Here, Taste This H Smith,2015-01-23 This is a collection of metaphorical short stories created from bits of my life When you have a negative experience do you replay it over and over allowing it to build upon itself thereby magnifying those negative feelings On the other hand when you have a positive experience do you replay that over and over allowing it to build upon itself more and more feelings of joy Do you find yourself attributing more aspects of good to the experience because of the uplifting feelings it brought to you Couples who are in love often do this In either case the event is technically over with Have you let those experiences go or are you still living within them as if they were happening now If the experience was negative did you resolve it or did you just bury it within the deep recesses of your mind where it may be awakened from time to time in reaction to lifes continuing experiences If it was positive do you keep replaying it over and over as if there will be no more thereby preventing yourself from creating and enjoying even better ones Since the experiences however you would describe them have already happened you can now rewrite the memory or story of any of them in a way that allows you to let them go using the information and understanding you have assimilated since then If negative you can take the bitter foods of those experiences the spinach turnips and liver then add spices and sauces of understanding forgiveness and love and let them pass out of your consciousness leaving you free to create a buffet of even more tasteful and delicious life experiences The metaphorical foods that came my way may not have been ones I would have consciously chosen yet I have now made them palatable adding value to my life and allowing me to let them go and move on So can you This is a portion of my buffet of stories What are yours Catalog of Copyright Entries ,1946 Walking in Paradise Elizabeth Creelman,Libby Creelman,2000 Newfoundland writer Libby Creelman finds the emotional heart of her characters characters continually seeking and breaking connections with others though they rarely know it A girl welcomes cruelty into her life in an attempt to get closer to a father living with chronic pain A woman obsessed with her lineage draws her family into inheriting more than they bargained for A young boy burdened by the adults with whom he keeps company arrives at the end of a brief sailing trip directing their futures as well as his own A woman returns home to spend a weekend with old high school friends and at last understands something about her mother that had been trailing her for years Suddenly her voice turns soft almost tender But you know what you used to say at bedtime don t you You used to hold my face in your hands and say You re the best mommy in the universe She wants us to savour the image of me holding her face cherishing her reading her mind These are stories about dislocation and about home about leaving it returning to it needing it rejecting it crafted in a style that is controlled yet sympathetic It Only Looks Easy Pamela Swallow, 2009-04-27 A dog in peril A girl in big trouble These two best friends will need a miracle to get out of this mess The Publishers Weekly, 1982 Around the World on a Bicycle Fred A. Birchmore, 2020-05-01 This classic once hard to find travelogue recalls one of the very first around the world bicycle treks Filled with rarely matched feats of endurance and determination Around the World on a Bicycle tells of a young cyclist's ever changing and maturing worldview as he ventures through forty countries on the eve of World War II It is an exuberant youthful account harking back to a time when the exploits of Richard Byrd Amelia Earhart and other adventurers stirred the popular imagination In 1935 Fred A Birchmore left the small American town of Athens Georgia to continue his college studies in Europe In his spare time Birchmore toured the continent on a one speed bike he called Bucephalus after the name of Alexander the Great's horse A born wanderer Birchmore broadened his travels to include the British Isles and even the Mediterranean After a lengthy unplanned detour in Egypt Birchmore put his studies on hold pointed Bucephalus eastward and just kept going From desert valleys to frozen peaks from palace promenades to muddy jungle trails Birchmore saw it all on his eighteen month twenty five thousand mile odyssey Some of the people he encountered had never seen a bike or for that matter an Anglo European As a good travel experience should Birchmore's trip changed his outlook on strangers Always daring outgoing and energetic he now saw an innate goodness in people In between bone breaking spills wild animal attacks and privation of all kinds Birchmore learned that he had little to fear from human encounters That he traveled through a world on the brink of global war makes this lesson even more remarkable and timeless Bike Lanes are White Lanes Melody L. Hoffmann, 2016 The number of bicyclists are