

A woman with dark hair is looking upwards with a determined expression. The background is a dramatic, stormy sky with dark, swirling clouds and a bright, glowing light source, possibly a lightning bolt or a bright sun breaking through, creating a strong contrast and highlighting the woman's face and hair. The overall mood is intense and powerful.

My Life Through The Fire:

My Life Through the Storm, the Fire, and the Rain Linda Tyler, 2021-03-29 Born 1970 in Georgia Linda Tyler was the fifth child of her mother's six children I birthed three children of my own in 1986 having had my first child at age sixteen Dropping out of high school at age fifteen Later birthing two more children at age nineteen and around twenty three Still struggling to find my purpose in life taking to the streets at an early age only to realize looking for love in all the wrong places would lead me down a path of self destruction Soon I found myself walking in my own mother's footsteps birthing children that I wasn't caring for raising nurturing and teaching them how to grow and to become smart respectable loving moral and vibrant young men and women Later in life in the early 2000s I went back to school and received my diploma This was a huge accomplishment for me I knew without education I would be stagnant in my growth in life Another great accomplishment happen also in the early 2000s I met a nice guy who later became the love of my life who later on became my husband Romeo Lewis who inspired me to be a better woman mother person etc A man that made me fill whole again A man that became a huge father figure that my children didn't have A man that loved all his children and grandchildren as well that loves his family unconditionally I want to share my story to inspire and help other young adults out there that maybe facing some of the same hardships as myself Don't give up and don't give in we all have a purpose to fulfill in one's lifetime Keep the faith and if you fall get back up Ecclesiastes 9:11 reads The race is not won to the swift but to the one who endureth till the end PS if I can do it so can you

The Fire of Your Life Maggie Ross, 2007 A life professed solitary and mystic under vows to the Archbishop of Canterbury Ross writes with the wonder and energy of a spiritual poet In this new edition of a spiritual classic she shares one year of her solitude in seasonal meditations that include encounters with lynxes and coyotes reflections on the summer solstice and desire for union with God An excellent source of sermon ideas In one essay Ross reveals the two comments she receives most are You don't look like a hermit followed by What do you do in solitude She answers I don't do I be Only an experienced mystic could put the emphasis on being and not doing Being in solitude Ross has plenty of time to savor the beauties and the bounties of the natural world and animals She does both here We were also impressed with pieces on the importance of an informing vision the value of chastity and the difficulty of intercessory prayer We are always on the lookout for passages on unity and here is one we liked It is that my sin and your sin consists not in isolated small or gross acts committed or omitted by our choices and actions or in some vague isolated theoretical attitude but instead that we you and I by virtue of our common humanity and in the solitude from which true relationship springs come to realize that we are implicated in every sin I am the pimp on 42nd Street dealing in bodies I am the pusher selling drugs to an addict nodding and drooling in Needle Park I am the employee ripping off my corporation I am the industrialist pouring poison into the bodies and by advertising into the souls of my sisters and brothers I am the driver of the military juggernaut careening wildly out of control I struggle impotently to express who I really am
