Painting and Private Life in Eleventh-century China Robert E. Harrist, Gonglin Li, 1998 In the eleventh century the focus of Chinese painting shifted dramatically The subject matter of most earlier works of art was drawn from a broadly shared heritage of political religious and literary themes Late in the century however a group of scholar artists began to make paintings that reflected the private experiences of their own lives Robert Harrist argues here that no work illuminates this development more vividly than Mountain Villa a handscroll by the renowned artist Li Gonglin ca 1041 1106 Through a detailed reading of the painting and an analysis of its place in the visual culture of Li s time the author offers a new explanation for the emergence of autobiographic content in Chinese art Harrist proposes that the subject of Li's painting his garden in the Longmian Mountains was itself a form of self representation since a garden was then considered a reflection of its owner's character and values. He demonstrates also that Li's turn toward the imagery of private life was inspired by the conventions of Chinese lyric poetry in which poets recorded and responded to the experiences of their lives. The book draws the reader into the artistic, scholarly and political world of Li Gonglin and shows the profound influence of Buddhism on Chinese painting and poetry. It offers important insights not just into Chinese art but also into Chinese literature and intellectual history.

A Life Post-1939 Autobiography Rajinder Sharma, 2020-11-22 I was created by Indian parents in a British colony of East Africa in 1939. Despite some disasters in my early life, I was able to progress and experience the joy of existence. After starting work as an engineer in Kenya, I ended up spending most of my working life in Britain. For fifty years, I travelled around our fabulous globe both for my work and for my pleasure. My dedication is for the people on my planet who had brought me into existence, educated me and enabled me to have life experiences around our unique globe.

in the Getty's Central Garden Jim Duggan, 2003 Plants in the Getty's Central Garden is Jim Duggan's sequel to the book Robert Irwin Getty Garden. Lawrence Weschler's account of the making of the Central Garden at the Getty Center in Los Angeles. Designed by contemporary artist Robert Irwin, this sculpture in the form of a garden, aspiring to be art, draws thousands of visitors each year. One of the key collaborators who helped Irwin realize his vision, Jim Duggan, is in his own words a hands-on gardener. His knowledge and experience were invaluable as Irwin selected the plants that would make up the interwoven tapestry of the Central Garden. This colorful guide brings together informative descriptions of the growing habits and characteristics of nearly four hundred individual plants, with beautiful images by noted garden photographer Becky Cohen. Duggan provides suggestions for cultivating the plants, many of which will be unfamiliar to gardeners in Southern California. Also included in the book are a foreword by Robert Irwin, three essays by Duggan tracing his involvement with the project a map of the Central Garden a plant location guide and an index of scientific and common names
