013-05-02 Does it make sense to speak of a European society above and beyond its component states and regions In this major new book William Outhwaite argues that it does He goes beyond the study of individual states and specific regions of Europe to examine the changing contours of the continent as a whole at a time when Europe is beginning to look and act more like a single entity In what we have come to call Europe there developed distinctive forms of political economic and more broadly social organisation many of course building on elements drawn from more advanced civilisations elsewhere in the world During the centuries of European dominance these forms were often exported to other world regions where the export versions often surpassed the original ones In the present century many features of European life remain distinctive the European welfare or social model a substantially secularised culture and particular forms of democratic politics and of the relations between politics and the economy This book provides a concise overview and analysis of these features which continue to make Europe a relatively distinctive region of global modernity The book will become a key text for students taking courses on contemporary Europe whether these are in departments of politics sociology literature or European Studies It will also be of great interest to anyone living in or concerned with Europe today

Gender Trouble and Current Archaeological Debates Uroš Matić, Bisserka Gaydarska, Laura Coltofean, Marta Díaz-Guardamino, 2024-10-28 This volume challenges the status quo by addressing a selection of intensely discussed themes in contemporary archaeological practice from a gender perspective It aims to demonstrate that gender is intrinsic to archaeology and that gender archaeology can enrich our studies irrespective of the discipline's possible future directions and so called paradigm shifts The scholarly contributions commissioned for this volume critically discuss and reflect on a wide range of concepts ideas principles and theories presently applied in archaeology within the framework of gender The chapters included in the first part deal with themes in world archaeology that have little or no focus on gender such as the Third Science Revolution e g ancient DNA stable isotopes analyses big data posthumanism e g new materialism symmetrical archaeology and the ontological turn and digital archaeology and heritage The second part focuses on themes in which gender archaeology has made serious advances intersectionality social inequality violence mobility The third part deals with themes crucial for contemporary archaeology and society namely gender education gender representation in museum exhibitions and the future of gender archaeology The volume concludes with a coda chapter that critically assesses the preceding contributions and the volume as a whole The book offers a gender balanced and inclusive authorship consisting of both well established and early career researchers closely connected to the EAA whose professionally culturally and geographically diverse backgrounds and experiences enrich the viewpoints discussed in the chapters The targeted audience is archaeologists from all theoretical and scientific backgrounds at all stages of their career Chapter 2 Sex Gender and the Third Science Revolution is available open access under a Creative Commons Attribution 4.0 International License via link springer.com

Handbook of European Societies Stefan Immerfall, Göran Therborn, 2009-12-01 European integration is one of the most ambitious and socially far reaching developments in world politics and in world economics Against growing opposition and despite increasing social heterogeneity the European Union continues to expand and to acquire new competences But to what extent is the self proclaimed ever closer union among the peoples of Europe a social reality In which ways is the political European project anchored in social developments How does social change impinge upon political integration Societal trends in multi cultural multi ethnic multi lingual and socially diverse Europe have never been studied systematically Handbook of European Societies Social Transformations in the 21st Century sets to rectify this neglect of societal developments in Europe providing a groundwork for the sociology of European integration The book portrays social life and social relations in the enlarged Europe and gives a perspective on the European Union as an evolving social entity Handbook of European Societies is a pioneering source book analyzing the current social patterns on the continent It covers a representative selection of major topics of social concern and sociological relevance such as Collective Action Consumption Identity Power Structure Sexuality Stratification and Well being Each contribution probes key developments in a strictly comparative manner The Handbook thus offers a detailed look into the intricacies of the national societies of Europe and into the prospect of an emerging European society The Editors have enlisted leading researchers to synthesize existing knowledge and to make use of many different data sources in a straight forward style The contributions stay away from jargon simple labeling and sweeping assertions Instead they provide solid and accessible information on a wide variety of social trends and processes within and across European societies

America in the Making Charles Ernest Chadsey, Louis Weinberg, Chester Frederic Miller, 1928

The Emergence of EU Contract Law Lucinda Miller, 2011-09-22 The emergence of a pan European contract law is one of the most significant legal developments in Europe today The Emergence of EU Contract Law Exploring Europeanization examines the origins of the discipline and its subsequent evolution It brings the discussion up to date with full analysis of the debate on the Common Frame of Reference and the future that this ambiguous instrument may have in the contemporary European legal framework One of the central themes of the book is exploration of the multi level open architecture of the EU legal order and the implications of that architecture for the EU's private law programme The analysis demonstrates that the key to understanding European contract law in the 21st century lies in adopting a perspective and mechanisms suitable for a legal order populated by multiple sources of private law Legal pluralism is offered as a theoretical construct with the capacity to shape the future of European private law shifting the analytical spotlight beyond the traditional centralized legislative means of regulation In so doing softer mechanisms are introduced for the governance of contract law mechanisms that enable coordination between the different sites at which contract law operates This reorientation in thinking about European contract law indeed about Europeanization itself enables the inevitable diversity and pluralism that is a feature of multi level Europe to be captured within a framework that maximizes the opportunities for mutual learning and exchange across private law sites

Outlines of European History ...: Earliest man, the Orient, Greece, and Rome, by J. H. Breasted. Europe from the break-up of the Roman empire to the opening of the eighteenth century, by J. H. Robinson James Harvey Robinson, 1914

The Politics and Policies of European Economic Integration, 1850-1914 Yaman Kouli, Léonard Laborie, 2023-01-01 This book asks anew whether there really was European integration before 1914 By focussing on quantitative economic indicators and qualitative data the international regulation of patents communication networks social policy and plant protection the authors re evaluate European integration of the time and address the politics of seemingly apolitical cooperation The authors show that European integration was multifaceted and cooperation less the result of intent than of incentives National politics and international regimes co shaped each other The result is a book that achieves two things offer stand alone chapters that shed light on specific developments and these read altogether develop a bigger picture It will be of interest to researchers and students of economic history as well as those interested in the history of internationalism and globalisation

Telling Stories, Making Histories Mary Wren Bivins, 2007-03-30 Through reconstruction of oral testimony folk stories and poetry the true history of Hausa women and their reception of Islam's vision of Muslim in Western Africa have been uncovered Mary Wren Bivins is the first author to locate and examine the oral texts of the 19th century Hausa women and challenge the written documentation of the Sokoto Caliphate The personal narratives and folk stories reveal the importance of illiterate non elite women to the history of jihad and the assimilation of normative Islam in rural Hausaland The captivating lives of the Hausa are captured shedding light on their ordinary existence as wives mothers and providers for their family on the eve of European colonial conquest

Making European Masculinities J. A. Mangan, 2013-10-08 As sport has grown progressively replacing religion in its power to excite passion provide emotional escape offer fraternal and increasingly sororital bonding it has come to loom larger and larger in the lives of Europeans and others It has become an inescapable reality linking public environment with intimate experience and thus offers the historian an opportunity to inspect and attempt to grasp all the dimensions of the recent past and their relative share in individual and collective experience This collection considers the evolution of modern sport in Europe and examines its role in shaping masculine identity
