Redressing The Emperor Improving Our Childrens Public Mental Health System:

Redressing the Emperor John Lyons, 2004-07-30 Lyons provides a fresh and thought provoking understanding of the children's public mental health system as well as the need to foster its evolution and improvement. He presents the history of child mental health systems including the U.S. system's roots and the early 19th century case of the Wild Boy of Aveyron which demonstrated the potentially therapeutic effects of environment. He shows us why modern leaders and presidents have issued calls for improvements to the U.S. child mental health system and what barriers have slowed or even halted this evolution. Such barriers Lyons explains can be removed with community development and better clinical outcomes management. In addition to providing information for parents, family members and advocates for improving the lives of children needing mental health care, this work will also interest clinicians, policy makers and students in social work, clinical psychiatry, public health and public policy.

Parenting Mentally Ill Children Craig Winston LeCroy, 2011-03-03 This in depth exploration uses individual portraits to show what parents face as they love and care for their mentally ill children and cope with how the mental health system has failed them. The Surgeon General has identified children's mental illness as a national problem that creates a burden of suffering so serious as to be considered a health crisis. Yet what it means to be the parent of a mentally ill child has not been adequately considered until now. Parenting Mentally Ill Children Faith Caring Support and Survival captures the essence of caring for these youngsters providing resources and understanding for parents and an instructive lesson for society. Author Craig Winston LeCroy uses in depth interviews to chronicle the experiences of parents of mentally ill children as they attempt to survive each day, obtain needed help and reach out for support and he lets them share their misunderstood emotions of shame, anger, fear, guilt and powerlessness in the face of stigma from professionals, family and friends. The book concludes with a critical appraisal of the social policies that must be implemented to help and the reasons we should feel obligated to initiate them.

Transforming Children's Mental Health Policy into Practice Robert Cohen, Allison B. Ventura, 2016-12-20 This book examines the long term impact of service reform in children's mental health focusing on comprehensive state and local initiatives to improve care for children with serious behavioral health and their families to illustrate how programmatic and contextual forces influence policy and practice in this area and inform readers about strategies employed by policy makers, administrators and advocates to develop and sustain effective systems of care. This book looks at Virginia's effort to reform care for at risk youth as well as the transformational initiatives of six states and several localities. Using a comprehensive ecological framework the authors focus on a statewide transformation of services for children, youth with serious emotional and behavioral challenges to enhance understanding of the course and consequences of system change efforts over an extended period of time. Attention is given to the impact of this reform on individual children and families and local communities as well as the Commonwealth. Using data from states and localities efforts to develop comprehensive systems of care for children and families, this book enhances understanding of the dynamics of large scale human service reform efforts It describes how political economic social cultural and technological forces have shaped policy and practice offer lessons learned from these ambitious reform initiatives and provide guidance for those interested in improving care for vulnerable children and their families This book examines the long term impact of reform legislation employing a multi modal approach to enrich understanding of this ambitious reform effort Examples are provided to illustrate how CSA and other systems of care have impacted individual children and families as well as the interplay of local community dynamics and macro level policy and political processes This book also offers the first hand perspectives of individual consumers and families child advocates community based program providers and local and state wide administrators and policymakers By combining these multiple perspectives the authors provide a comprehensive perspective on the issues of child mental health services and related reform efforts

TEMAS (Tell-Me-A-Story) Assessment in Multicultural Societies Giuseppe Costantino, Richard H. Dana, Robert G. Malgady, 2020-08-26 Ethnic minority children now comprise over 75 percent of students in 100 of the largest cities in the United States However these students have not been given equal access to nor benefited from the contemporary mental health system as have their non minority peers TEMAS Tell Me A Story Assessment in Multicultural Societies examines the health mental care system in which professional service providers including psychologists labor to offer quality care for youth in the United States The authors ardently support the use of the TEMAS assessment instrument as a useful tool for diagnosis of all youngsters particularly its use on the growing population of minority children and adolescents Part I presents a rationale and context for employing TEMAS Introductory chapters describe the mental health status of the population at risk as well as systems of care for youth where assessment and intervention are components Topics to follow highlight a history of positive TEMAS test reviews with the detail required by instructors for preparing dedicated TEMAS courses The volume thoroughly outlines cross cultural studies and illustrates case examples of European American Hispanic Latino Asian American and forensic studies TEMAS Tell Me A Story Assessment in Multicultural Societies brings practical insight to instructors who teach standard assessment courses clinicians counselors and school psychologists assessment specialists and administrators concerned with mental health services designed for children and adolescents
