and GOs On the Air John Dunning, 1998-05-07 Now long out of print John Dunning's Tune in Yesterday was the definitive one volume reference on old time radio broadcasting Now in On the Air Dunning has completely rethought this classic work reorganizing the material and doubling its coverage to provide a richer and more informative account of radio's golden age Here are some 1 500 radio shows presented in alphabetical order The great programs of the 30s 40s and 50s are all here Amos n Andy Fibber McGee and Molly The Lone Ranger Major Bowes Original Amateur Hour and The March of Time to name only a few For each Dunning provides a complete broadcast history with the timeslot the network and the name of the show's advertisers He also lists major cast members announcers producers directors writers and sound effects people even the show's theme song There are also umbrella entries such as News Broadcasts which features an engaging essay on radio news with capsule biographies of major broadcasters such as Lowell Thomas and Edward R Murrow Equally important Dunning provides a fascinating account of each program taking us behind the scenes to capture the feel of the performance such as the ghastly sounds of Lights Out a horror drama where heads rolled and bones crunched and providing engrossing biographies of the main people involved in the show A wonderful read for everyone who loves old time radio On the Air is a must purchase for all radio hobbyists and anyone interested in 20th century American history It is an essential reference work for libraries and radio stations

The Great Radio Sitcoms Jim Cox, 2024-10-17 On January 12 1926 radio audiences heard the first exchanges of wit and wisdom between Sam n Henry the verbal jousters who would evolve into Amos n Andy and whose broadcasts launched the radio sitcom Here is a detailed look at 20 of the most popular such sitcoms that aired between the mid 1920s and early 1950s the three decade heyday of radio Each series is discussed from an artistic standpoint with attention to the program's character development and style of comedy as well as its influence on other shows The book provides complete biographical profiles of each sitcom's stars as well as several actors whose careers consisted primarily of supporting roles Appendices include an abbreviated summary of 13 sitcoms beyond those discussed in the main body of the book and a comprehensive list of 170 radio sitcoms Notes bibliography index

American Culture, American Tastes Michael Kammen, 2012-10-03 Americans have a long history of public arguments about taste the uses of leisure and what is culturally appropriate in a democracy that has a strong work ethic Michael Kammen surveys these debates as well as our changing taste preferences especially in the past century and the shifting perceptions that have accompanied them Professor Kammen shows how the post traditional popular culture that flourished after the 1880s became full blown mass culture after World War II in an era of unprecedented affluence and travel He charts the influence of advertising and opinion polling the development of standardized products shopping centers and mass marketing the separation of youth and adult culture the gradual repudiation of the genteel tradition and the commercialization of organized entertainment He stresses the significance of television in the shaping of mass culture and of consumerism in its reconfiguration over the past two decades Focusing on our own time Kammen discusses the use of the fluid nature of cultural taste to enlarge audiences and increase revenues and reveals how the public role of intellectuals and cultural critics has declined as the power of corporate sponsors and promoters has risen As a result of this diminution of cultural authority he says definitive pronouncements have been replaced by divergent points of view and there is as well a tendency to blur fact and fiction reality and illusion An important commentary on the often conflicting ways Americans have understood defined and talked about their changing culture in the twentieth century

Educating the Consumer-citizen Joel Spring,2003-05-14 In Educating the Consumer Citizen A History of the Marriage of Schools Advertising and Media Joel Spring charts the rise of consumerism as the dominant American ideology of the 21st century He documents and analyzes how from the early 19th century through the present the combined endeavors of schools advertising and media have led to the creation of a consumerist ideology and ensured its central place in American life and global culture Spring first defines consumerist ideology and consumer citizen and explores their 19th century origins in schools children s literature the commercialization of American cities advertising newspapers and the development of department stores He then traces the rise of consumerist ideology in the 20th century by looking closely at the impact of the home economics profession on the education of women as consumers and the development of an American cuisine based on packaged and processed foods the influence of advertising images of sports heroes cowboys and the clean shaven businessman in shaping male identity the outcomes of the growth of the high school as a mass institution on the development of teenage consumer markets the consequences of commercial radio and television joining with the schools to educate a consumer oriented population so that by the 1950s consumerist images were tied to the Cold War and presented as the American way of life in both media and schools the effects of the civil rights movement on integrating previously excluded groups into the consumer society the changes the women s movement demanded in textbooks school curricula media and advertising that led to a new image of women in the consumer market and the ascent of fast food education Spring carries the story into the 21st century by examining the evolving marriage of schools advertising and media and its ongoing role in educating the consumer citizen and creating an integrated consumer market This book will be of wide interest to scholars professionals and students across foundations of education history and sociology of education educational policy mass communications American history and cultural studies It is highly appropriate as a text for courses in these areas

Radio Drama and Comedy Writers, 1928-1962 Ryan Ellett,2017-11-02 More than 700 uncredited scriptwriters who created the memorable characters and thrilling stories of radio s Golden Age receive due recognition in this reference work For some radio was a stepping stone on the way to greater achievements in film or television on the stage or in literature For others it was the culmination of a life spent writing newspaper copy Established authors dabbled in radio as a new medium while working writers saw it as another opportunity to earn a paycheck When these men and women came to broadcasting they crafted a body of work still appreciated by modern listeners
