Sadness Expressions in English and Chinese Ruihua Zhang,2014-09-25 Winner of the Tianjin Social Science Outstanding Achievement Award This book reports on the contrastive semantic investigation of sadness expressions between English and Chinese based on two monolingual general corpora and a parallel corpus The exploration adopts a unique theoretical approach which integrates corpus linguistic theories on meaning as a social construct usage and paraphrase with a corpus linguistic lexical model It employs a new complex but workable methodology which combines computational tools with manual examination to tease meaning out of corpus evidence to compare and contrast lexical items that do not match up neatly between languages It looks at sadness expressions both within and across languages in terms of three corpus linguistic structural categories i.e. colligation, collocation and semantic association preference and paraphrase both explicit and implicit to capture their subtle nuances of meaning disclose the culture specific conceptualisations encoded in them and highlight their respective cultural distinctiveness of emotion. By presenting multidisciplinary original work Sadness Expressions in English and Chinese will be of interest to researchers in corpus linguistics, contrastive lexical semantics, psychology, bilingual lexicography and language pedagogy.

Recent Developments in the Law of the Sea and China Myron Nordquist, John Norton Moore, Kuen-Chen Fu, 2005-11-01. The focus of this book is on current ocean law and policy issues, particularly in the region around China. A main emphasis is a comprehensive survey of Chinese positions on potential flashpoints such as delimitation in the East China Sea and South China Sea. Other topical subjects covered by both Chinese and outside experts are integrated: coastal zone management, oil and gas development in the region, fishery management and enforcement, global advancements in marine science, commercial navigation challenges, and protection of underwater cultural heritage sites. The authors make clear that there is a strong shared commitment to cooperative solutions over maritime disputes within the framework of the 1982 UN Convention on the Law of the Sea The work will be useful to anyone concerned with law of the sea in general and the evolving attitudes of States near China in particular
