ROBINSON CRUSOE

Robinson Crusoe is surely the most famous castaway in history. Washed ashore on his uninhabited island on 30 September, 1659, he survived until he was rescued on 4 May, 1684, by a three-master flying English colours whose captain spoke with a Liverpool accent.

How did he do it? He certainly did not expect to survive. The first words in his Journal, reproduced here, are despairing. "I am shipwrecked, cast up on a land doubtless swarming with fierce beasts and cannibals. Alas! Alas! What will become of me?"

Twenty-five years later he was to write, with great affection, "Good-bye, my island, good-bye!"

The journal entries and sketches which make up this book tell, in detail, how Robinson overcame his despair and fear of solitude, and set about the business of making his island a kingdom. Everything he did he described in his journal, and he drew diagrams and sketches showing in clear detail just how ingenious he became when turning his hand to weaving, carpentry, pottery, fishing, hunting, farming and so on. He even made himself musical instruments and painstakingly constructed a ship in a bottle.

This is Robinson Crusoe's own record of how he turned his nightmare island into a paradise of peace and comfort. Could you manage as well as Robinson? You might, if you were lucky enough to have this book with you when you were washed ashore.
