My Mother Played The Piano:

My Mother Played the Piano John William Smith, 1997 If you are already a John William Smith fans you are eager to read this volume of his refreshing stories of home If you haven't yet become acquainted with Smith's writing you will know from the first story why he has become one of America's favorite storytellers A Mother's Story B. Lawrence Maryann B. Lawrence, 2010-03 This touchingly honest memoir A Mother's Story Memories from the Turtle Creek Valley follows the life of author Maryann B. Lawrence from early childhood through the Great Depression into the uncertain years of World War II followed by the fabulous 1950s and beyond Her story offers a slice of small town life from bygone days on the hill known as Electric Plan in the small town of Turtle Creek in beautiful southwestern Pennsylvania This captivating story also provides a historic glimpse into the lives of her parents and immigrant grandparents as they assimilated into American culture and society We witness their challenges and their joys By providing a detailed and fascinating look at her entire family we gain a greater understanding and appreciation of the contribution that was made by each family member This delightful true to life account follows Maryann into marriage motherhood and maturity in a conversational style that warms your heart My Bare Lady Velvet Amour, 2017-11-07 As I climbed into a large basket in the centre of the stage I was terrified On the other side of this vast wall of red curtains was an audience of 200 people And here I was a country girl wearing a costume I made from the curtains in my caravan Inside my basket I was so nervous I felt sick What am I doing How am I going to pull this off Then it occurred to me how the hell am I going to get out of this basket without toppling over I could hear the emcee start my introduction And now the glamorous the gorgeous Velvet Amour performing the Dance of the Seven Veils The music started and then it happened All the people the nerves and fear washed away I elegantly flowed out of the basket and became someone else No longer a frightened young girl from the bush I was powerful I was magnificent I was home My Bare Lady is the autobiography of one of Australia's original burlesque queens It is a story of sacrifice and joy failure and success pain and pleasure Discover how Velvet became one of Australia's brightest stars and how she waded through the gritty underworld she had to overcome to get to the top Other People's Houses Lore Segal, 2014-09-09 With a foreword by Cynthia Ozick this semiautobiographical novel of a Jewish girl forced away from home in the face of Nazi persecution is an extraordinary tale of fortitude and survival On a December night in 1938 a ten year old girl named Lore is put on the Kindertransport a train carrying hundreds of Jewish children out of Austria to safety from Hitler's increasingly alarming oppression Temporarily housed at the Dover Court Camp on England's east coast Lore will find herself living in other people's houses for the next seven years the Orthodox Levines the Hoopers the working class Grimsleys and the wealthy Miss Douglas and Mrs Dillon Charged with the task of asking the English people to get her parents out of Austria Lore discovers in herself an impassioned writer In letters to potential sponsors she details the horrors happening back at home in those to her parents she notes the mannerisms and reactions of the new families around her as she valiantly tries to master their language And the closer the world comes to a new war the more resolute Lore becomes to survive As powerful now as when it was first released fifty years ago Other People s Houses is a poignant tale about the creation of a new life in the face of hopelessness and fear a hallmark of the postwar immigration experience Sounding Our Way Home Susan Miyo Asai,2024-01-18 A product of twenty five years of archival and primary research Sounding Our Way Home Japanese American Musicking and the Politics of Identity narrates the efforts of three generations of Japanese Americans to reach home through musicking Using ethnomusicology as a lens Susan Miyo Asai examines the musical choices of a population that historically is considered outside the racial and ethnic boundaries of American citizenship Emphasizing the notion of national identity and belonging the volume provokes a discussion about the challenges of nation building in a democratic society Asai addresses the politics of music interrogating the ways musicking functions as a performance of social cultural and political identification for Japanese Americans in the United States Musicking is an inherently political act at the intersection of music identity and politics particularly if it involves expressing one s ethnicity and or race Asai further investigates how Japanese American ethnic identification and cultural practices relate to national belonging Musicking cultivates a narrative of a shared history and aesthetic between performers and listeners The discourse situates not only Japanese Americans but all Asians into the Black white binary of race relations in the United States Sounding Our Way Home contributes to the ongoing struggle for acceptance and equal representation for people of color in the US A history of Japanese American musicking across three generations the book unveils the social and political discrimination that nonwhite immigrants and their offspring continue to face when it comes to finding acceptance in US society and culture TriQuarterly 130 Susan Hahn,2008-04 David Kirby Charles Baxter David H Lynn Marie Myung Ok Lee Barbara Hamby Mary Morris Debora Greger Reginald Shepherd Amit Majmudar Page Hill Starzinger Ricardo Pau Llosa Julianna Baggott G E Murray Patrice de La Tour du Pin translated from the French by Jennifer Grotz R T Smith Rebecca Rasmussen Steven A Dabrowski Celeste Ng Nancy Eimers Chard deNiord Laura Kasischke Derek Mong Judith Valente Debra Nystrom John J Clayton Erika Dreifus David Wagoner Charlie Smith Pimone Triplett Megan Harlan Jonathan Fink Corey Marks Anne Harding Woodworth The Life and Letters of Charles Darwin Charles Darwin,1919 Charles Darwin's Works: The life and letters of Charles Darwin... ed. by his son, Francis Darwin. 2v Charles Darwin,1896 The Fallacy of Assignable Gender Transcendent Publications,2007-09-05 Humans often encounter expectations that they behave differently from the people they are Many left handed people have trod lightly on this path When internalized such conflicts can be profoundly disconcerting and must be resolved Each transgendered person contending with her or his suppressed gender identity exists in a continual state of such conflict That person is and is not the child adolescent and adult she or he has learned to be Experience and reflection will ultimately prove that essential identity is far different from education and endeavor Even inevitably recurring brief secret episodes of release merely reconfirm the transgendered persons implacable obsession rather than providing respites from it

Such a conflict will not because it cannot resolve itself The focus of The Fallacy of Assignable Gender is gender identity conflict The work begins with an intimately personal account of a forty year struggle with that conflict The condition is examined from the perspectives of medical science religion political theory the arts and others Perhaps as compelling as the nature of the condition is societys reaction to it Fifteen common mischaracterizations share an apparent determination by those who proffer them to ignore or reject what has been learned at great cost Each straw man is explored and refuted A four step plan is presented whose goal is elimination of gender identity suppression Whether the readers interest is personal or professional ending the social and economic scourge of suppressed gender identity will require a broad concerted effort Its undertaking is long overdue
