Unsettling Narratives Clare Bradford, 2007 Children's books seek to assist children to understand themselves and their world Unsettling Narratives: Postcolonial Readings of Children's Literature demonstrates how settler society texts position child readers as citizens of postcolonial nations how they represent the colonial past to modern readers what they propose about race relations and how they conceptualize systems of power and government Clare Bradford focuses on texts produced since 1980 in Canada the United States Australia and New Zealand and includes picture books novels and films by Indigenous and non Indigenous publishers and producers From extensive readings the author focuses on key works to produce a thorough analysis rather than a survey Unsettling Narratives opens up an area of scholarship and discussion the use of postcolonial theories relatively new to the field of children's literature and demonstrates that many texts recycle the colonial discourses naturalized within mainstream cultures

My Girragundji 20th Anniversary Edition Meme McDonald, Boori Monty Pryor, 2018-05-23 The 20th anniversary edition of the award winning much loved story that tells how a little tree frog helps a boy find the courage to face his fears

Reading Race Clare Bradford, 2013-05-09 How do children's books relate to the cultures that produce them and how do they influence those cultures In Reading Race Clare Bradford looks at representations of Australia's indigenous peoples in texts for children She shows how these varying representations have helped to colour the attitudes beliefs and assumptions of different generations of Australians To what extent have children's books enabled readers to understand Aboriginal culture relations between Aboriginal and non Aboriginal people and relationships between Aboriginality and national identity Bradford draws on examples from popular and literary children's books of all genres fiction non fiction picture books and school texts She reveals that many children's books display the tensions and uncertainties inherent in relations between Aboriginal and non Aboriginal people Bradford also uncovers the different ideologies of race that have informed Australian children's texts from the nineteenth century to currently popular writers demonstrating cultural shifts in the representation of Aboriginality over time The result is a ground breaking and intelligent picture of how Australian children's books by both white and Aboriginal writers have negotiated the matter of race. Reading Race will enhance the ways in which we come to read and understand the complex and delicate issues around Aboriginal-white relations. It will be an invaluable resource in the fields of post-colonial studies, Indigenous and Aboriginal studies, literary and cultural studies, and children's literature. My Girragundji Meme McDonald, Boori Monty Pryor, 1998-10-01. The story of an Aboriginal boy whose house is invaded by a Hairyman, a spirit the old people call a Quinkin. When a little green tree frog lands on his windowsill, he knows she has been sent by the ancestors to help him face his fears. BOORI MONTY PRYOR AUSTRALIA'S CHILDREN'S LAUREATE 2012-13. I wake with a start. The doorknob turns. It's him. The Hairyman. There's a bad spirit in our house. He's as ugly as ugly gets and he stinks. You touch this kind of Hairyman and you lose your voice or choke to death. It's hard to sleep when a hairy wrinkly old hand might grab you in the night. And in the day you've got to watch yourself. It can be rough. Words come yelling at you that hurt. Alive with humour. My Girragundji is the vivid story of a boy growing up between two worlds. With the little green tree frog as a friend, the bullies at school don't seem so big anymore. And Girragundji gives him the courage to face his fears. Literacy for the 21st Century Gail Tompkins, Rod Campbell, David Green, Carol Smith, 2014-08-01. Literacy for the 21st Century 2e gives students the strategies and ability to teach literacy effectively in Australian classrooms. Linking the theory and research to classroom practice and with a greater emphasis on the use of digital literacies, students will gain a practical understanding of teaching reading and writing.

Raising Readers Megan Daley, 2019-04-02. Some kids refuse to read; others won't stop, not even at the dinner table. Either way, many parents question the best way to support their child's literacy journey. When can you start reading to your child? How do you find that special book to inspire a reluctant reader? What can you do to keep your tween reading into their adolescent years? Award-winning teacher librarian Megan Daley, the passionate voice behind the Children's Books Daily blog, has the answers to all these questions and more. She unpacks her twenty years of experience into this personable and accessible guide, enhanced with up-to-date research and firsthand accounts from well-known Australian children's authors. It also contains practical tips such as suggested reading lists and instructions on how to run book-themed activities. Raising Readers is a must-have resource for parents and educators to help the children in their lives fall in love with books.

Literary Conceptualizations of Growth Roberta Trites, 2014-07-15. Literary Conceptualizations of Growth explores those processes through which maturation is represented in adolescent literature by examining how concepts of growth manifest themselves in adolescent literature and by interrogating how the concept of growth structures scholars' ability to think about adolescence. Cognitive literary theory provides the theoretical framework, as do the related fields of cognitive linguistics and experiential philosophy. Historical constructions of the concept of growth are also examined within the context of the history of ideas. Cross-cultural literature from the traditional Bildungsroman to the contemporary Young Adult novel serve as examples. Literary Conceptualizations of Growth ultimately asserts that human cognitive structures are responsible for the
