New Humanism The University Addresses Of Daisaku Ikeda:

A New Humanism Daisaku Ikeda, 2010-09-30 The natural sympathy and understanding of people everywhere must be the soil in which the new humanism can thrive For Daisaku Ikeda whose words these are education has long been one of the fundamental priorities of his work and teaching His emphasis on the intellectual legacy bequeathed to humanity by the great teachers of civilization is in this volume encapsulated by the notion of a new humanism a significant residue of wisdom that in the right circumstances may be passed on to future generations expanding horizons making connections between different cultures and encouraging fresh insights and new discoveries across the globe These circumstances are perhaps most fully realised in the context of universities In promoting his core values of education and peace the author has delivered lectures and speeches at more than twenty five academies colleges and research institutes worldwide This stimulating collection which includes the author's most recent lectures ranges widely across topics as diverse as art religion culture and time and draws creatively on the sages of ancient India China and Japan as well as on visionary thinkers from every nation including Tolstoy Victor Hugo and Gandhi

Daisaku Ikeda's Philosophy of Peace Olivier Urbain, 2010-03-30 Who is Daisaku Ikeda At one level he is the leader of a religious movement Soka Gakkai which began in Japan where it still has its headquarters but which now claims 12 million adherents around the world At another level he is a globetrotting figure whose formal conversations with diverse writers thinkers and diplomats including Arnold Toynbee Joseph Rotblat and Mikhail Gorbachev have garnered him an international profile as well as academic recognition Perhaps above all else Daisaku Ikeda is viewed as a campaigner for peace And it is Ikeda's specific contribution to peacebuilding notably through the central emphasis he has placed on the significance of dialogue that this book explores the first to do so in a concerted way Olivier Urbain shows that while Soka Gakkai the value society may stem from the medieval principles of Nichiren Buddhism under Ikeda's leadership it has taken these classic wisdoms and transformed them Now essentially classless and secularised as well as adaptable and sensitive to modern challenges like resource shortages and climate change this argues the author is a pragmatic approach to peace which has proved both popular and eminently transportable

Daisaku Ikeda, Language and Education Jason Goulah, 2016-04-08 Daisaku Ikeda b 1928 is an international Buddhist leader peacebuilder prolific author and the founder of the secular Soka kindergartens elementary and secondary schools women's college and universities in seven countries across Asia and the Americas He has emerged as an important educational philosopher and practitioner whose perspectives on dialogue value creation soka global citizenship and the deep inner transformation he calls human revolution have informed the curriculum and instruction of thousands of teachers not only at the Soka schools but also at numerous non Soka schools and universities around the world This volume brings together for the first time in English international scholars empirical and theoretical analyses of Ikeda's contributions to language and education in a global context This book was awarded the Critics Choice Book Award by the American Educational Studies Association in 2015 This book was originally published as a special issue of Critical Inquiry in Language Studies Daisaku Ikeda and Dialogue for Peace Olivier Urbain, 2013-08-09

The prominent Buddhist religious leader and advocate for peace Daisaku Ikeda has placed dialogue at the centre of his efforts towards securing global justice and conflict resolution. However far from constituting abstract plans for the future of the world, Ikeda's dialogues represent very concrete and focused activity. He concentrates on one significant individual such as Joseph Rotblat, Linus Pauling and Mikhail Gorbachev at a time or sometimes small groups in order to attempt the transformation of thinking and society through intense discussion. This book offers detailed exploration of this crucial aspect of Ikeda's philosophy of peace. Contributors examine topics such as the background to Ikeda's dialogic thinking as found in the Lotus Sutra, Buddhism as a practical philosophy of dialogue, Ikeda's use of dialogue specifically in the field of education and dialogue in relation to the abolition of nuclear weapons. Ikeda's concept of dialogue emerges as a paradoxical movement towards common ground based on respectful difference. This study will appeal to students of peace, politics and modern Buddhism.

