Sibton Abbey Cartularies and Charters Sibton Abbey, 1988 The English and the Normans Hugh M. Thomas, 2003-04-10 Since the Anglo Norman period itself the relations between the English and the Normans have formed a subject of lively debate For most of that time however complacency about the inevitability of assimilation and of the Anglicization of Normans after 1066 has ruled This book first challenges that complacency then goes on to provide the fullest explanation yet for why the two peoples merged and the Normans became English Drawing on anthropological theory the latest scholarship on Anglo Norman England and sources ranging from charters and legal documents to saints lives and romances it provides a complex exploration of ethnic relations on the levels of personal interaction cultural assimilation and the construction of identity As a result the work provides an important case study in pre modern ethnic relations that combines both old and new approaches and sheds new light on some of the most important developments in English history

Dating Undated Medieval Charters Michael Gervers, 2002 Many of the millions of medieval charters surviving in European archives and repositories were written without any reference to a date of issue The proliferation of undated charters in England and Normandy indicates that the custom was especially peculiar to lands under Norman rule but charters issued by major religious houses are often also undated The DEEDS Project at the University of Toronto has developed a computerised methodology for dating charters relying on analysis of vocabulary syntax and formulae In this volume an international group of scholars concerned with the problem of charter chronology consider the potential of the computerised methodology compared to other more traditional methods of dating such as identification of names changing in wording and address and handwriting Discussion also touches on regional differences in the production use and distribution of charters and on ways both manual and mechanical to date and analyse the content of large numbers of them MICHAEL GERVERS is Director of the DEEDS Project at the University of Toronto Canada Contributors MICHAEL GERVERS RODOLFO FIALLOS MARJORIE CHIBNALL V RONIQUE GAZEAU BENOIT MICHEL TOCK NICHOLAS VINCENT GEORGES DECLERCQ ZSOLT HUNYADIR ATTILA ZSOLDOS MARIA HILLEBRANDT TREVOR CHALMERS LAZSLO VESZPR MI P D A HARVEY ANDRAS GRYNÆUS JOZSEF PALFY

Charters Duchess Constance Br Judith Everard, Michael C. E. Jones, 1999 Ducal charters illuminate politics external relations and the conduct of government and also Breton society and institutions The indispensable charter collection for the Breton lands in the complex period of the break up of the Angevin hegemony ENGLISH HISTORICAL REVIEW Around 1200 sovereignty over the duchy of Brittany was disputed by the Angevin kings of England and the Capetian kings of France With few local chronicle sources concerning Brittany in this important period ducal charters provide crucial evidence for politics external relations and the conduct of government They are also an essential source for Breton society and institutions in a period of rapid change and development Collected here for the first time are the acts of Duchess Constance 1171-1201 her mother dowager duchess Margaret of Scotland Constance's three husbands Geoffrey son of King Henry II Ranulf III earl of Chester and Guy de Thouars and her three children Eleanor Arthur of Brittany and Alice who succeeded in 1213 to a duchy under Capetian sovereignty The subject matter concerns not only Brittany but also the Breton rulers extensive lands in England the honour of Richmond and even the counties of Anjou Maine and Touraine while they were under Arthur's rule The charters are also of wider general significance for the light they cast on the exercise of political power by female rulers

Magna Carta Ancestry: A Study in Colonial and Medieval Families, 2nd Edition, 2011, Inward Purity and Outward Splendour Judith Middleton-Stewart, 2001 A record of material and spiritual gifts to churches compiled from 3000 wills made over 180 years Reads like a medieval detective story A splendid book should be treated as a companion volume to The Stripping of the Altars JULIAN LITTEN CHURCH TIMES In the late medieval churches of the former deanery of Dunwich there are many features which were provided by testamentary gifts this study of three thousand wills from fifty-two Suffolk parishes written between 1370 and 1547 records such material and spiritual bequests Many purchased prayer the prayers of the poor being particularly sought vital for the swift passage of the soul through Purgatory other testators left instructions for the acquisition of liturgical books church plate and embroidered vestments Gifts and outright donations also provided stained glass seven sacrament fonts and rood screens which have survived The wills give no hint of the destruction that was to come a medieval chancel with vacant niches and whitewashed walls says more than the wills are prepared to tell but the pennies and shillings which had helped towards building expenses in this coastal district of East Anglia produced at least two of the finest parish churches in the country within a few decades of the Reformation The late JUDITH MIDDLETON

