Ronald Firbank Memoirs And Critiques:

Ronald Firbank Mervyn Horder,1977 Ronald Firbank Steven Moore,1996 An annotated Bibliography of secondary Materials 1905 1955 The Ruling Passion Christopher Lane,1995 In The Ruling Passion Christopher Lane examines the relationship between masculinity homosexual desire and empire in British colonialist and imperialist fictions at the turn of the twentieth century Questioning the popular assumption that Britain's empire functioned with symbolic efficiency on sublimated desire this book presents a counterhistory of the empire's many layers of conflict and ambivalence Through attentive readings of sexual and political allegory in the work of Kipling Forster James Beerbohm Firbank and others and deft use of psychoanalytic theory The Ruling Passion interprets turbulent scenes of masculine identification and pleasure power and mastery intimacy and antagonism By foregrounding the shattering effects of male homosexuality and interracial desire and by insisting on the centrality of unconscious fantasy and the death drive The Ruling Passion examines the startling recurrence of colonial failure in narratives of symbolic doubt and ontological crisis Lane argues compellingly that Britain can progress culturally and politically only when it has relinquished its residual fantasies of global mastery Vainglory Ronald Firbank,2012-05-31 The fairly young and entirely alive Mrs Shamefoot wants nothing more than to have a memorial stained glass window erected in her honour in an English cathedral From this premise the inimitable Ronald Firbank extends his witty eccentric Vainglory with a crowded cast of hilariously drawn characters Winsome Brooks Lady Anne Pantry Miss Wookie Mrs Barrow of Dawn and Mrs Steeple a riot of parties and a bottomless sense of the ridiculous Admired by Auden Forster and Waugh Firbank's fine comic skill quick fire dialogue and descriptive flights of fancy are perfectly captured in Vainglory his first and longest novel as well as in two novellas included here Inclinations and Caprice Angela Carter's Pasts Sarah Gamble,Anna Watz,2025-02-20 This book provides a fresh look at Angela Carter's critical and intertextual engagements with the past Examining a broad range of Carter's work novels short stories poetry as well as stage plays the essays in this collection explore a stimulating selection of topics including folk song medieval literature magic realism and the occult Frequently drawing on newly available archival material the volume lays out the ways in which Carter wove allusions into her own narratives creating a lively and challenging dialogue with the cultural materials of the past and present This volume will appeal both to scholars and students of contemporary women's writing critical theory gender studies and British fiction The Turn of the Century/Le tournant du siècle Christian Berg, Frank Durieux,Geert Lernout,2012-06-21 No detailed description available for The Turn of the Century Le tournant du siècle The Routledge Companion to Theatre-Fiction Graham Wolfe,2023-11-14 Novelists have long been attracted to theatre Some have pursued success on the stage but many have sought to combine these worlds entering theatre through their fiction setting stages on their novels pages and casting actors directors and playwrights as their protagonists The Routledge Companion to Theatre Fiction has convened an international community of scholars to explore the remarkable array of novelists from many eras and parts of the world who have created fiction from the stuff of theatre asking what happens to theatre on the pages of novels and what happens to novels when they collaborate with theatre From J W Goethe to Louisa May Alcott Mikhail Bulgakov Virginia Woolf and Margaret Atwood some of history's most influential novelists have written theatre fiction and this Companion discusses many of these figures from new angles But it also spotlights writers who have received less critical attention such as Dorothy Leighton Agust n de Rojas Villandrando Ronald Firbank Syed Mustafa Siraj Li Yu and Vicente Blasco Iba ez bringing their work into conversation with a vital field A valuable resource for students scholars and admirers of both theatre and novels The Routledge Companion to Theatre Fiction offers a wealth of new perspectives on topics of increasing critical concern including intermediality theatricality antitheatricality mimesis diegesis and performativity

Decadence and Catholicism Ellis Hanson, 1997. Romantic writers had found in Christianity a poetic cult of the imagination, an assertion of the spiritual quality of beauty in an age of vulgar materialism. The decadents, a diverse movement of writers, were the climax and exhaustion of this romantic tradition. In their art, they enacted the romance of faith as a protest against the dreariness of modern life. Ellis Hanson teases out two strands, eroticism and aestheticism, that rendered the decadent interest in Catholicism extraordinary. More than any other literary movement, the decadents explored the powerful historical relationship between homoeroticism and Roman Catholicism. Why, throughout history, have so many homosexuals been attracted to Catholic institutions that vociferously condemn homosexuality? This perplexing question is pursued in this elegant and innovative book. Late nineteenth-century aesthetes found in the Church a peculiar language that gave them a means of artistic and sexual expression. The brilliant cast of characters that parades through this book includes Oscar Wilde, Charles Baudelaire, J. K. Huysmans, Walter Pater, and Paul Verlaine. Art for these writers was a mystical and erotic experience. In decadent Catholicism, we can glimpse the beginnings of a postmodern valorization of perversity and performativity. Catholicism offered both the hysterical symptom and the last hope.
