Margarete Schütte-Lihotzky. Architecture. Politics. Gender. Marcel Bois, Bernadette Reinhold, 2023-06-19 A pioneer of architectural history, Margarete Schütte-Lihotzky (1897-2000) entered the modernist canon with her Frankfurt Kitchen. She is also considered a pioneer of social architecture, a women's rights activist, and last but not least, a heroine of the resistance to the Nazi dictatorship. In this book, available in English for the first time, recent research in the fields of art history, contemporary history, pedagogy, and gender studies provides a nuanced picture of Schütte-Lihotzky, whose estate is archived at the University of Applied Arts Vienna. The volume explores her rich architectural oeuvre, her transnational experiences, and professional networks, her political development as a Communist, and her current reception. It breaks through the mythology to present a rounded picture of Schütte-Lihotzky, an icon of architectural history. First comprehensive publication on Margarete Schütte-Lihotzky in English. Cross-disciplinary research contributions by renowned authors. Foreword by Juliet Kinchin. Illuminates Schütte-Lihotzky's fascinating work alongside the Frankfurt Kitchen.

Night-time and Sleep in Asia and the West Lodewijk Brunt, Brigitte Steger, 2004-06-01 Ideas and practices concerning sleep and night time are constantly changing and widely varied in different cultures and societies. What we do during the day and night is the result of much political struggle. Trade unions, political parties, entrepreneurs, leaders, and schools boards all have an interest in questions of timing for the opening and closing of shops, the starting hours of schools and factories, and the number of hours people have to work and sleep. By drawing together comparative case studies from countries in both Asia and Europe, Night-time and Sleep in Asia and the West allows the reader to track the differences in the cultural importance given to the night and to compare the ways in which the challenges and opportunities of modernity have been played out in the East and the West.

Art Nouveau and the Classical Tradition Richard Warren, 2017-12-14 Art Nouveau was a style for a new age, but it was also one that continued to look back to the past. This new study shows how in expressing many of their most essential concerns sexuality death and the nature of art its artists drew heavily upon classical literature and the iconography of classical art It challenges the conventional view that Art Nouveau s adherents turned their backs on Classicism in their quest for new forms Across Europe and North America artists continued to turn back to the ancient world and in particular to Greece for the vitality with which they sought to infuse their creations The works of many well known artists are considered through this prism including those of Gustav Klimt Aubrey Beardsley and Louis Comfort Tiffany But breaking new ground in its comparative approach this study also considers some of the movement s less well known painters sculptors jewellers and architects including in central and eastern Europe and their use of classical iconography to express new ideas of nationhood Across the world while Art Nouveau was a plural style drawing on multiple influences the Classics remained a key artistic vocabulary for its artists whether blended with Orientalist and other iconographies or preserving the purity of classical form Fashion Akiko Fukai, Kyōto Fukushoku Bunka Kenkyū Zaidan, 2002 Illustrates a wide range of historical garments underwear shoes and fashion accessories dating from the eighteenth century to the present day German Façade Design Randall Ott, 2016-09-17 German architecture prior to the modern period has received less systemic analytical study than that of Italy France and Britain Scholarly discussion of broad traditions or continuities within Germanic or Central European fa ade design is even sparser Baroque era studies of the region mostly devote themselves to isolated architects monuments or movements Modernism s advent decisively changed this Germanic architecture enjoyed sudden ascendancy Yet even so study specifically of that region s fa ades still lagged nothing compares to the dozens of treatments of Le Corbusier s fa ade systems for example and how these juxtapose with French neoclassical or Italian Renaissance methods Given the paucity of multi period studies one can be forgiven for believing Germany s effervescence of radical modern works seems unprecedented This book takes up these multiple quandaries It identifies and documents a previously unrecognized compositional tradition characterized here as the screen fa ade and posits it as a counter narrative critiquing the essentialist authentic canon currently dominant in Western architectural history By crossing evenly over the dividing line between the historical and modern periods it offers valuable insights on indigenous roots underlying some aspects of Germany s invigorating early twentieth century architectural developments The book chronologically examines 400 years of closely related facades concentrated in Germany but also found in Austria the Czech Republic German speaking Switzerland and nearby areas of Central Europe While nearly 75 buildings are mentioned and illustrated a dozen are given extensive analysis and the book focuses on the works of three architects Schinkel Behrens and Mies Relationships between examples of these three architects fa ades far transcend mere homage amongst masters Glimmers of the system they eventually codify are apparent as early as at Heidelberg Castle in 1559 and Nürnberg s Rathaus in 1622 The book argues that in Germany northern Gothic affinities for bisection intense repetition and rote aggregation intersected with southern Classical affinities for symmetry hierarchy and centrality thereby spawning a unique hybrid product the screen Instead of graphic formality this study is guided by on site perceptions propositional contrasts means of approach interpretive conflicts and emotion and it relates the design of these fa ades to concepts proposed by contemporary philosophers including Novalis Hegel Nietzsche Freud Adorno and most importantly Gadamer on hermeneutics Robert Venturi and Denise Scott Brown: Learning from Las Vegas Kester

Brandow-Faller,2020-06-22 Decorative handcrafts are commonly associated with traditional femininity and unthreatening docility However the artists connected with interwar Vienna s female Secession created craft based artworks that may be understood as sites of feminist resistance In this book historian Megan Brandow Faller tells the story of how these artists disrupted long established boundaries by working to dislodge fixed oppositions between art and craft decorative and profound and masculine and feminine in art Tracing the history of the women s art movement in Secessionist Vienna from its origins in 1897 at the Women s Academy to the Association of Austrian Women Artists and its radical offshoot the Wiener Frauenkunst Brandow Faller tells the compelling story of a movement that reclaimed the stereotypes attached to the idea of Frauenkunst or women s art She shows how generational struggles and diverging artistic philosophies of art craft and design drove the conservative and radical wings of Austria s women s art movement apart and explores the ways female artists and craftswomen reinterpreted and extended the Klimt Group s ideas in the interwar years Brandow Faller draws a direct connection to the themes that impelled the better known explosion of feminist art in 1970s America In this provocative story of a Viennese modernism that never disavowed its ornamental decorative roots she gives careful attention to key primary sources including photographs and reviews of early twentieth century exhibitions and archival records of school curricula and personnel Engagingly written and featuring more than eighty representative illustrations The Female Secession recaptures the radical potential of what Fanny Harlfinger Zakucka referred to as works from women s hands It will appeal to art historians working in the decorative arts and modernism as well as historians of Secession era Vienna and gender history buildings act with people and among people in the performances of life This collection of essays reveals a deep alliance between architecture and the performing arts uncovering its roots in ancient stories and tracing a continuous tradition of thought that emerges in contemporary practice With fresh insight the authors ask how buildings perform with people as partners rather than how they look as formal compositions They focus on actions the door that offers the possibility of making a dramatic entrance the window that frames a scene and the city street that is transformed in carnival The essays also consider the design process as a performance improvised among many players and offer examples of recent practice that integrates theater and dance This collection advances architectural theory history and criticism by proposing the lens of performance as a way to engage the multiple roles that buildings can play without reducing them to functional categories By casting architecture as spatial action rather than as static form these essays open a promising avenue for future investigation For architects the essays propose integrating performance into design through playful explorations that can reveal intense relationships between people and place and among people in place Such practices develop an architectural imagination that intuitively asks How might people play out their stories in this place and How might this place spark new stories Questions such as these reside in the heart of all of the essays presented here Together they open a position in the intersection between everyday life and staged performance to rethink the role of architectural design Vienna ,1970
