professional lifetime to collecting the memories of accomplished Texans to determine what if anything about growing up in the Lone Star State prepared them for success The resulting forty seven oral history interviews begin with tales from the early 1900s when Texas was an agrarian state and continue through the growth of major cities and the country's race to the moon Interviewees recalled life in former slave colonies on gigantic ranches tiny farms and sharecropper fields and in one horse towns and big city neighborhoods with relatable stories as diverse as the state's geography The oldest interviewees witnessed women earning the right to vote and weathered the Great Depression Many remembered two world wars while others recalled the Texas City explosion of 1947 and the tornado that devastated Waco in 1953 They witnessed the advent of television and the nightly news which helped many come to terms with the assassination of a president that took place too close to home Their absorbing reflections are stories of good and bad hope and despair poverty and wealth depression and inspiration which would have been different if lived anywhere but Texas The Puppeteer's Apprentice D. Anne

Love,2012-05-29 Mouse works in the scullery at Dunston Manor peeling onions stirring the pots sweeping the floors and doing her best not to get into trouble with the fractious cook Alone at night in the dark corner she calls home she wishes for something wondrous to happen and dreams of a better life But what chance does she have a girl born with nothing not even a proper name Then Mouse sees a puppet play and knows at once what she must do Somehow she must learn to make the puppets dance Somehow she must become the puppeteer's apprentice But the puppeteer is harboring some uncomfortable secrets and Mouse doesn't know whether she has the courage it takes to fulfill her dreams How Mouse finds her place in the world and a very special name is the heart of this thoroughly absorbing and remarkable story set in medieval England A