Buddhist Environmental Humanism Anthony Le Duc, 2025-03-11

Since the emergence of the field of religious environmentalism, Buddhism has been a key resource in shaping a religious environmental ethics. This book contributes to the global dialogue on religion and ecology by introducing the concept of Buddhist environmental humanism as a framework for understanding Buddhism's response to the contemporary ecological crisis. The author argues that through a humanistic lens, Buddhist environmentalism offers a deeper understanding of how Buddhism addresses the pressing challenges facing humanity while also properly ascribing agency and responsibility to humans within the broader community of beings. Central to this proposal is a recognition of the essential human role within the ecological crisis while carefully avoiding the pitfalls of anthropocentrism and human chauvinism.

On Health and Long Life Daisaku Ikeda, 2016-11-01

Always concerned about the most basic problems confronting humanity, SGI President Ikeda here once again explores the four universal sufferings of birth, aging, sickness and death. In conversation with doctors and nurses, the SGI leader skillfully weaves Buddhist insights with the practical knowledge and personal experiences of his dialogue partners. What can we learn from our illnesses? How is the patient's attitude crucial to healing? How do parents affect their children's health? How much are our lives determined by our genes? What are constructive ways to approach aging? What are keys for effective health care? What roles do faith and SGI activities play in a long and fulfilling life? The answers to these and other questions in On Health and Long Life provide valuable perspectives to caring for the most valuable of treasures: our lives themselves.

Hope and Joy in Education Isabel Nuñez, Jason Goulah, 2021

Students, parents and educators at all levels are increasingly frustrated, demoralized, burned out and discontented with education and schooling today. At no previous time has it been more necessary to revitalize hope in the promise of education or to reestablish joy in teaching and learning than the current moment. In this timely and inspirational volume, authors from diverse disciplines consider and affirm the many places across curriculum and context where hope and joy are or can be strong and vibrant. Drawing on the life-affirming ideals of renowned education philosopher and school founder Daisaku Ikeda Hope and Joy in Education will reenergize educational research theory and practice Featuring contributions from such luminaries as Theodora Berry Cynthia Dillard Walter Gershon Francyne Huckaby Johnny Lupinacci and Anita Patterson this book reminds readers that the classroom is still a magical space brimming with the brilliant and creative energy of young people This is a necessary text at a necessary time if we are to revitalize hope in the promise of education From the Foreword by Cynthia B Dillard University of Georgia A beacon of light toward desirable collective futures in a world of increasing complexity uncertainty and vulnerability Ming Fang He Georgia Southern University These essays are just what we need in these turbulent uncertain times a thoughtful focus on hope and joy as the path to educating for a more just equitable relational and peaceful state of being Denise Taliaferro Baszile Miami University This insightful book urges educators to center hope and joy in our work not by turning away from the despair of the moment but by fostering dialogue seeking connection and always remembering that the true aim of education for teachers and students alike is to become more fully human Gregory Michie Chicago public school teacher

A Forum for Peace Olivier Urbain, 2014-06-02 Every year since 1983 the Buddhist leader and thinker Daisaku Ikeda has issued a peace proposal that presents solutions to a variety of global problems While the proposals themselves are both wide ranging and specific covering topics as diverse as counter terrorism relations the prohibition of child soldiers denuclearization of the Arctic and strategies to prevent global warming the common denominator at their center is the role and effectiveness of the United Nations in addressing structural challenges and inequality This substantial volume brings together for the first time in one place excerpts from the most topical and important of Ikeda's peace proposals Themes like human security the empowerment of women nuclear disarmament and the centrality of dialogue are throughout informed by an unshakeable belief in the potential and promise of the UN's world mission as well as by Ikeda's own experience of the cruelty of war and his articulation of Buddhism as a practical route to peace The book makes a timely and vital contribution to ethics peace studies and international relations

The Books of My Youth Daisaku Ikeda, 2020-08-01 Daisaku Ikeda's well known passion for reading leaps from the pages of The Books of My Youth This tour of world class literature he read as a young man books he says that helped form his life's spiritual framework will delight and inspire Here we meet heroes and heroines revolutionaries and villains We hear poets singing their praises of the human spirit We engage with philosophers who challenge the status quo as they illuminate a new way forward Come thrill to the discovery of how great literature can inform and bolster our Buddhist practice to bring peace and justice to the world today
