Goldblatt,2012-04-12 In this engrossing memoir poet and literacy scholar Eli Goldblatt shares the intimate ways reading and writing influenced the first thirty years of his life in the classroom but mostly outside it Writing Home A Literacy Autobiography traces Goldblatt s search for home and his growing recognition that only through his writing life can he fully contextualize the world he inhabits Goldblatt connects his educational journey as a poet and a teacher to his conception of literacy and assesses his intellectual emotional and political development through undergraduate and postgraduate experiences alongside the social imperatives of the era He explores his decision to leave medical school after he realized that he could not compartmentalize work and creative life or follow in his surgeon father s footsteps A brief first marriage rearranged his understanding of gender and sexuality and a job teaching in an innercity school initiated him into racial politics Literacy became a dramatic social reality when he witnessed the start of the national literacy campaign in postrevolutionary Nicaragua and spent two months finding his bearings while writing poetry in Mexico City Goldblatt presents a thoughtful and exquisitely crafted narrative of his life to illustrate that literacy exists at the intersection of individual and social life and is practiced in relationship to others While the concept of literacy autobiography is a common assignment in undergraduate and graduate writing courses few books model the exercise Writing Home helps fill that void and with Goldblatt s emphasis on out of school literacy fosters an understanding of literacy as a social practice So the

Kids Are Revolting...? Albert Vorspan,1970 Have a Little Faith Mitch Albom,2011-06-14 What if our beliefs were not what divided us but what pulled us together In Have a Little Faith Mitch Albom offers a beautifully written story of a remarkable eight year journey between two worlds two men two faiths two communities that will inspire readers everywhere Albom s first nonfiction book since Tuesdays with Morrie Have a Little Faith begins with an unusual request an eighty two year old rabbi from Albom s old hometown asks him to deliver his eulogy Feeling unworthy Albom insists on understanding the man better which throws him back into a world of faith he d left years ago Meanwhile closer to his current home Albom becomes involved with a Detroit pastor a reformed drug dealer and convict who preaches to the poor and homeless in a decaying church with a hole in its roof Moving between their worlds Christian and Jewish African American and white impoverished and well to do Albom observes how these very different men employ faith similarly in fighting for survival the older suburban rabbi embracing it as death approaches the younger inner city pastor relying on it to keep himself and his church afloat As America struggles with hard times and people turn more to their beliefs Albom and the two men of God explore issues that perplex modern man how to endure when difficult things happen what heaven is intermarriage forgiveness doubting God and the importance of faith in trying times Although the texts prayers and histories are different

Albom begins to recognize a striking unity between the two worlds and indeed between beliefs everywhere In the end as the rabbi nears death and a harsh winter threatens the pastor s wobbly church Albom sadly fulfills the rabbi s last request and writes the eulogy And he finally understands what both men had been teaching all along the profound comfort of believing in something bigger than yourself Have a Little Faith is a book about a life s purpose about losing belief and finding it again about the divine spark inside us all It is one man s journey but it is everyone s story Ten percent of the profits from this book will go to charity including The Hole In The Roof Foundation which helps refurbish places of worship that aid the homeless
