My Mothers Body:

My Mother's Body Marge Piercy, 1985-03-12 My Mother's Body Marge Piercy's tenth book of poetry takes its title from one of her strongest and most moving poems the climax of a powerful sequence of Poems to her mother Rooted in an honest harrowing but ally ecstatic confrontation of the mother daughter relationship in all its complexity and intimacy it is at the same time an affirmation of continuity and identification The Chuppah comprises poems actually used in her wedding ceremony with Ira Wood This section sings with powerfully female love poetry There is also a sustained and direct use of her Jewish identity and faith in these poems as there is in a number of other poems throughout the volume Readers of Piercy's previous collections will not be surprised to encounter her mixture of the personal and the political her love of animals and the Cape landscape There are poems about doing housework about accidents about dreaming about bag ladies about luggage about children's fears of nuclear holocaust about tomcats insects in the rafters the influence of a name appleblossoms and blackberries pollution and some of the ways women objectify one another In Does the light fail us or do we fail the light Piercy writes with lacerating honesty about our relationships with the elderly and about hers with her father Some of the most moving poems are domestic as in the final sequence Six underrated pleasures which finds in daily women's tasks both pleasure and mystery affirmation of self and connection with the mother In all My Mother's Body is one of Piercy's most powerful and balanced collections
