comprehensive assessment of Michel Foucault's later work responds to the contemporary crisis in ethics focusing on the way Foucault attempts to bring together the two seemingly incompatible spheres of ethics and aesthetics through his reassessment of the Greek tradition Dialectics of the Will John H. Michel Foucault Philip Barker, 2020-07-24 This unique and original study analyzes Foucault's interaction with the history of ideas undertaking a genealogy of the subject that subverts conventional philosophical history to develop a distinctly Foucauldian intellectual history Through a detailed account of Foucault's work and its relation to the history of ideas Philip Barker shows how that history can be usefully reconceptualised using Foucault's concepts of genealogy and archaeology Locating the emergence of self reflexive consciousness in twelfth century philosophy and elaborating upon autobiography as a philosophical persona Barker argues that this extremely productive approach can be used to analyze the relationship between the history of philosophy psychoanalysis and the transparent subject Michel Foucault's Archaeology of Western Culture

Pamela Major-Poetzel, 2017-10-10 The author argues that Foucault's archaeology is an attempt to separate historical and philosophical analysis from the evolutionary model of nineteenth century biology and to establish a new form of social thought based on principles similar to field theory in twentieth century physics She examines Foucault's view of the relationship between power and knowledge and goes on to discuss the new concepts of space time subject and causality expressed in relativity theory quantum mechanics Saussurean linguistics and Foucault's literary essays Originally published in 1983 A UNC Press Enduring Edition UNC Press Enduring Editions use the latest in digital technology to make available again books from our distinguished backlist that were previously out of print These editions are published unaltered from the original and are presented in affordable paperback formats bringing readers both historical and cultural value The Politics of Desire Agustín Colombo, Edward McGushin, Geoff Pfeifer, 2022-03-28 In his preface to Deleuze and Guattari's Anti-Oedipus Michel Foucault notes that in the late sixties there is a turn away from Freud and a movement toward what he calls an experience and technology of desire that is no longer Freudian Foucault Deleuze and Guattari were interested in and engaged with this shift and their collective work in these areas spawned a larger post Freudian literature This book gathers contributions from international scholars with the aim of exploring the social political and philosophical dimension of Deleuze and Guattari's and Foucault's critical encounters with psychoanalytic thought Their possible connections their divergences the fields of reflection that these encounters open and the problems and debates that led Foucault and Deleuze and Guattari to engage with psychoanalysis in the ways that they did In doing so the main goal of the book is not to engage in a critique of the discipline of Psychoanalysis as such but to investigate how Foucault's and Deleuze's critique of Psychoanalysis gives rise to a political reflection that draws on some of Psychoanalysis key notions Among these the concept of Desire is central as it allows us to grasp the different ways in which Foucault and Deleuze politically engage with Psychoanalysis for Deleuze Desire is the element through which Revolution becomes possible whereas for Foucault Desire is a cornerstone of the modern mechanisms of subjection Drawing both on new material like Confessions of the Flesh the 4th volume of Foucault's History of Sexuality and on Foucault and Deleuze main work the book covers a variety of topics including the contrast between Foucault's and Deleuze political understanding of desire and pleasure the genealogy of desire as a way to investigate the historical shaping of psychoanalysis the relationship between psychoanalysis and the normalizing mechanisms of power e.g. biopolitics and disciplinary regimes the ways in which psychoanalysis and neoliberalism come together in particular moments the status and role of desire in revolt resistance and transformation Foucault and Deleuze's different approaches to the unconscious the role of desire in the formation of identity etc In the 50th anniversary of Deleuze and Guattari's Anti Oedipus one of the major references that inspires the many chapters in this book we aim to pay homage to these two important figures of contemporary thought by enriching and opening new lines of thought and problematization of the political reflection on Desire that Foucault and Deleuze developed Constructing the Self Valérie

Nicolet-Anderson, 2012 Using some of the works of Michel Foucault 1926-1984 as a conversation partner Valerie Nicolet Anderson focuses on the manner in which Paul constructs the identity of his audience in his letter to the Romans In particular she analyzes how the notions of autonomy and self agency function for both authors In this dialogue Valerie Nicolet Anderson examines whether Paul can still play a relevant part in contemporary discussions around the notion of identity The approach to Paul presents a narrative reading of Romans and displays an interdisciplinary hermeneutics which brings together New Testament exegesis and post modern philosophy The author constructs a dynamic picture of Paul as engaged in the shaping of the ethos of his communities through various strategies She highlights Paul's actuality reflecting the current use of Paul by continental philosophers and invites more interdisciplinary reflection between exegesis and philosophy The Force of Truth Daniele Lorenzini, 2023-09-13 A groundbreaking examination of Michel Foucault's history of truth Many blame Michel Foucault for our post truth and conspiracy laden society In this provocative work Daniele Lorenzini argues that such criticism fundamentally misunderstands the philosopher's project Foucault did not question truth itself but what Lorenzini calls the force of truth or how some truth claims are given the power to govern our conduct while others are not This interest Lorenzini shows drove Foucault to articulate a new ethics and politics of truth telling precisely in order to evade the threat of relativism The Force of Truth explores this neglected dimension of Foucault's project by putting his writings on regimes of truth and parrhesia in conversation with early analytic philosophy and by drawing out the possibilizing elements of Foucault's genealogies that remain vital for practicing critique today Lectures on the Will to Know M. comprehensively examines Indigenous filmmaking in North America as it analyzes in detail a variety of representative films

by Canadian and US American Indigenous filmmakers two films that contextualize the oral tradition three short films and four dramatic films The book explores how members of colonized groups use the medium of film as a means for cultural and political expression and thus enter the dominant colonial film discourse and create an answering discourse The theoretical framework is developed as an interdisciplinary approach combining postcolonialism Indigenous studies and film studies As Indigenous people are gradually taking control over the imagemaking process in the area of film and video they cease being studied and described objects and become subjects who create self controlled images of Indigenous cultures The book explores the translatability of Indigenous oral tradition into film touching upon the changes the cultural knowledge is subject to in this process including statements of Indigenous filmmakers on this issue It also asks whether or not there is a definite Indigenous film practice and whether filmmakers tend to dissociate their work from dominant classical filmmaking adapt to it or create new film forms and styles through converging classical film conventions and their conscious violation This approach presupposes that Indigenous filmmakers are constantly in some state of reaction to Western ethnographic filmmaking and to classical narrative filmmaking and its epitome the Hollywood narrative cinema The films analyzed are The Road Allowance People by Maria Campbell Itam Hakim Hopiit by Victor Masayesva Talker by Lloyd Martell Tenacity and Smoke Signals by Chris Eyre Overweight With Crooked Teeth and Honey Moccasin by Shelley Niro Big Bear by Gil Cardinal and Atanarjuat The Fast Runner by Zacharias Kunuk

The Passion of Michel Foucault James Miller, 2000 Based on extensive new research and a bold interpretation of the man and his texts The Passion of Michel Foucault is a startling look at one of this century's most influential philosophers It chronicles every stage of Foucault's personal and professional odyssey from his early interest in dreams to his final preoccupation with sexuality and the nature of personal identity
