in New York's Hudson River Valley are a series of mysterious stone chambers and carved standing megaliths that have perplexed researchers of the paranormal and archaeologist for decades. What are the strange carvings and language written on the chambers' walls? Why are these structures built over areas of negative magnetic anomalies? Scientists and historians tend to write off these structures as colonial root cellars, but authors Philip Imbrogno and Marianne Horrigan, who have researched and studied the chambers for more than ten years, believe they are evidence that the East Coast of North America was explored by people from Europe centuries before Columbus. The ancient people who constructed these chambers may have been Druids who came to the new world in search of a gateway to the world of the gods. The paranormal and UFO phenomena associated with these stone chambers suggest they may indeed be windows to another reality. The book is a must-read for anyone who is interested in the paranormal, UFOs, and ancient archeology. If you like a real-life mystery, then this book will keep you enthralled from cover to cover.

Greenwich Time Philip Imbrogno has been investigating and researching paranormal phenomena for more than thirty years. He has a BS degree in astronomy from the University of Texas, a BS degree in Earth Science from Northeastern Boston College, and a Masters degree in chemistry from MIT. He has been a science educator for the past 25 years and has authored countless magazine articles, numerous newspaper columns, and several books on science and the paranormal. Marianne Horrigan is a paranormal researcher whose articles have appeared in Fate and UFO Universe. She has been involved in research projects at the Bowman Observatory in Greenwich, Connecticut, and has co-authored several books with Philip Imbrogno.

I'M an American Indian Priyanka Kamarthi, 2016-10-07 The author writes this book out of her experience with a few NRI friends, the stretch of imagination, and also a bit of concern for the NRI child. The book is about the NRI teen Donald Goswami, who had a comfortable and happy life at US along with his friends and hobbies. At 13 years of age, Goswami happened to shift to India suddenly because of his father's change in employment. Goswami, being brought up and stayed in US for quite a long time, had a lot of apprehension to come back to India and face various challenges. After coming back to India, he had to overcome the change in the school environment, attitude of teachers, friends, and relatives. Every day and every step initially was a challenge to him, and he had to face it with a lot of patience, especially in teen age. But due to his strong will, power, moral support of his mother, and a few good friends, he overcame all the challenges. Goswami wrote the happenings in a diary. Readers let us see what are the challenges Goswami has to face, how he overcame it, and was he happy and comfortable in the end.
