Threads of Time Mugo Theuri, 2023-05-29 Mugo Theuri was plucked from his reporting job at the lawcourts in Nakuru after barely three months in post and driven to Nairobi for what would turn out to be 49 days of torture in the infamous Nyayo House. Jailed for four years, he joined the Liberation University study group in prison and emerged a much more thoughtful and reflective man. He uses personal memoir to thread his personal experiences into the historical events in the country and the world. His experience with the courts and his attempt to get justice for his wrongful imprisonment enable him to reflect on the justice system just as his average scholarship gives him clarity of how the country's systems and policies discriminate against the poor and frustrate the right to justice and education. The candour with which Threads of Time is rendered allows the reader into the writer's personal crisis in struggling to reconcile his father's public role as headman during the Mau Mau war of independence in a context where most of his family were guerrillas in the forest as well as his relationship with religion. Godey's Lady's Book, 1832. Includes music. Godey's Magazine, 1832. Loving My Strength Kelsey Adams, 2015-05-08 After surviving her abusive and challenging childhood, Giving Up Is Not an Option. Kelsey Adams shares the transformation of her adult life. She continues to have challenges with abusive relationships as far as unsuccessful marriages, her child's innocence lost, coping with two different parenting homes, the power of forgiveness and battling with drugs and mental disorder. But with the grace of God, she learns to surrender her life to him, Jesus Christ, who gives her strength to handle any challenges that are put in her life path. She hopes her story will inspire anybody in this world to love their strength and have faith in God no matter the situation. Security Insurance Company of New Haven v. Dazey, 1935. Pennsylvania Farmer Consolidated with the Pennsylvania Stockman and Farmer, 1924. The Sisters Antipodes Jane Alison, 2010-04-09 A wrenching, luminous memoir of how betrayal and divorce transformed two families and the lives of two young women. People. When Jane Alison was a child, her family met another that seemed like its mirror. Each had a father in the Foreign Service, a beautiful mother, and two little girls. The younger two, one of them Jane, even shared a birthday. With so much in common, the two families quickly became inseparable. Within months, affairs had ignited between the adults, and before long the pairs had exchanged partners, divorced, remarried, and moved on. As if in a cataclysm of nature, two families were ripped asunder and two new ones were formed. Two pairs of girls were left in shock, a silent numb shock like a crack inside stone, not enough to split it but inside quietly fissuring. And Jane and her stepsister were thrown into a state of wordless combat for the love of their fathers. This true story of their rivalry and the tragic loss that ultimately followed is a fascinating record of how adult behavior can shape or shatter a childhood. Spanning from Australia to the United States, it is enormously compelling. A harrowing journey of identity. Publishers Weekly starred review. Blackwood's Edinburgh Magazine, 1832.
