Invitations to Literacy James David Cooper,1997      Poems for Building Reading Skills Level 4 Timothy Rasinski,Brod Bagert,2010-02-20 Support reading comprehension through analyzing poems written in engaging student voices for poetic devices word choice and meaning Coauthored by renowned fluency expert Timothy Rasinski this resource allows students to read perform and explore poetry and its elements while also learning to write their own original poetry With research based activities and lessons focused on developing reading comprehension students will become completely immersed in language and reading The included Audio CD allows students to hear the poems read fluently and with expression      My Pet at the Vet Laura Stickney,2025-08 While decoding words with short vowel sounds beginning readers can learn about the important work vets do to keep pets safe and healthy      Teaching Compassion: Humane Education in Early Childhood Mary Renck Jalongo,2013-07-23 In response to highly publicized incidents of school violence educators across the United States and in many other nations are seeking effective ways to prevent and modify aggressive and anti social behaviors in students One of the major recommendations of the research is that efforts to prevent cruelty need to begin early during the early childhood years of birth through age eight The focus of Teaching Compassion Humane Education in Early Childhood is guiding young children to accept responsibility for and to be kind in their interactions with fellow human beings animals and the environment Although humane education is a relatively new concept in the field of early childhood education professionals in the field are very familiar with many of the related concepts including promoting positive interpersonal interactions teaching children the skills of self regulation giving children experience in caring for living things and protecting the environment This edited volume is an interdisciplinary compendium of professional wisdom gathered from experts in the fields of education child development science psychology sociology and humane organizations As the book amply documents the concept of humane education is powerful integrative timely and appropriate in work with young children Teaching Compassion Humane Education in Early Childhood shows how it is possible for adults dedicated to the care and education of young children to balance attention to the cognitive and affective realms and in so doing to elevate the overall quality of early childhood programs for children families and communities      Guided by Meaning in Primary Literacy Joyce Armstrong Carroll,Kelley Barger,Karla James,Kristy Hill,2016-12-12 Using a research based approach this book examines the critical connections between writing and reading and it explains how to encourage early literacy in the classroom and library How can teachers and librarians support true literacy in young learners Are very young children guided by meaning in constructing their reality and their relationship to the world What is the value of championing writing at the kindergarten level Guided by Meaning in Primary Literacy Libraries Reading Writing and Learning answers these questions and many more providing best practices in early literacy through explicit lessons in writing and reading and demonstrating how the library can extend learning in deep and powerful ways While some books emphasize reading others emphasize writing and still others focus on library instruction this profound resource brings all of the components of literacy together in a meaningful way Throughout the book the authors highlight examples of student writing anecdotes from the real world and connections between theory and what happens in practical application Unique in its thoroughness of content for this age group this text is essential reading for all early childhood teachers and librarians working in schools and in public libraries with young children The book also serves trainers working with teachers and librarians to increase their effectiveness in working with young children to promote early literacy

In the Eye of the Animal Patricia Cox

Miller, 2018-06-15 Early Christian theology posited a strict division between animals and humans Nevertheless animal figures abound in early Christian literature and art from Augustine's renowned wonder at the agility of the mosquito on the wing to vivid exegeses of the six days of creation detailed in Genesis and when they appear the distinctions between human and animal are often dissolved How asks Patricia Cox Miller does one account for the stunning zoological imagination found in a wide variety of genres of ancient Christian texts In the Eye of the Animal complicates the role of animals in early Christian thought by showing how textual and artistic images and interpretive procedures actually celebrated a continuum of human and animal life Synthesizing early Christian studies contemporary philosophy animal studies ethology and modern poetry Miller identifies two contradictory strands in early Christian thinking about animals The dominant thread viewed the body and soul of the human being as dominical or the crowning achievement of creation animals with their defective souls related to humans only as reminders of the brutish physical form However the second strand relied upon the idea of a continuum of animal life which enabled comparisons between animals and humans This second tendency explains Miller arises particularly in early Christian literature in which ascetic identity the body and ethics intersect She explores the tension between these modes by tracing the image of the animal in early Christian literature from the ethical animal behavior on display in Basil of Caesarea's Hexaemeron and the anonymous Physiologus to the role of animals in articulating erotic desire and from the idyllic intimacy of monks and animals in literature of desert ascetism to early Christian art that envisions paradise through human animal symbiosis

Cat, Dog and the Tooth Fairy Rozanne L. Williams,2008-08      Animal Visions Susan Mary Pyke,2019-03-15 Animal Visions considers how literature responds to the harms of anthropocentrism working with Emily Brontë's Wuthering Heights 1847 and various adaptations of this canonical novel to show how posthumanist dream writing unsettles the privileging of the human species over other species Two feminist and post Freudian responses Kathy Acker's poem Obsession 1992 and Anne Carson's The Glass Essay 1997 most strongly extend Brontë's dream writing in this direction Building on the trope of a ludic Cathy ghost who refuses the containment of logic and reason these and other adaptations offer the gift of a radical perihysteria This emotional excess is most clearly seen in Kate Bush's music video Wuthering Heights 1978 and Peter Kosminsky's film Wuthering Heights 1992 Such disturbances make space for a moor love that is particularly evident in Jane Urquhart's novel Changing Heaven 1989 and to a lesser extent Sylvia Plath's poem Wuthering Heights 1961 Brontë's Wuthering Heights and its most productive afterings make space for co-affective relations between humans and other animal beings Andrea Arnold's film Wuthering Heights 2011 and Luis Buñuel's Abismos de Pasi n 1954 also highlight the rupturing split gaze of non-acting animals in their films In all of these works depictions of intra-active and entangled responses between animals show the potential for dynamic and generative multispecies relations where the human is one animal amongst the kin of the world

Animals ,1911      Animal Comics ,2017-12-14 Animal characters abound in graphic narratives ranging from Krazy Kat and Maus to WE3 and Terra Formars Exploring these and other multispecies storyworlds presented in words and images Animal Comics draws together work in comics studies narrative theory and cross-disciplinary research on animal environments and human-animal relationships to shed new light on comics and graphic novels in which animal agents play a significant role At the same time the volume's international team of contributors show how the distinctive structures and affordances of graphic narratives foreground key questions about trans-species entanglements in a more-than-human world The writers-artists covered in the book include Nick Abadzis Adolpho Avril Jeffrey Brown Sue Coe Matt Dembicki Olivier Deprez J J Grandville George Herriman Adam Hines William Hogarth Grant Morrison Osamu Tezuka Frank Quitely Yu Sasuga Charles M Schultz Art Spiegelman Fiona Staples Kenichi Tachibana Brian K Vaughan and others      25 Fun-Filled
