The Filipino Migration Experience Mina Roces, 2021-10-15. Winner of the New South Wales Premier's History Awards General History Prize 2022. The Filipino Migration Experience introduces a new dimension to the usual depiction of migrants as disenfranchised workers or marginal ethnic groups. Mina Roces suggests alternative ways of conceptualizing Filipino migrants as critics of the family and cultural constructions of sexuality as consumers and investors as philanthropists as activists and as historians. They have been able to transform fundamental social institutions and well-entrenched traditional norms as well as alter the business, economic, and cultural landscapes of both the homeland and the host countries to which they have migrated. Mina Roces tells the story of the Filipino migration experience from the perspective of the migrants themselves, drawing on underused primary sources from the migrant archives and more than seventy interviews. Bringing together migration studies and Filipina/o/x American studies, The Filipino Migration Experience explores how these migrants have profoundly reshaped the status quo.

The Last Day of Regret Matthew J. Diaz, 2019-03-30. I don't want to live anymore, my sister admitted to my parents when she was fourteen years old. This cry for help increased with time, and I would not fully grasp her inner demons until years after she died. Was it suicide? Was it an accident? Was it pre-planned or in the moment? At twenty-four years of age, my sister's life suddenly ended, and all I have left are my broken memories. Why did my compassion stop when she desperately needed it from me? These memories of guilt and the regret that I carry have brought me to my knees. This is a story about God picking me up again after the events leading up to and following my sister's last breath.

Adopted by Aliens Matt Zeigler, 2015-10-08. Matt Zeigler tells a part true sci-fi tale of his voluntary abduction into the U.S. Marine Corps. More than any organization on Earth, U.S. Marines are alien in both thoughts and actions. Zeigler recounts in vivid details how he was transformed from a high school jock into a trained killer. Part I delves into the author's mental, physical torture by his Drill Instructors at Parris Island.
