Food for War Alan F. Wilt,2001-09-20 Food for War is a ground breaking study of Britain s food and agricultural preparations in the 1930s as the nation once again made ready for war Historians writing about 1930s Britain have usually focused on the Depression appeasement or political military and industrial concerns None have dealt adequately with another significant topic food and agriculture as the nation moved albeit reluctantly from peace to war In this new account Alan F Wilt makes right this omission by examining in depth the relationship between food agriculture and the nation s preparations for war He reveals how food and agriculture became closely linked to rearmament as early as 1936 that the government s preparations in this sector as contrasted with other areas of the economy were relatively well developed when war broke out in 1936 and that rural and farm interests well understood the effect that war would have on their way of life He argues that food and agriculture need to be integrated into the more general historical discourse for what happened in Britain in the 1930s not only set the stage for World War II but also contributed to a more robust agriculture in the decades that followed Faith on the Home Front Stephen Parker,2005 Issued also as the author s thesis Ph D University of Birmingham 2003