increasing in the United States especially among the working class and people of color In contrast to the demographics of bicyclists in the United States advocacy for bicycling has focused mainly on the interests of white upwardly mobile bicyclists leading to neighborhood conflicts and accusations of racist planning In Bike Lanes Are White Lanes scholar Melody L Hoffmann argues that the bicycle has varied cultural meaning as a rolling signifier That is the bicycle's meaning changes in different spaces with different people and in different cultures The rolling signification of the bicycle contributes to building community influences gentrifying urban planning and upholds systemic race and class barriers In this study of three prominent U S cities Milwaukee Portland and Minneapolis Hoffmann examines how the burgeoning popularity of urban bicycling is trailed by systemic issues of racism classism and displacement From a pro cycling perspective Bike Lanes Are White Lanes highlights many problematic aspects of urban bicycling culture and its advocacy as well as positive examples of people trying earnestly to bring their community together through bicycling My City, My New York Jeryl Brunner, 2011-10-04 What do famous people love to do during their free time in the Big Apple Like all New Yorkers even the well known among them have cherished rituals that connect them to their city in a unique way favorite restaurants delis museums parks galleries landmarks haunts and hideaways For one resident it may be watching tango dancers on Saturday nights in Central Park for another it's riding a bike over the Brooklyn Bridge to get a slice of Grimaldi's pepperoni pizza and a view of the Manhattan skyline from across the East River. Perhaps it entails choosing from the many varieties of bread at Rock Hill Bake House in the Union Square Greenmarket or simply walking across 46th Street and ending up at the great Broadway hangout Angus McIndoe. In a refreshing step beyond the usual travel guides and tourist listings My City My New York quotes VIPs and gives readers something truly unique: a chance to experience Manhattan the way its most notable luminary residents do. The activities and establishments included are diverse, often eclectic, and most importantly nonexclusive; you don't need to be a celebrity to enjoy them. While offering new and creative possibilities for exploration, My City New York is also a love letter to the Big Apple and will touch even the most jaded New Yorkers.

Catalog of Copyright Entries Library of Congress, Copyright Office, 1973. Run, Don't Walk Adele Levine, 2014-04-10. M A S H meets Scrubs in a sharply observant, darkly funny, and totally unique debut memoir from physical therapist Adele Levine. In her six years at Walter Reed Army Medical Center, Adele Levine rehabilitated soldiers admitted in worse and worse shape. As body armor and advanced trauma care helped save the lives of not the limbs of American soldiers fighting in Afghanistan and Iraq, Walter Reed quickly became the world leader in amputee rehabilitation. But no matter the injury, physical therapy began the moment the soldiers emerged from surgery. Days at Walter Reed were intense, chaotic, consuming, and heartbreaking, but they were also filled with camaraderie and humor. Working in a glassed-in fishbowl gymnasium, Levine, her colleagues, and their combat-injured patients were on display at every moment to tour groups, politicians, and celebrities. Some would shudder openly at the sight, but inside the glass and out of earshot, the PTs and the patients cracked jokes, played pranks, and compared stumps. With dazzling storytelling, Run Don't Walk introduces a motley array of oddball characters, including Jim, a retired lieutenant colonel who stays up late at night baking cake after cake, and the militant dietitian who is always after him, a surgeon who only speaks in farm analogies, a therapy dog gone rogue, and Levine's toughest patient, the wild, defiant Cosmo, who comes in with one leg amputated and his other leg shattered.

Entertaining, engrossing, and ultimately inspiring, Run Don't Walk is a fascinating look into a hidden world. Children's Book Review Index, 1985. The Ones That Bit Me! Marcus Taylor, 2024-08-08. By the time Marcus Taylor graduated from veterinary school at age 23, a sheep, a cow, a hawk, innumerable dogs, cats, parrots, and even a fish had locked their mandibles onto his flesh. Each bite only intrigued him further. From his first entanglement with a cow in ketosis in Canterbury to a beagle in heart failure in Newfoundland and all manner of adventures and heartbreak in between, this memoir of the early career of a young New Zealand vet is both heartwarming and hilarious. Found a Peanut Donald Margulies, 1984. THE STORY The setting is the backyard of a Brooklyn tenement on the last day of summer vacation where a group of children, aged five to fourteen, portrayed by adult actors, are at play. Finding a dying bird, they decide to have a ritual burial, which
