Victoria Magazine Emily Faithfull,1867 Beyond Ethics and Pragmatism Moshe Shokeid,2024-11-01 Based on several long term fieldwork projects in Israel and the United States this book brings together a repertoire of subjective and professional experiences of an anthropologist who attended various theoretical and methodological tutoring settings That varied panorama of research milieus ethnographic field sites and diverse personal engagements has offered a wide perspective on the complex craft of anthropology Moreover it sometimes placed the author in unexpected situations that challenged some habitually accepted modes of personal conduct as well as ethnographic research norms and paradigms expanding the arena and terms of the anthropological assignments and the record of ethnographic works That's Life, So It Is Charlie Lawson,2024-11-07 Coronation Street legend Charlie Lawson celebrates over 40 years on stage and screen with a uniquely entertaining eye opening and enthralling memoir What Would Beyoncé Do?! Luisa Omielan,2016-07-14 You know when you find yourself approaching thirty and your dreams are broken You've got a temping career going nowhere a student debt that's mounting and you've just had to move back into your mum's house Then to top it all off you get absolutely annihilated with heartbreak because of an ex who is just not ready but then manages to be ready a week later with someone else And it is here at your lowest point that one of your best friends decides to remind you that you are the same age as Beyoncé FML Luisa Omielan is a stand up comedian who turned her life around after she answered the mantra every person needs in their life What Would Beyoncé Do Hilariously funny wonderfully uplifting and brutally honest Luisa's memoir shows us all that there is no situation in which Bey can't save the day Mapping Information Landscapes Andrew Whitworth,2020-06-26 Mapping Information Landscapes presents the first in depth study of the educational implications of the idea of information literacy as the capacity to map and navigate an information landscape Written by a leading researcher in the field it investigates how teachers and learners can use mapping in developing their ability to make informed judgements about information in specific places and times Central to the argument is the notion that the geographical and information landscapes are indivisible and the techniques we use to navigate each are essentially the same The book presents a history of mapping as a means of representing the world ranging from the work of medieval mapmakers to the 21st century Concept and mind mapping are explored and finally the notion of discursive mapping the dialogic process regardless of whether a graphical map is an outcome The theoretical framework of the book weaves together the work of authors including Annemaree Lloyd Christine Bruce practice theorists such as Theodore Schatzki and the critical geography of David Harvey an author whose work has not previously been applied to the study of information literacy The book concludes that keeping information landscapes sustainable and navigable requires attention to how equipment is used to map and organise those landscapes How we collectively think about and solve problems in the present time inscribes maps and positions them as resources in whatever landscapes we will draw on in the future Information literacy educators whether in libraries other HE courses high schools or the workplace will benefit by learning about how mapping implicitly and explicitly can be used as a method of teaching IL The book will also be useful reading for academics and researchers of information literacy and students of library and information science Memoirs of seventy years of an eventful life Charles Hulbert,1852
