The Emergence of American Occidentalism in Literature and Culture Muthanna Al-Janabi, 2025-10-28 The book presents an innovative conceptualization of Western thought casting the discourse of black and white intellectuals and politicians as a treatise on Occidentalism. It envisions American Occidentalism as an inner discourse where Critical Occidentalists interact textually and historically in response to the prevailing crosscurrents. To capture this narrativity, the first chapter establishes the book's new terminology, rereads ancient Greek texts, and critiques the works of key anthropologists like James G. Carrier and Fernando Coronil, as well as cultural theorists such as Hassan Hanafi, Xiaomei Chen, and Ian Buruma, and Avishai Margalit. The other three chapters analyze the Occidentalist tendency in the discursive official and intellectual practices of the Early Republic, the twentieth century, and the twenty-first century. Ideal for scholars and individuals interested in postcolonial theory, African American literature, and political sciences, this book challenges readers to see the Occident not as a fixed entity but as a dynamic, self-critical tradition.

Does God Make the Man? Stewart M. Hoover, Curtis D. Coats, 2015-10-02 Many believe that religion plays a positive role in men's identity development, with religion promoting good behavior and morality. In contrast, we often assume that the media is a negative influence for men, teaching them to be rough and violent and to ignore their emotions. In Does God Make the Man, Stewart M. Hoover and Curtis D. Coats draw on extensive interviews and participant observation with both Evangelical and non-Evangelical men, including Catholics as well as Protestants, to argue that neither of these assumptions is correct. Dismissing the easy notion that media encourages toxic masculinity and religion is always a positive influence, Hoover and Coats argue that not only are the linkages between religion, media, and masculinity not as strong and substantive as has been assumed, but the ways in which these relations actually play out may contradict received views Over the course of this fascinating book they examine crises contradictions and contestations crises about the meaning of masculinity and about the lack of direction men experience from their faith communities contradictions between men s religious lives and media lives and contestations among men s ideas about what it means to be a man The book counters common discussions about a crisis of masculinity showing that actual men do not see the world the way the crisis talk has portrayed it and interestingly even Evangelical men often do not see religion as part of the solution The SAGE Handbook of Writing Development Roger Beard,Jeni Riley,Debra Myhill,Martin

Nystrand,2009-07-23 By drawing on international cross phase and cross disciplinary research perspectives this book offers a comprehensive review of writing development invaluable for researchers and practitioners alike
