Look Im Growing Up:

Growing Up in Central Australia Ute Eickelkamp, 2011-06-01 Surprisingly little research has been carried out about how Australian Aboriginal children and teenagers experience life shape their social world and imagine the future This volume presents recent and original studies of life experiences outside the institutional settings of childcare and education of those growing up in contemporary Central Australia or with strong links to the region Focusing on the remote communities roughly 1 200 across the continent the volume includes case studies of language and family life in small country towns and urban contexts These studies expertly show that forms of consciousness have changed enormously over the last hundred years for Indigenous societies more so than for the rest of Australia yet equally notable are the continuities across generations

Better Now Than Forever Shelley Tan, 2023-01-01 Char thought she had a perfect life She was married to a successful surgeon who was kind committed and willing to provide Char with anything that made her happy What made her happy besides her perfect marriage was her dressage horse Mystic never mind the cost And now that a new trainer was moving to Blue Ribbon from Hamburg Germany she would have the ability to take her dressage riding to the highest level possible With everything going so perfectly Char shouldn't have had any reason not to be happy But something had been missing in her relationship with Dr Kelley otherwise known around the hospital as Dr Dreamy and she couldn't figure out what it was When Char finally met Petra the new dressage trainer Char became more than just a little star struck She was quite frankly infatuated and wanted to spend every waking second at the barn and with her What was going on Char was afraid of the answer What would happen to her and her perfect life How would she be able to afford her privileged lifestyle and her horse including the dressage lessons that she had grown so accustomed to enjoying Perhaps she was simply going through a mid life crisis or was in awe of the new trainer from Germany Ultimately Char knew she must find out She became more afraid of not knowing than of what the truth might reveal

The Generation of Postmemory Marianne Hirsch, 2012 Can we remember other people's memories? This book argues that we can: that memories of traumatic events live on to mark the lives of those who were not there to experience them. In these revised critical readings of the literary and visual legacies of the Holocaust, Hirsch builds on her influential concept of postmemory.

Women in Ugarit and Israel Hennie J. Marsman, 2021-10-01 In this volume the presupposition is investigated whether women in a polytheistic society had a better position than women in a monotheistic society. To this end the social and religious position of women in Ugarit according to its literary texts is compared to that of women in Israel according to the Hebrew Bible while the wider context of the ancient Near East is also taken into consideration. After an overview of feminist biblical exegesis the book discusses the roles of women in the family and in society. It also provides an analysis of the roles of women as religious specialists and as worshippers. Finally the data on the position of women in the literary texts is compared to that in non literary texts.

Shattered Life Nathan Goethe, 2017-11-03 Sometimes I can't think straight sometimes I don't even know how to react. My mom's died when I was just nine years old my brother Trayvon was three I was traumatized about what I had saw that night and besides I never wanted my mom to die I mean who would? So much stuff was going through my head That was eight years ago that was the last I saw of her

Growing Up in Ancient Israel Kristine Henriksen Garroway, 2018-11-16 The first expansive reference examining the texts and material culture related to children in ancient Israel. Growing Up in Ancient Israel uses a child-centered methodology to investigate the world of children in ancient Israel. Where sources from ancient Israel are lacking the book turns to cross-cultural materials from the ancient Near East as well as archaeological, anthropological, and ethnographic sources. Acknowledging that childhood is both biologically determined and culturally constructed the book explores conception, birth, infancy, dangers in childhood, the growing child, dress, play, and death. To bridge the gap between the ancient world and today's world Kristine Henriksen Garroway introduces examples from contemporary society to illustrate how the Hebrew Bible compares with a Western understanding of children and childhood Features More than fifty five illustrations illuminating the world of the ancient Israelite child An extensive investigation of parental reactions to the high rate of infant mortality and the deaths of infants and children An examination of what the gendering and enculturation process involved for an Israelite child Modern Criticism Walter E. Sutton, Walter Sutton, 1965 Migration Across Boundaries Parvati Nair, Tendayi Bloom, 2016-03-03 Bringing together scholars and practitioners from a range of disciplinary backgrounds working in Europe North and South America South Asia and the Middle East this volume explores the question of how to ensure that migration research feeds back into improving the lives of migrants It emphasises the necessarily interdisciplinary and cross boundary nature of migration research offering methodological recommendations to anyone studying or working in the field and showing how migration studies can usefully affect real contexts by better exploring the potential that exists for both bridging academic disciplines and building links with work that occurs beyond strictly academic forums Organised around the themes of methodological considerations and interdisciplinary approaches the experiences of migrants as researchers and interaction between practitioners policy makers and academics Migration Across Boundaries discusses the realities of the discourses that surround international migration examining the proper role of academia in bringing together a range of stakeholders to formulate dialogic approaches to understanding migration An international and interdisciplinary contribution to our understanding of how research in migration can be brought to bear on the experiences of migrants and linked to the work of activists artists and policy makers this book will appeal not only to scholars and students of migration across the social sciences but also to those working in the fields of migrant advocacy and activism *Jüdische Kunstmusik im 20.
