New Forms Of Work Organization In Europe:

New Forms of Work Organization in Europe Peter Grootings, Bjørn Gustavsen, Lajos Hächthy, A remarkable development in the sociology of work in recent years has been the explosion of brilliant cross national and cross cultural studies in Europe examining the conditions of labor against the background of different economic systems and differences within each of the major free market mixed welfare and planned economic systems that dot the European landscape In Vienna and Budapest in particular a group of intellectual workers have gotten together for what can only be described as breakthrough studies in the conditions and purposes of work in post industrial society The question of new forms of work organization focuses on job satisfaction participatory democracy in the work place levels of productivity and issues of health and safety in the occupational environment That these elements are important have long been known But what this collection of studies emphasizes is the specific mix that produced specific outcomes It does not shy away from dangerous and tough questions worker control and control of workers political participation in contexts of authoritarian regimes and personal rewards in contexts that once frowned upon private acquisition of capital The volume is rich in empirical studies and draws the theoretical implications that can and already have had vast policy consequences for workers in the modern context Issues relating to job rotation enrichment enlargement and autonomy and others related to new forms of organization starting with the shop floor and extending throughout the management of the enterprise as a whole are dealt with candidly The social character of labor long frowned upon as a mechanism for evading bread and butter issues is now recognized East and West as a dimension of concern that is growing precisely as the size and character of the labor sector is diminishing This is must reading for those interested in new forms of social and policy synthesis and ways of meliorating competing claims of different sectors in modern societies

Work Organization and Europe as a Development Coalition John Richard Ennals, Björn Gustavsen, 1999-01-01 This text proposes a development project within the field of work organisation with participation from across Europe It includes chapters on the nature and history of the idea of development coalition largely rooted in the Scandinavian experience and case studies from other European countries

Unions and Workplace Reorganization Bruce Nissen, 1997 Contains 11 essays dealing with trends in workplace reorganization and how unions should respond to these trends

Work and Organizational Psychology José María Peiró, 1995 This text presents a selection of contributions to the Sixth European Congress of Work and Organizational Psychology held in Alicante Spain in April 1993 some of which have been previously published in the European Work and Organizational Psychologist The contributions selected to appear in this volume focus on some of the principal questions scholars and professionals concerned with work and organizational psychology are tackling in Europe The range of topics theoretical approaches methodologies and orientations discussed illustrate the richness and variety of ideas currently studied in the discipline The topics addressed in this text have a clear significance for the current European scene of work and organizational psychology Although they are not the only ones the areas discussed present important trends and interests within the discipline The main sections include contributions which deal with psychological characteristics and processes of individuals at work work experiences and their relationship with psychological well being the study of work entry and work socialization the study of teamwork in organizations the study of leadership in organizations new forms of work and organization and the phenomenon of work in a social context This book is intended to be of relevance and interest to both academics and practitioners in the field of work and organizational psychology

Nordic Cooperation Johan Strang, 2015-07-16 The recent crises in global economy and in European integration have caused a considerable revival of interest in the Nordic Welfare Model However less attention has been given to the ways in which the nations that form Scandinavia or Norden are connected through various forms of inter and transnational cooperation With contributions from a team of experts in the field this volume analyses Nordic cooperation in a European perspective and argues that this special form of transnational cooperation has been crucial in the development of the Nordic Welfare Model In addition it also contends that the Nordic model of transnational cooperation is a relevant case study when pondering the present problems of European integration This text will be of key interest to students researchers and policy makers studying the Nordic Model and transnational cooperation and more generally to those interested in European studies Scandinavian studies welfare studies international relations and regional integration

Europe, Globalization and the Lisbon Agenda Maria Jo-o Rodrigues, 2009-01-01 The Lisbon Agenda aims to prepare Europe for globalization by updating European policies for research innovation competition trade employment education social protection environment and energy at both the European and national levels Designed to inspire the new cycle of the Lisbon Agenda until 2010 and beyond this timely and significant volume explores the intellectual elaboration of the agenda for the coming years With contributions from some of Europe's leading scholars this book explores new developments in the European agenda for globalization addressing four critical areas European policies their adaptation to national diversity in Europe their implications for the external action of the European Union and finally their implications for EU governance This book presents the outcome of an organized dialogue between the political and research communities Europe Globalization and the Lisbon Agenda will undoubtedly prove an outstanding addition to the current literature and will be an invaluable resource for European policy makers governments and academics from a wide range of disciplines who are concerned about the future competitiveness of Europe

Technology and the Future of European Employment Pascal Petit, Luc Soete, 2001 What is the potential of the new information and communication technologies This book assesses the relationship between technological change and employment in all its dimensions focusing on contemporary economies in Europe The authors discuss patterns

The Learning Economy and the Economics of Hope Bengt-Åke Lundvall, 2016-12 The Learning Economy and the Economics of Hope offers original insights in processes of innovation and learning and draws implications for economic theory and public policy The book introduces the reader to important concepts such as innovation systems and the learning economy It throws new light on economic development and opens up horizons for a new kind of economics the economics of hope Action Research in Workplace Innovation and Regional Development Werner Fricke, Peter Totterdill, 2004-04-29 The past is an increasingly unreliable guide to the future European workplaces and the regions in which they are located face unprecedented pressures and challenges Whereas in recent decades incremental adaptation has largely been sufficient to cope with external change it is no longer clear that this remains the case Globalisation technological development and dissemination political volatility patterns of consumption and employee expectations are occurring at a rate which is hard to measure The rate of change in these spheres is far outstripping the rate of organisational innovation in both European enterprises and public governance leading to a serious mismatch between the challenges of the 21st Century and the organisational competence available to deal with them In this context there is no clear roadmap The contributors to this volume address these issues and demonstrate that building the knowledge base required by actors in this volatile environment requires continuous dialogue and learning a context in which social partners regional policy makers and other participants share diverse knowledge and reflect on experience rather than seeking and imitating any notion of best practice Action Research has a crucial role to play embedding shared learning within the process of innovation

Partnership at Work Bill Roche, John Geary, 2006-09-27 During the mid 1990s a partnership was established between the Irish Ports Authority and its trade unions This volume traces the progress achievements and obstacles faced by the partnership based upon full access to the partners workforce and documentation and records of the initiative
