contemporary history of education policy in the late twentieth century Some of the leading educationalists reflect on the major legislative and structural changes in the field over the last 25 years Education Reform Battle Mason

Ross,Al,2025-02-25 Education Reform Battle explores revolutionary France s ambitious yet ultimately incomplete attempt to replace religious education with a secular system aimed at forging a new citizenry During the French Revolution reformers sought to dismantle the Catholic Church s pervasive control over schooling viewing it as a tool of oppression The book details the struggle to implement universal literacy and instill republican values through curriculum development highlighting the profound tensions between secular and religious visions for shaping the nation s future The book examines the state of education before the revolution the initial decrees establishing a national system and the practical challenges of implementation For example the coles Centrales represented an alternative educational model By using primary sources like legislative documents and school reports the book provides a nuanced understanding of the interplay between ideology policy and practice The narrative unfolds across chapters detailing pre revolutionary education initial reforms implementation challenges and alternative models Ultimately the book reveals how deep ideological divisions and the enduring appeal of religious education hindered the revolution s secular aims This failure provides valuable lessons for contemporary debates on education policy curriculum and the role of religion in public life

Ideology, Culture & the Process of Schooling

Henry A. Giroux,1984-10 This book lays bare the ideological and political character of the positivist rationality that has been the primary theoretical underpinning of educational research in the United States These assumptions have expressed themselves in the form and content of curriculum classroom social relations classroom cultural artifacts and the experiences and beliefs of teachers and students Have existing radical critiques provided the theoretical building blocks for a new theory of pedagogy The author attempts to move beyond the abstract negative characteristics of many radical critiques which are often based on false dualisms that fail to link structure and intentionality content and process ideology and hegemony etc He also is critical of the over determined models of socialization and the abstract celebration of subjectivity that underlies much of the false utopianism of many radical perspectives Professor Giroux begins to lay the theoretical groundwork for developing a radical pedagogy that connects critical theory with the need for social action in the interest of individual freedom and social reconstruction Author note Henry A Giroux is Assistant Professor of Education at Boston University He is the co editor of Curriculum and Instruction Alternatives in Education and The Hidden Curriculum and Moral Education
