Spilling the Beans in Chicanolandia Frederick Luis Aldama, 2006-04-01 Since the 1980s a prolific second wave of Chicano a writers and artists has tremendously expanded the range of genres and subject matter in Chicano a literature and art Building on the pioneering work of their predecessors whose artistic creations were often tied to political activism and the civil rights struggle today's Chicano writers and artists feel free to focus as much on the aesthetic quality of their work as on its social content. They use novels, short stories, poetry, drama, documentary films, and comic books to shape the raw materials of life into art objects that cause us to participate empathetically in an increasingly complex Chicano identity and experience. This book presents far-ranging interviews with twenty-one second-wave Chicano poets, fiction writers, dramatists, documentary filmmakers, and playwrights. Some are mainstream, widely recognized creators, while others work from the margins because of their sexual orientations or their controversial positions. Frederick Luis Aldama draws out the artists and authors on both the aesthetic and the sociopolitical concerns that animate their work. Their conversations delve into such areas as how the artists or writers' life experiences have molded their work, why they choose to work in certain genres and how they have transformed them, what it means to be Chicano in today's pluralistic society, and how Chicano identity influences and is influenced by contact with ethnic and racial identities from around the world.

Psst-- I Have Something to Tell You, Mi Amor Ana Castillo, 2005. Comprised of both a one-act and a two-act play, this powerful dramatic pairing centers on Sister Dianna Ortiz, who was kidnapped, raped, and tortured by U.S.-sponsored Guatemalan security forces in 1989.
