Why We Need to Love Our Neighbors Dr. Walter Wade, 2013-01-17 Book Summary All of us are being influenced by the relationships we have established with other people our neighbors What kind of relationships do you have with your neighbors and why should you care If you are like most persons there will be times when you will find it difficult getting along with the other people you will encounter throughout the course of your life The types of relationships we establish are important because of the influence they will have in determining the quality of our life You must learn how to have good relationships with other people if you want to experience the very best that life has to offer Dr Wade has written a book that will show you how with Gods help you can improve the quality of your relationships with other people This may seem difficult to do at first but it is well worth the effort Make improving your relationships with other people a priority and you will forever change your life for the better About the Author Dr Walter H Wade is a native of Chicago and an Associate Professor at the Baylor College of Medicine in Houston Texas He is a graduate of Carthage College and received his medical training at the University of Illinois College of Medicine the Medical College of Wisconsin and Johns Hopkins University School of Public Health He has specialty expertise in rehabilitation medicine and a special interest in medical ethics He is currently living in the Houston area with his wife and son The Ethics of Design for User Needs Turkka Keinonen, 2024-08-01 This book offers an inquiry into the ethics of human needs capture for design purposes by drawing upon ethical theories and narratives Designers have historically relied upon the satisfaction of human needs as a moral justification for their profession This volume offers an alternative critique to challenge this perspective arguing that seeking to satisfy needs doesn't offer sufficient moral justification on its own It presents an extensive ethical analysis of the notion of need and develops a thought provoking case for a plural reconceptualisation of the notion of need as user based knowledge about product and service improvement opportunities It does this by drawing upon a range of ethical approaches including Soran Reader s needs ethics classical utilitarianism Robert Nozick s libertarian philosophy and John Rawls theory of justice The book goes on to link these approaches to concepts guiding design such as human centred design collaborative design and end user innovation Written as a dialogue between a designer and his consciousness the book underlines the deliberative nature of applied design ethics and also highlights how consciousness challenges designers to solve their moral dilemmas This engaging format invites readers to become an intimate part of the discussion This book will be of interest to students and academics studying product design industrial design interaction design user experience design design ethics and sustainable development

Walking and Talking with Jesus One Day at a Time Pauline Romano, 2020-03-10 I have always loved writing poetry and I have always written poems for my family and friends for different special occasions in a rhyming format But ever since I was baptized and became a Christian I felt this urge in my heart to put into words how good it makes me feel as I talk with Jesus every day I read my Bible every day and I love the New Testament I always read a small booklet called Our Daily Bread which has scriptures and a short one page story for each day of the month I was inspired by this little book I really enjoy reading it I m hoping my book will make it easier for the working people to get in a little time to talk to our Lord and Savior every day On their way to work they ride the bus or if they carpool or maybe even during their lunchbreak I also hope to reach retired people who might be at home alone and might find some comfort by reading my book It might also help them learn where a few passages are in the Bible