STEWART was a tutor for the Board of Continuing Education for the universities of Cambridge and East Anglia Suffolk Charters, 1996 War and Society in Medieval and Early Modern Britain Diana E. S. Dunn, 2000 Nine historians examine three English civil wars that during King Stephen's reign the Wars of the Roses and that of the 17th century Their concern is with the interaction of war and society rather than with details of individual campaigns and battles They place the conflicts within the wider European context and developments in warfare on the continent Distributed in the US by ISBN's c Book News Inc The Commercialisation of English Society, 1000-1500 R. H. Britnell, 1996 The commercialisation of English society offers a major new interpretation of social and economic change in England over five centuries By 1500 English livelihoods depended more upon money and commercial transactions than ever before the institutional framework of markets had been transformed and urban development was more pronounced These changes were not however caused by any unilinear development of population output or money supply This pioneering study examines both institutional and economic transformation and the social changes that resulted and stresses the limited importance of formal trading institutions for the development of local trade Commercial transition is throughout analysed from a broader perspective that looks at the changing power relations within medieval society which might loosely be described as feudal and considers how these relations were affected by such commercial development

The Life and Passion of William of Norwich Thomas of Monmouth, 2014-09-25 A fascinating surviving chronicle from 12th century England which holds a unique and terrible place in the history of anti-Semitism The Life and Passion of William of Norwich gives a remarkable insight into life in a medieval cathedral city brilliantly capturing the everyday concerns of ordinary people and focussing on the miraculous cures carried out at a shrine But this was no ordinary shrine fervent worshippers gathered around the burial place where they believed that a boy was buried a boy murdered by the Jews of Norwich A chilling highly significant document The Life and Passion of William of Norwich is as far as we know the earliest version of what was to become the blood libel which has haunted Europe ever since Miri Rubin both superbly translates the book and in her introduction interprets the sequence of events that led to the monk Thomas of Monmouth's appalling narrative The consequences of his fantasies have been incalculable

Medieval English Conveyances J. M. Kaye, 2009-10-01 This study of the documents used in medieval England for the creation and transfer of interests in real property is the first book devoted exclusively to the subject since the publication of Thomas Madox's Formulare Anglicanum in 1702 The transactions covered include grants in fee and in perpetual alms leases for life and for years exchanges surrenders and releases Analysis of each kind of transaction is partly by way of commentary on the formulae of deeds selected from the many thousands found in published cartularies and collections and partly by relating the deeds to the relevant law of their periods as found in early treatises decided cases and the Year Books The aim is to enable readers to identify and categorise deeds accurately to appreciate their legal effects and to note instances where the practice of conveyancers and their clients differed from what is supposed to have been the law

The Bigod Earls of Norfolk in the Thirteenth Century Marc Morris, 2005 Study of one of the most influential aristocratic families of medieval England The Bigods were one of the most powerful and important families in thirteenth century England They are chiefly remembered for their dramatic interventions in high politics Roger III Bigod c 1209-70 famously led the march on Westminster Hall in 1258 against Henry III while Roger IV Bigod 1245-1306 confronted Edward I in 1297 in similar fashion This book is the first full scale study of these two earls and explores in depth the reasons that led each of them to take the extreme step of confronting his king It is only in part however a political study In seeking to understand the motives that lay behind their public actions the book scrutinizes the earls' private affairs It establishes for the first time the precise extent of their landed estate the size of their incomes and the membership and quality of their affinities It also examines their relationships with friends and relatives their building works and even their personalities Extensive use is made throughout of unpublished establishment and development of a range of different sized episcopal and conventual foundations Contrary to the views espoused by a number of prominent historians of technology since the 1930s the book demonstrates that patterns of mill acquisition innovation and exploitation were shaped not only by the size wealth and distribution of a house s estates but also by environmental and demographic factors changing cultural attitudes and legal conventions prevailing and emergent technical traditions the personal relations of a house with its patrons tenants servants and neighbours and the entrepreneurial and administrative flair of bishops abbots priors and other ecclesiastical officials
