On Literary Attachment in South Africa Michael Chapman, 2021-09-01 This book reflects on the literary in literature Less ideologically construed more affirmative of literary attachment the study adopts a style of intimacy its tough love in a correlation between the creative work and the critical act Instead of configuring literary works to state of the nation issues the usual approach to literature from South Africa the chapters keep alive a space for conversation whether accented inwards to locality or outwards to the Anglophone world the world to which literature in South Africa continues to belong albeit as a problem child A postcolony that is not quite a postcolony South Africa is richly but frustratingly textured between Africa and the West or the South and the North Its literature hovering on the cusp of its locality and its global reach raises peculiar questions of reader reception epistemological and aesthetic frame and archival use Are the Nobel laureates Nadine Gordimer and J M Coetzee local writers or global writers Is the novel or the short story the more appropriate form at the edges of metropolitan cultures Given language race and culture contestation how do we recover Bushman expression for contemporary use How to consider the aesthetic appeal of two contemporaneous works one in English the other in isiXhosa the one indebted to Bloomsbury modernism the other to African custom How does Douglas Livingstone attach the Third World to the First World in both science and poetry What has a born free novelist Kopano Matlwa got to do with the Bard of Avon In a time of theorisation is it permissible for Lewis Nkosi to embody literary criticism in an autobiographical journey How to read the rupturing event the statue of Rhodes must fall through a literary sensibility Alert to the influence of critique

the study is equally alert to the limits of critique Reflecting on several writers works and events that do not feature in current publications On Literary Attachment in South Africa releases literature to speak to us today within the contours of its originating energy Walking Dead Man's Blog & Halloween Tales Gary L Morton,2010-07-22 Walking Dead Man s Blog is horror fiction with class and it moves through many unique plots and styles Gary Morton can write fiction of any length Something few authors can do He s offbeat then gruesome then straight horroror telling a ghost story or on a slug hunt The book moves through so many tales as to keep youalways turning the pages Frank Web Fright Library The Northern Nilo-Hamites G. F. Chapman,2003 Southern African Literatures is a major study of the work of writers from South Africa Zimbabwe Zambia Malawi Angola Mozambique and Namibia written at a time of crucial change in the subcontinent It covers a wide range of work from the storytelling of stone age Bushmen to modern writing by renowned figures such as Es kia Mphahlele Nadine Gordimer and Andr c Brink encompassing traditional popular and elite writing literature in translation and case studies based on topical issues Michael Chapman argues that literary history in the southern African region is best based on a comparative method which while respecting differences of language race and social circumstance seeks cultural interchange including translations of experience across linguistic and ethnic borders Instead of perpetuating division the study examines points of common reference as it asks what makes a literary culture Who are to be regarded as major and minor authors What are the strengths and limitations of local and international perspectives Should literature in today s southern Africa be confined to the art forms of poems plays and fiction The author seeks to answer these questions vital to all literary discussion in the volatile context of recent southern African history in a style accessible to the general reader The study is republished with a revised Preface in which the author considers the sometimes heated debates that accompanied the book s initial appearance Southern African Literatures in 2000 was awarded the premier Bill Venter Prize for academic literature in South Africa The Cumulative Book Index ,1989 A world list of books

Literatures in African Languages B. W. Andrzejewski,S. Pilaszewicz,W. Tyloch,1985-11-21 Although African literatures in English and French are widely known outside Africa those in the African languages themselves have not received comparable attention In this book a number have been selected for survey by fourteen specialist writers providing the reader with an introduction to this very wide field and a body of reference material which includes extensive bibliographies and biographical information on African authors Theoretical issues such as genre divisions are discussed in the essays and the historical social and political forces at work in the creation and reception of African literature are examined Literature is treated as an art whose medium is language so that both the oral and written forms are encompassed This book will be of value not only to readers concerned with the cultures of Africa but to all those with an interest in the literary phenomena of the world in general White Man's Game Stephanie Hanes,2025-06-25 A probing examination of Western conservation efforts in Africa where our feel good stories belie a troubling reality The stunningly beautiful Gorongosa National Park once the crown jewel of Mozambique was nearly destroyed by decades of civil war It looked like a perfect place for Western philanthropy revive the park and tourists would return a win win outcome for the environment and the impoverished villagers living in the area So why did some researchers find the local communities actually getting hungrier sicker and poorer as the project went on And why did efforts to bring back wildlife become far more difficult than expected In pursuit of answers Stephanie Hanes takes readers on a vivid safari across southern Africa from the shark filled waters off Cape Agulhas to a reserve trying to save endangered wild dogs She traces the tangled history of Western missionaries explorers and do gooders in Africa from Stanley and Livingstone to Teddy Roosevelt from Bono and the Live Aid festivals to Greg Carr the American benefactor of Gorongosa And she examines the larger problems that arise when Westerners try to fix complex messy situations in the developing world acting with best intentions yet potentially overlooking the wishes of the people who live there Beneath the uplifting stories we tell ourselves about helping Africans she shows often lies a dramatic misunderstanding of what the locals actually need and want A gripping narrative of environmentalists and insurgents poachers and tycoons elephants and angry spirits White Man s Game profoundly challenges the way we think about philanthropy and conservation
