Mediterranean Winter Robert D. Kaplan, 2011-11-23 In Mediterranean Winter Robert D Kaplan the bestselling author of Balkan Ghosts and Eastward to Tartary relives an austere haunting journey he took as a youth through the off season Mediterranean The awnings are rolled up and the other tourists are gone so the damp cold weather takes him back to the 1950s and earlier a golden intensely personal age of tourism Decades ago Kaplan voyaged from North Africa to Italy Yugoslavia and Greece luxuriating in the radical freedom of youth unaccountable to time because there was always time to make up for a mistake He recalls that journey in this Persian miniature of a book less to look inward into his own past than to look outward in order to dissect the process of learning through travel in which a succession of new landscapes can lead to books and artwork never before encountered Kaplan first imagines Tunis as the glow of gypsum lamps shimmering against lime washed mosques the city he actually discovers is even more intoxicating He takes the reader to the ramparts of a Turkish kasbah where Carthaginian Roman and Byzantine forts once stood I could see deep into Algeria over a rib work of hills so gaunt it seemed the wind had torn the flesh off them In these austere and aromatic surroundings he discovers Saint Augustine the courtyards of Tunis lead him to the historical writings of Ibn Khaldun Kaplan takes us to the fifth century Greek temple at Segesta where he reflects on the ill fated Athenian invasion of Sicily At Hadrian's villa Shattered domes revealed clouds moving overhead in countless visions of eternity It was a place made for silence and for contemplation where you wanted a book handy Every corner was a cloister No view was panoramic each seemed deliberately composed Kaplan's bus and train travels his nighttime boat voyages and his long walks in one archaeological site after another lead him to subjects as varied as the Berber threat to Carthage the Roman army's hunt for the warlord Jugurtha the legacy of Byzantine art the medieval Greek philosopher Georgios Gemistos Plethon who helped kindle the Italian Renaissance twentieth century British literary writing about Greece and the links between Rodin and the Croatian sculptor Ivan Mestrovic Within these pages are smells tastes and the profundity of chance encounters Mediterranean Winter begins in Rodin's sculpture garden in Paris passes through the gritty streets of Marseilles and ends with a moving epiphany about Greece as the world prepares for the 2004 Summer Olympics in Athens Mediterranean Winter is the story of an education It is filled with memories and history not the author's alone but humanity's as well

Baughan,2013 In Couched in Death Elizabeth P Baughan offers the first comprehensive look at the earliest funeral couches in the ancient Mediterranean world These sixth and fifth century BCE klinai from Asia Minor were inspired by specialty luxury furnishings developed in Archaic Greece for reclining at elite symposia It was in Anatolia however in the dynastic cultures of Lydia and Phrygia and their neighbors that klinai first gained prominence not as banquet furniture but as burial receptacles For tombs wooden couches were replaced by more permanent media cut from bedrock carved from marble or limestone or even cast in bronze The rich archaeological findings of funerary klinai throughout Asia Minor raise intriguing questions about the social and symbolic meanings of this burial furniture Why did Anatolian elites want to bury their dead on replicas of
