

The book cover features a stylized illustration of a young girl with exceptionally long, flowing black hair. She is wearing a vibrant red robe with wide sleeves and is depicted in a graceful, seated or crouching pose. The background is a dark, moody landscape with a large, gnarled tree trunk on the right and a blue sky with green foliage visible in the upper left. The title and author information are enclosed in a rectangular frame on the right side of the cover.

Legend of the Chinese Spy T.H. Henning, Helen C. Henning, 2010-02-25 Here is the enthralling tale of Lu Wong Di a Chinese who spies for Chinese emperors He murders a Chinese gate guard and is cursed by a witch to never die until he learns the value of a single human life The curse sends him on an adventurous journey covering six centuries of Chinese history In the pursuit of his own salvation he falls in love marries and has children only to watch them age and die while he remains a young man He questions man's search for immortality and searches for a cure to the witch's curse A Buddhist monk leads him to a vampire who debates him on the question of the value of human beings and tells him to seek out the tomb of the first Emperor of China for the answers he seeks He and his partner Xiancia encounter bandits pirates typhoons floods disease a dragon a demon and ghosts in their quest for the answer to find the value of a single human life They uncover ancient secrets of the Book of Three Curses and the Three Mirrors of Fate and question their own values as they travel across the vast deserts and mountains of Asia Necropolis (The Gatekeepers #4) Anthony Horowitz, 2012-04-01 The stakes get higher in 1 NYT bestselling author Anthony Horowitz's latest masterpiece As the fourth novel in the spellbinding Gatekeepers series begins the world is under the greatest threat it's ever known The evil corporation Nightrise has amassed an immense amount of power and the devastating force of the Old Ones is about to be unleashed around the globe To stop this from happening Matt and three of the Gatekeepers head to Hong Kong not just the modern city of skyscrapers and wealth but the secretive underworld beneath In Hong Kong they will meet the final Gatekeeper a girl named Scarlet whose fate is inextricably joined to their own Animated Encounters Daisy Yan Du, 2019-02-28 China's role in the history of world animation has been trivialized or largely forgotten In Animated Encounters Daisy Yan Du addresses this omission in her study of Chinese animation and its engagement with international forces during its formative period the 1940s 1970s She introduces readers to transnational movements in early Chinese animation tracing the involvement of Japanese Soviet American Taiwanese and China's ethnic minorities at socio historical or representational levels in animated filmmaking in China Du argues that Chinese animation was international almost from its inception and that such border crossing exchanges helped make it Chinese and subsequently transform the history of world animation. She highlights animated encounters and entanglements to provide an alternative to current studies of the subject characterized by a preoccupation with essentialist ideas of Chineseness and further questions the long held belief that the forty year period in question was a time of cultural isolationism for China due to constant wars and revolutions. China's socialist era, known for the pervasiveness of its political propaganda and suppression of the arts, unexpectedly witnessed a golden age of animation. Socialist collectivism reinforced by totalitarian politics and centralized state control allowed Chinese animation to prosper and flourish artistically. In addition, the double marginality of animation, a minor art form for children coupled with its disarming qualities and intrinsic malleability and mobility, granted animators and producers the double power to play with politics and transgress ideological and geographical borders while surviving censorship both at home and abroad. A captivating and enlightening history, Animated Encounters will attract scholars and students of world film and animation studies, children's culture, and modern Chinese history.

Chinese Fairy Tales and Legends Frederick H. Martens, Richard Wilhelm, 2019-09-19 Fearless heroes, feisty princesses, sly magicians, terrifying dragons, talking foxes, and miniature dogs. They all feature in this enthralling compendium of Chinese fairy tales and legends along with an array of equally colourful characters and captivating plots. Although largely unknown in the West, the 70 plus stories in this volume are just as beguiling as the more familiar Grimms Fairy Tales or Arabian Nights. They were collected in the early 20th century by Richard Wilhelm and first translated into English by Frederick H. Martens. This beautifully produced, revised and edited new edition includes updated notes which not only provide background on the tales but also offer a fascinating insight into ancient Chinese folk lore and culture. These are stories to return to time and time again. From awesome adventures to quirky allegories, from the exploits of the gods to fables about beggars who outwit their betters, Chinese Fairy Tales and Legends is extraordinarily diverse and endlessly engaging. These wonderful stories have enduring and universal appeal and will intrigue both children and adults.

Pianos and Politics in China Richard Curt Kraus, 1989 During the Cultural Revolution, the piano, the musical embodiment of Western culture, became the object of intense hostility. This book examines the evolution of China's ever changing disposition towards European music and Western influences generally.

Chinese Films Abroad Yves Gambier, Haina Jin, 2024-04-02 This book examines Chinese films made and shown abroad roughly between the 1920s and the 2020s, from the beginning of the international exchange of the Chinese national film industry to the emergence of the concept of soft power. The periodisation of Chinese cinema's does not necessarily match the political periods; on the one hand, the technical development of the film industry and the organisation of translation in China, and on the other hand, official relations with China and translation policies abroad, impose different constraints on the circulation of Chinese films. This volume deals with the distribution and translation of films from mainland China, Taiwan, Hong Kong, and the Chinese diaspora. To this end, the contributors address various issues related to the circulation and distribution of Chinese films, including co-

productions agents of exchange and modes of translation The approach is a mixture of socio cultural and translational methods The data collected provides for the first time a quantitative overview of the circulation of Chinese films in a dozen foreign countries The book will greatly interest scholars and students of Chinese cinema translation studies and China studies
