and policies related to transport networks They cover topical issues such as environmental benefits of substitution of aviation by high speed trains incident management impacts of aviation deregulation and time savings in freight transport The book also breaks new ground on the development of new methods of cost benefit analysis and other approaches in policy analysis

Globalization and Regional Economic Modeling Russel Cooper, Kieran Donaghy, Geoffrey Hewings, 2007-09-23

Globalization is affecting regional economies in a broad spectrum of aspects from labor market conditions and development policies to climate change To understand better how this works we need both conceptual and methodological contributions We need new schemes to organize our thinking direct our attention and frame thought experiments on the basis of which guidance may be offered And we need methodological innovations that enable us to carry out studies and thought experiments at levels of spatial and temporal resolution and formal complexity adequate to capture and account for the phenomena that characterize globalization The chapters of this volume written by an international cast of eminent regional scientists represent contributions of both types in many cases introducing and demonstrating the use of new tools for analyzing and understanding enormous changes underway in regional economies around the world International Symposium on Theory and Practice in Transport Economics Key Issues for Transport beyond 2000 15th International Symposium on Theory and Practice in Transport Economics, Tessaaloniki, Greece, 7th - 9th June 2000 European Conference of Ministers of Transport, 2002-06-07 A clear dichotomy exists between an European economy centred on international trade and the environmental damage to which this focus gives rise There is a need for a novel approach based on a shift away from the goal of ever faster travel and Cumulated Index to the Books, 1999
